Once the income has been split, if the spouse at home gets less than $1,991 (Effective 7/2015) each month when adding the personal income plus his/her share of the joint income) he/she may keep part of the nursing home spouse's income in order to bring his/her total up to at least $1,991. (Effective 7/2015) If the spouse at home has living expenses that are very high, he/she may appeal to keep more of the nursing home spouse's income, bringing him/her up to a maximum of $2,980 (Effective 1/2016) per month. Appeals are handled at the Division of Family Resources.

If the spouse's personal income plus his/her share of the joint income is more than $2,980 (Effective 1/2016) per month, he/she does not get to keep any of the nursing home spouse's income.

WHAT HAPPENS TO INCOME?

<tr>
<td>* Income in your name remains your own. (Social Security, Pension, etc.).</td>
<td>Income from assets owned by both spouses is counted by Medicaid as jointly-owned income. Jointly-owned income is divided in half, with each spouse getting a half.</td>

<tr>
<td>• The spouse at home may keep all of his/her personal income.</td>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The spouse in the nursing home must use his/her income to pay for nursing home care, but may keep a personal needs allowance of $52 per month.

LET'S LOOK AT JAKE & EMILY:

They own $100,000 in countable assets and their total monthly income is $1,600. Jake is being admitted to a long term care facility.

Emily may keep all of her income (checks made out in her name, plus her half of the income that is jointly owned). If Emily's income is lower than $1,991 a month, then she can keep part of Jake's income.

Checks made out in Jake's name, plus his half of the jointly owned income is considered his income and should be used to pay for his care. Medicaid would then pay any remaining costs.

WHAT HAPPENS TO ASSETS?

Most assets are considered by Medicaid as joint assets between a husband and wife; it doesn't matter in whose name they are placed.

What about the couple's home?

The home is not counted as an asset when the applicant, spouse, or dependent children live in the home. Special rules apply when siblings or adult children live in the home (The home is always counted if no one intends to live there).

What assets are "countable"?

Some examples of assets that are countable are: checking accounts, savings accounts, CD's, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, revocable trusts, cash value of life insurance policies, and IRAs.

Example: (from Jake and Emily)

Half of the joint countable assets amount to $50,000. Since $50,000 is less than the maximum allowed amount under this law (maximum is $119,220), then Emily is able to keep all of her portion of the assets.

Emily and Jake would need to spend Jake’s $50,000 down to $2,000 before Medicaid would begin to help pay for his nursing home costs.

CAUTION! Transferring of assets:

Persons who transfer assets to get Medicaid help, may wait longer before Medicaid will help pay for nursing home costs. Other penalties may also be applied.

Protection under the Spousal Impoverishment law applies to nursing home care, and under the Medicaid Aged and Disabled Waiver, for in-home and community-type care services.
Have you ever wondered...

~ What would happen if your spouse was not able to live at home due to poor health or confusion?

~ Would you have to spend all of your resources to pay for your spouse's nursing home care?

NO!

Spouses of nursing home residents have protection from losing all income and assets. In order to pay for the nursing home spouse's care.

How do you find out more?

1. Review this brochure for a brief explanation of the Spousal Impoverishment Protection Law.

2. Call SHIP or the Division of Family Resources (1-800-403-0864) to ask questions.

3. Contact the Division of Family Resources, when your spouse enters a nursing home, to complete a resource assessment form (also called a "snapshot"). The assessment will help you find the total value of combined finances and will help decide the amount of assets the spouse at home may keep. You must show proof of all assets owned.

4. Contact the Senior Law Project office nearest you or an elder law attorney.
