Director Handsborough informed the advisory board members that the IDOI team has followed best practice and the data request process will follow the same established procedure. Internal and external data request plans have been finalized, along with an informational document for the data request. The goal is to have the process in place within the first year.

Director Handsborough further added that the IDOI team has started marketing and outreach of the APCD.

Susan Brock Williams inquired about the limited number of providers shown in the dashboard and asked if this would increase as more data is gathered.

Dominic Gayton from Onpoint explained that they follow the CMS cell suppression rule, which means providers with less than ten counts of services are not included in the dashboard. He also mentioned that the data displayed is for 2022, and they plan to update it with 2023 data by the end of the year.

Senator Shelli Yoder requested a walkthrough of the process for an Indiana resident using the APCD when seeking healthcare services, to which Dominic Gayton provided a detailed explanation, including the selection of health plans and the importance of the median allowed amount in the dashboard.

Senator Venata Becker highlighted the feature of the dashboard that shows a comparison and quality comparison based on in-network and out-of-network providers.

The meeting also addressed technical issues. House Representative Robin Shackleford pointed out display differences between the iPad and cellphone views of the dashboard. Dominic Gayton acknowledged this and mentioned that refinements would be made to the iPad and mobile views.

Gloria Sachdev sought clarification on whether the prices shown on the dashboard included out-of-network prices, to which Dominic Gayton confirmed that out-of-network prices are indeed included.

There was a discussion about the limitations and challenges in displaying in-network prices for specific providers, focusing on the complexity of data at the provider and group levels. Dominic Gayton mentioned the potential for exploring this in the future.

Bob Davis proposed including disclaimers to address the lack of data and suppression. Jonathan Handsborough confirmed that methodology and disclaimers are shared on the website in multiple areas.

Senator Donna Schaibley expressed satisfaction with the start of the dashboard but suggested including cash prices on the site. Dominic Gayton continued with the demonstration, presenting the Snapshot feature and mentioning that it is the first time they've built dashboards for mobile view, customized for Indiana.

The meeting concluded with Director Handsborough announcing that the next meeting would be scheduled for October or early November. The meeting was adjourned at 11:30 AM.
