General Comments

- Scope of Work

The Indiana Department of Health (IDOH) Chronic Disease program is seeking a 2-year agreement for a vendor to provide software licenses for two online applications. One should be for the National Diabetes Prevention Program and another for the Diabetes Self-Management Education & Support. The vendor would share these software licenses with the State of Indiana, who will in turn be sharing the licenses with Indiana-based organizations to deliver these programs. The state will not deliver the DPP nor the DSMES program. These applications should be ready for use by the contract initiation date.

These software applications should include:

- Branded iOS iPhone IDOH custom app for the National Diabetes Prevention Program (DPP) and one custom app for a recognized/accredited diabetes self-management education and support (DSMES) program

- oAbility for photo journaling of meals, including ability to adjust time, add description and portion consumed

- oAbility to manually upload physical activity

- oAbility to manually upload weight

- oVideo lesson display uploaded automatically weekly or monthly

- oLesson PDF viewer

- oCommunity support feature with ability to post and comment on posts of others

- oPrivate messaging feature with coach and ability to view customized videos and PDFs

- Branded Android Indiana Department of Health custom app for National Diabetes Prevention Program and one custom app for a diabetes self-management education and support program

- oSame capabilities as iOS application

- Branded Indiana Department of Public Health user website interface

- oAbility for photo journaling of meals, including ability to adjust time, add description and portion consumed

- oAbility to manually upload physical activity

- oAbility to manually upload weight

- oVideo lesson display uploaded automatically weekly or monthly

- oLesson PDF viewer

- oCommunity support feature with ability to post and comment on posts of others

- oPrivate messaging feature with coach and ability to view customized videos and PDFs
