Dress Code for Tours

The visitors' dress requirements shall reflect acceptable standards and pose no threat to the security, custody, or orderly operation of the facility.

- No body piercings are authorized.
- All visitors must wear undergarments that are separate from their clothing (i.e. no "Built in" bras). The clothing must not prevent the visitor from clearing the metal detector.
- Clothing which exposes the stomach or the undergarments of the visitor, when the visitor raises their arms or when the visitor sits, is prohibited. Garments with bandana prints are also prohibited. If staff determines the attire is inappropriate, the visitor will not be allowed to visit.
- Tight fitting clothing such as spandex pants/tops or leggings may not be worn.
- At no time will a female visitor be allowed to visit if her undergarments are visible through her clothing. Female visitors shall not wear halter or low-cut revealing tops, tube tops, swimsuit tops, body suits, shear blouses, leotards, spandex or any other type of skintight fitting outfit.
- Summer dresses may be worn, but thin strap tops of all kinds are disallowed. Any female visitor wearing a blouse or top that reveals any portion of the undergarment will be denied entry into the facility. No sleeveless shirts are allowed.
- Female visitors are reminded that wearing dresses, shorts, skirts, and miniskirts with short hemlines are not permitted. Dresses shorts and skirts shall not be more than four (4) inches above the knee. Garments with revealing slits and kick pleats exposing more than four (4) inches above the knee will not be permitted. Female visitors may wear slacks and/or full-length jeans.
- All male visitors must wear shirts; limited to sports shirts, dress shirts, which shall always be appropriately buttoned. T-shirts may be worn but cutoffs or see through shirts shall be strictly prohibited. Male visitors may not wear shirts that reveal bare chests or that are sleeveless.
- Male visitors may wear slacks and blue jeans. Shorts are permissible but must not be cutoffs and not be more than four (4) inches above the knee.

- All visitors must wear shoes.
- Clothing may not be altered from the manufacturer's design, must be clean and in good repair with no holes. This includes clothing that has fabric behind the holes.
- Any clothing which advertises drugs, alcohol, derogatory slogans, or security threat group "gang" symbolism, will not be allowed inside the facility. Pullover hooded sweatshirts with kangaroo pockets (i.e. hand warmer pockets) will also not be allowed.
- Outerwear (coats, jackets, sweaters, raincoats, etc.) appropriate for current weather conditions may be worn.
- Bandanas shall not be worn into the facility. Head attire items must be searched before being allowed in. The Shift Supervisor may grant exceptions for religious purposes.
- Visitors wearing clothing, which closely resembles offender uniforms, may not be allowed to visit until they change their clothing, thus avoiding Khaki clothing and / or blue on blue.
