May 24, 2007

On June 13, 2005, the Indiana Parole Board interviewed Michael Lambert at the Indiana State Prison and on June 17, 2005, a public hearing was held in Indianapolis where the Parole Board heard testimony from persons favoring clemency and opposed to clemency for Mr. Lambert. Before the Parole Board could vote on its recommendation to Governor Daniels, the then scheduled execution was stayed by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

A new execution date has now been set for June 15, 2007. The Parole Board has accumulated extensive written materials related to this case and has videotapes of the interview with Mr. Lambert and of the public hearing held in Indianapolis. The Board does not desire to burden those who have already testified and does not need to collect more information that is repetitive. However, if new information exists or your opinion has changed since 2005, please submit your comments in writing to the Parole Board by Wednesday, June 6, 2007, either by mail or FAX. Also, please feel free to refer this letter to anyone else who might have new information that has not already been provided.

Once the Parole Board has completed their review of the existing information and any new written material that is received, the Board will meet in a public session at 2:30 p.m. on Friday, June 8, 2007, in the Auditorium of Indiana Government Center South in Indianapolis to vote on its recommendation. Following the vote, the recommendation along with the videotapes of the hearings, written statements, and any other information that has been received will be forwarded to Governor Mitchell E. Daniels, Jr., who will make the final decision.

Sincerely,
