MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION

Donald Raymond Vowels of Evansville, Indiana, is the Chair of the Commission. He is presently engaged in the private practice of law with the law firm of Keating, Bumb, Vowels, LaPlante & Kent, P.C. and is a member of the Vanderburg County Election Board. Mr. Vowels is an original Commission member, appointed in September 1993.

David Carlton of Borden, Indiana, retired from Robinson Nugent, a manufacturer of technological equipment, as Vice President for Human Resources in 1984. Mr. Carlton has been involved in many charitable and civic organizations and now serves on the National Board of Directors for the IU Varsity Club. Mr. Carlton was appointed in December 1999, replacing Robert Sundwick.

Ann Marie Bochnowski of Munster, Indiana, is the Vice-Chair of the Commission. She is a former business writer for The Times in Hammond and is now a freelance writer, specializing in newsletters. Ms. Bochnowski is an original Commission member, appointed in September 1993.

Richard J. Darko of Indianapolis, Indiana, is a partner with the law firm of Lowe, Gray, Steele & Darko. He is a member of the Indianapolis, Indiana State, and American Bar Associations, and the Bar Association of the Seventh Federal Circuit. Mr. Darko previously served on the Indiana Horse Racing Commission and was appointed to the Commission in September 1997, replacing Alan Klineman.

Thomas F. Milcarek Secretary of the Commission, is a life long resident of LaPorte County. He is a manager at Weil-McClain Co., where he has worked since 1970. He is on the Michigan City Park Board, is a member of the Michigan City Urban Enterprise Association and has been active in many civic organizations. Mr. Milcarek was appointed to the Commission in June of 1994, replacing Judge Robert W. Gilmore, Jr.

Dr. David E. Ross, Jr. of Chesterton, Indiana, lived in Gary from 1960 to 1991. He practices medicine in Gary and is affiliated with Methodist Hospital in Gary and Merrillville. Dr. Ross is an original Commission member, appointed in September 1993.

Robert W. Swan of Evansville, Indiana, is a Certified Public Accountant and a Certified Valuation Analyst. He is one of five Senior Members of Kemper CPA Group, LLC. Mr. Swan is the managing member of the firm's Evansville, Indiana office. Mr. Swan was appointed to the Commission in July 1995, replacing Gilmer "Gene" Hensley.

Former Commission members include: Alan I. Klineman, (Chair) 1993-1997; Judge Robert Gilmore, Jr. 1993-1994; Gilmer "Gene" Hensley 1993-1994; Robert Sundwick 1993-1999.

The Indiana Gaming Commission is composed of seven individuals appointed by the Governor for a three-year staggered term. Three members must be from counties contiguous to Lake Michigan, three from counties contiguous to the Ohio River, and one member cannot be from any of the previously described counties. No more than four members may be affiliated with the same political party. One member must be experienced in law enforcement, one must be a certified public accountant, and one must be an attorney. All must have a reasonable knowledge of the practices, procedures and principles of gambling.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

The RIVERBOAT GAMBLING ACT (ACT), enacted by Public Law 277-1993 and codified at Indiana Code 4-33, et. seq., became effective on July 1, 1993, legalizing casino gaming on riverboats. In general, the ACT established the Indiana Gaming Commission (IGC) and vested it with the authority to issue not more than 11 riverboat licenses in specified areas of the State of Indiana and to regulate the operation of the riverboats along with related businesses, occupations and schools.

The ACT authorized the Governor to appoint the bipartisan seven-member commission and directed that the initial commission be appointed by September 1, 1993. The first meeting of the IGC was held September 7, 1993. The ACT requires the IGC to hold at least one meeting each quarter of the fiscal year, a requirement that the IGC has always exceeded.

This eighth annual report sets forth the actions of the IGC for the calendar year 2000. The IGC was very active regulating the nine operational riverboats during 2000. In addition, the IGC opened the fifth and final riverboat on the Ohio River. An overview of the IGC's year shows the following:

Riverboat Owner's License Activity

- The fifth and final Riverboat Owner's License authorized for the Ohio River, Belterra Resort (Indiana), LLC opened in October of 2000 rather than August of 2000 as originally scheduled. The delay was due to a collision between the riverboat and a barge during the transportation of the riverboat from the shipyard to Switzerland County.

- The IGC approved one change in the ownership of a riverboat owner's license; Park Place Entertainment's acquisition of Caesars in Harrison County.
- Two riverboat licensees received approval to reorganize the ownership of the licensee. These were RDI/Caesars and RSR, LLC, the minority partnership interest in Grand Victoria Casino & Resort, L.P.

Information Technology Division

- An automated wagering and admissions tax filing system was tested and successfully implemented for the 10 riverboats resulting in the computerized filing of the required tax returns with the IGC Audit Division.
- An electronic gaming device (EGD) system which will confirm the approval, shipment, and tracking of EGDs is being created by the Information Technology Division for testing and implementation in 2001. This system will be monitored by the EGD Analyst and the EGD Coordinator.

Revenues and Admissions

- Total admissions for 2000 were 38,581,664 representing an increase of approximately 580,000, a significantly smaller increase than the nearly 4 million from 1998 to 1999.
- The 2000 total win for the riverboats was $1,687,870,283. This is an increase of $130.7 million over 1999.
- The total admissions tax paid in 2000 was $115,744,992 and the total wagering tax paid was $337,720,947. These amounts represent an approximate $1.6 million and $26.2 million increase over 1999, respectively. Again, a significantly smaller increase than the $12 million and $45.3 million from 1998 to 1999, respectively.
- Total admission and wagering taxes paid from the inception of riverboat gaming through 2000 are $1,621,935,105.

Relicensing

- The first riverboat owner's license to be renewed, Aztar in Evansville, occurred in December of 2000 representing the expiration of Aztar's initial five-year licensing period.
- Five riverboat owner's licensees will be up for renewal by the IGC in 2001: Empress Casino in Hammond, Majestic Star and Trump Casino in Gary, Grand Victoria in Rising Sun, and Argosy Casino in Lawrenceburg.

Wagering Limits

- Based upon the reports of the National Gambling Impact Study Commission and the Indiana Gambling Study Commission, as well as the observance of the riverboat gambling industry in the State of Indiana, the IGC does not have any evidence that would require changing the wagering loss limits from existing law and practice of the industry in Indiana. Existing law and practice do not set a wagering loss limit in Indiana.

Legislation

At the time IGC published the 1999 Annual Report, several pieces of legislation pertaining to riverboat gaming were pending in the Second Regular Session of the 111th Indiana General Assembly. No bills pertaining to gaming became eligible for enactment into law as a result of that legislative session.

The First Regular Session of the 112th Indiana General Assembly was underway at the time of this report. Several bills related to riverboat gaming had been introduced for consideration and any new laws created by this legislation will be reported in the 2001 Annual Report.

IGC STAFF

New IGC Staff Members

Billy L. Hamilton is the IGC's new Deputy Director. Billy came to work for the IGC on March 13, 2000. Other new employees, in alphabetical order, include: Susan C. Brodnan, Hulan H. Campbell, John F. Dickson, Stephen L. Heller, Lawrence M. Lamport, Philip L. Parkinson, Carol J. Raftery, and Frank R. Urban.

New Positions

The IGC created two new positions this year; both of them in the Audit Division. The first position is that of EGD Analyst. The EGD Analyst is responsible for the EGD compliance program and ensures that the Indiana riverboats monitor current inventories of EGDs and appropriately collect, count, and report revenue from the EGDs. The EGD Analyst approves or disapproves each EGD movement. The second position, Program Coordinator reports directly to the EGD Analyst. This position is responsible for evaluating each EGD request to ensure that the proper documentation has been filed before such a movement.

The Legal Assistant position has been reclassified to an Attorney position.

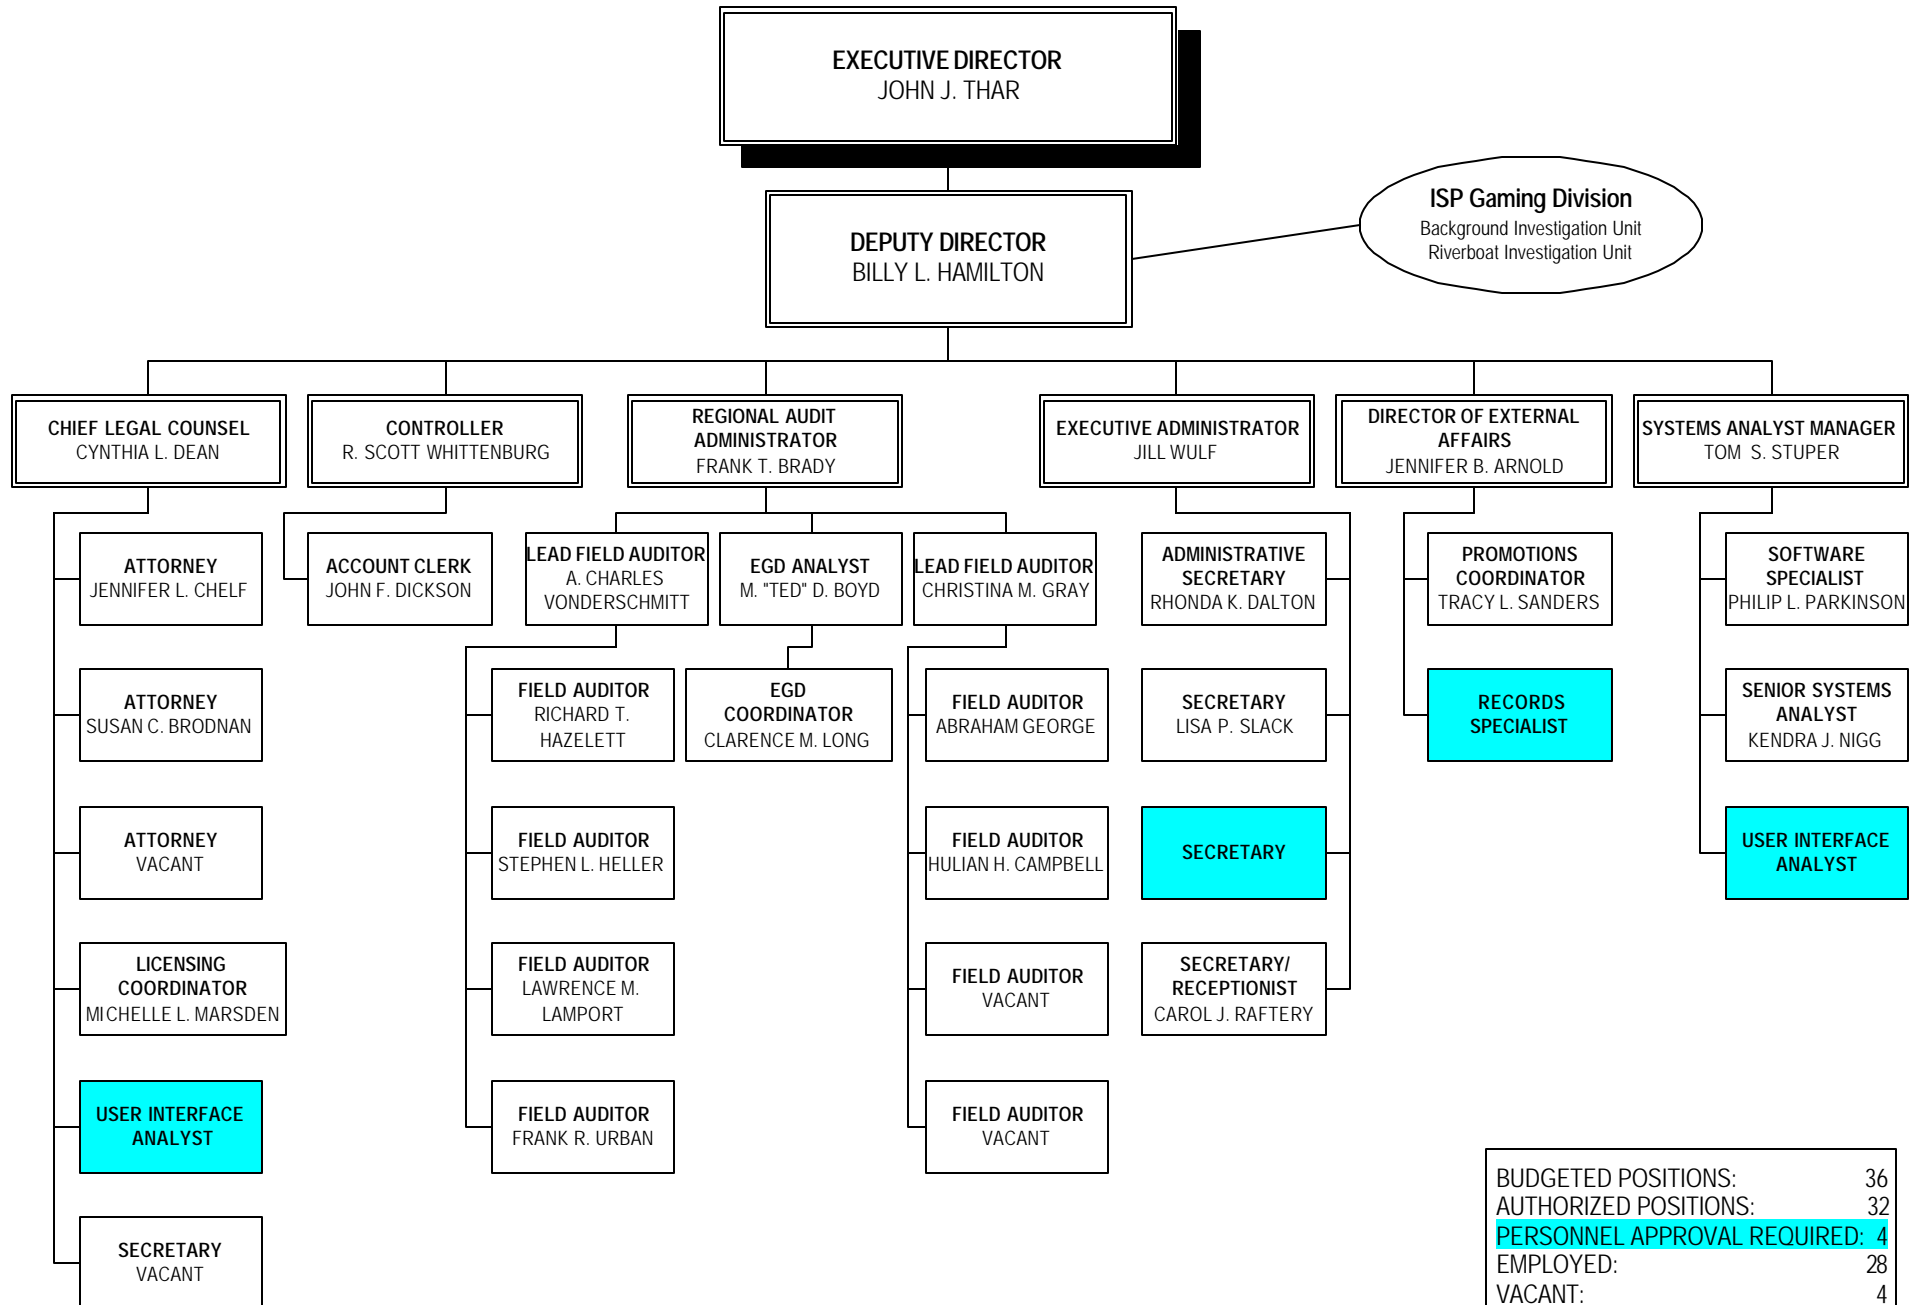

Promotions

M. "Ted" D. Boyd was promoted from Field Auditor to EGD Analyst. Clarence M. Long was promoted from Secretary to EGD Coordinator. Tom Stuper was promoted from Software Specialist to Systems Analyst Manager.

INDIANA GAMING COMMISSION

REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES

Revenues

The IGC receives revenues related to the application, licensing and disciplinary fines for riverboat owners, suppliers and occupational licensees. These revenues totaled $2,122,164. The following table provides a breakdown of those revenues for the period January 1, 2000 through December 31, 2000¹:

Application Fees

Transfer of Ownership	50,000
Supplier's Licenses	15,000
Occupational Licenses	1,553,185
TOTAL	$1,618,185

Transfer fees were collected in connection with the proposed sale of Pinnacle Entertainment, Inc to PH Casino Resorts, Inc. The fee to apply for a new license, transfer ownership or reorganization is $50,000. The fee for suppliers to apply for an Indiana License is $5,000. There were three new suppliers applicants during the year. The occupational licenses amount represents fees collected for the licensees for applications for employee licenses for Levels 1, 2 or 3 and reissued badges. The fees for these are $1,000, $200, $75 and $10 respectively.

¹ This section of the report does not address admission and wagering tax revenues. These figures are disclosed in that section of the report.

Permanent & Renewal Fees

Supplier's License	125,000
Occupational License	161,850
Riverboat Owner's License	30,000
TOTAL	$316,850

Supplier's License fees represent fees for a permanent and renewal license, good for a period of one year, by 25 suppliers at a cost of $5,000 each. The occupational license amount represents payments by the riverboat licensees for permanent Level 1, 2 and 3 licenses for their employees. The fees for these are $100, $50 and $25 respectively. The riverboat owner's license amount represents a $25,000 payment by Belterra for the initial five-year license. The Riverboat Owner's License amount also includes $5,000 from Aztar for a one-year license renewal.

Disciplinary Fines

Riverboats	$102,000
------------	-----------

The above amount represents two fines levied against two different licensees.

Investigative Fees

Suppliers Licensees	$85,129
---------------------	----------

The above amount represents the cost of investigative expenses for 12 licensees.

Expenditures

For the period January 1, 2000 through December 31, 2000, $3,502,712 was expended to regulate and investigate the casino gaming industry in Indiana. These expenditures were for the IGC and the Background Investigative Unit. Funding of these expenditures is appropriated from wagering taxes collected.

IGC Administrative Account	$1,896,455
Background Investigative Unit	$1,606,257

Statutorily Reimbursed Expenditures

As required by IC 4-33-4-3, IC 4-33-4-3.5 and IC 4-33-4-3.6; the licensed owners shall, pursuant to the rules of the IGC, reimburse IGC for the salaries and other expenses of the inspectors and agents required to be present during the time gambling operations are conducted on a riverboat.

Riverboat Investigative Unit	$4,928,461

RESOLUTIONS

The Riverboat Gambling Act requires the IGC to hold at least one meeting each quarter of the fiscal year. In 2000, the IGC held meetings on the following dates:

January 27, 2000
March 30, 2000
May 12, 2000
June 14, 2000
August 21, 2000
September 18, 2000
October 23, 2000
December 7, 2000

During these meetings, the IGC passed 44 resolutions, which are categorized as follows:

Issues Concerning Supplier's Licenses	15
Adoption of Rules and Amendments	7
Issues Concerning Bonds and Financing	6
Issues Concerning Development Agreements	3
Conditional Approval of a Game	2
Extension of Certificates of Suitability	2
Owner's License Renewal	1

Issues Concerning Consulting Agreements	1
Issues Concerning Memorandum of Agreement	1
Restructuring of Ownership Interests	1
Acquisition of Ownership Interests	1
Transfer of Ownership Interests	1
Issues Concerning Occupational Licenses	1
Approval of Settlement Agreement	1

RIVERBOAT CASINO LICENSING

During 2000, the IGC carried out its statutory requirements by continuing to regulate the nine operational riverboats and opening and subsequently regulating the tenth and final riverboat under the present Indiana gaming statutes.

Riverboat Owner's Licensing

In 2000, the IGC worked with Belterra Resort (Indiana), LLC (Belterra) located in Switzerland County to conduct a test cruise and issue a permanent riverboat owner's license. The IGC worked diligently and cooperatively with the certificate holder and other governmental entities to accomplish the issuance of the license. Belterra had obtained the necessary permits and certificates required under 68 IAC 2-1-5, posted the appropriate bond under IC 4-33-6-9, and complied with all other requirements mandated by the ACT and 68 IAC. Belterra obtained a Riverboat Owner's License contingent upon staff approval of the test cruise on October 23, 2000. Belterra commenced full-time gaming on October 27, 2000.

On June 16, 2000, PH Casino Resorts, Inc., an affiliate of Colony Capital, LLC, filed an application for transfer of the riverboat owner's license for the acquisition of Pinnacle Entertainment, Inc., the parent company of Belterra. On or about January 23, 2001, the IGC was notified that the merger agreement and the acquisition of Pinnacle Entertainment, Inc. by PH Casino Resorts, Inc. had been terminated.

Transfer of Riverboat Owner's License

In 2000, one transfer of Riverboat Owner's License was completed and approved by the IGC. The transfer of ownership occurred between Starwood Hotels & Resorts Worldwide, Inc. and Park Place Entertainment Corporation for the purchase of Caesars World, Inc. Park Place Entertainment Corporation submitted the Transfer of Riverboat Owner's License Application on September 21, 1999. The IGC considered the transfer of ownership during the March 30, 2000 meeting, and approved the transfer of 82% ownership interest in the Riverboat Owner's License pursuant to Resolution 2000-13. Park Place Entertainment Corporation has not changed the name of the casino, Caesars Riverboat Casino, located in Harrison County, Indiana.

Renewal of Riverboat Owner's License

Aztar Indiana Gaming Company, LLC (Aztar) was the first Indiana riverboat to commence full time gaming on December 8, 1995. The five-year anniversary of Aztar occurred on December 7, 2000. Pursuant to IC 4-33-6-10, an owner's license expires five years after the effective date of the license. The IGC renewed the Riverboat Owner's License on December 7, 2000 pursuant to Resolution 2000-43.

Reorganization of Licensee

Two riverboat licensees requested approval of their reorganization of the ownership structures. The first reorganization of the license occurred with Riverboat Development, Inc. (RDI)/Caesars Riverboat Casino, LLC (Caesars). RDI/Caesars is the Indiana limited liability company that holds an Indiana Riverboat License for the riverboat gaming project located in Harrison County, Indiana. RDI holds 18% of the company that holds the riverboat license. As of December 31, 1999, RDI completed a restructuring of the corporation that did not result in any new ownership interest in RDI. The IGC approved the restructuring of RDI/Caesars and the resulting ownership interests on March 30, 2000 by Resolution 2000-14.

The second reorganization of ownership interest involved American Gaming & Entertainment, Ltd. (American Gaming) and RSR, LLC (RSR). American Gaming owned 24.5% membership interest in RSR, and RSR owns a 20% interest in Grand Victoria Casino & Resort, LP (Grand Victoria), the riverboat gaming project located in Rising Sun, Indiana. American Gaming and the remaining members of RSR entered into an Agreement and Release for the transfer of the 24.5% interest held by American Gaming. No new key persons or substantial owners were introduced in the redemption of the 24.5% interest and the IGC granted the transfer of interest on August 21, 2000 by Resolution 2000-29.

Disciplinary Actions

The IGC initiated two disciplinary actions against Riverboat Licensees in 2000. In Re Disciplinary Action Of: Trump No. 2000-TR-1. On January 24, 2000, the IGC initiated a disciplinary action against Trump Indiana, Inc. (Trump) and a related complaint against an applicant for a supplier's license, North American Video Inc. The disciplinary action against North American Video Inc. is described in the section titled Supplier Licensing. The disciplinary action against Trump stated that between the dates of June 7, 1999 and June 11, 1999, two employees of North American Video, Inc. boarded the Trump riverboat to install surveillance equipment. The boarding and services provided to Trump by two North American Video employees violated IC 4-33-7-4(a) and 68

IAC 2-2-1(c). The IGC staff and Trump entered into a settlement agreement whereby Trump agreed to pay a fine in the amount of $2,000. The IGC adopted this settlement agreement on May 12, 2000, and Trump remitted payment.

The second disciplinary action initiated by the IGC was titled, In The Matter Of: Boyd Gaming Corp, Boyd Indiana, Inc. And Blue Chip Casino, LLC. On November 8, 1999, Boyd Gaming Corporation (Boyd) closed the transaction to acquire 100% ownership interest in Blue Chip Casino, LLC. As a part of the acquisition, Boyd had submitted a Transfer of Ownership Interest in Riverboat Owner License Application on June 28, 1999. Boyd had also entered into a consulting agreement with Field Street, Inc. The existence of the consulting agreement and a copy were required submissions. However, Boyd failed to timely disclose the existence of the agreement or provide the agreement to the IGC for approval. Boyd subsequently self reported the failure to disclose the consulting agreement to the IGC. Pursuant to 68 IAC 13-1-18, Boyd offered to settle the matter in lieu of a disciplinary action. Boyd offered to pay $900,000 for the economic development of different government projects and charitable agencies located in Michigan City and La Porte County to potentially lessen the fine assessed by the IGC. The IGC adopted the settlement agreement offered by Boyd and fined Boyd the amount of $100,000 on May 12, 2000. Boyd remitted payment to the government projects and charitable agencies and the amount of the fine to the IGC.

SUPPLIER LICENSING

In order to supply certain goods and services to Indiana riverboats, an individual or company must apply for and receive a supplier's license from the IGC. Upon successful completion of a thorough background investigation of suitability, a supplier's license is issued by the IGC. The IGC granted six supplier's licenses during 2000. The following companies received a supplier's license: Chipco International, Spin for Cash Wide Area Progressive Joint Venture, Hornblower Marine Services, Dallman System, Inc., Bally Gaming, Inc., and Midwest Gaming Supply Company.

A supplier's license must be renewed annually following a request by the supplier and payment of the $5,000 annual fee. Twenty-three supplier renewals were granted by the IGC in 2000.

Three licensed suppliers requested leave of the IGC to withdraw their license and no longer supply goods and services to Indiana riverboats. The following companies were approved for withdrawal of the supplier's license: The Bud Jones Co., Inc., Logical Solutions, and Progressive Games, Inc.

Disciplinary Action against Supplier Licensee

In 2000, the IGC initiated one disciplinary action against an applicant for a supplier's license. In Re Disciplinary Action Of: North American Video, Inc. (NAV) Comp. No. 2000-NAV-1. On January 24, 2000, the IGC initiated a disciplinary action against Trump Indiana, Inc. (described in the Riverboat Casino Licensing section) and North American Video, Inc. (NAV). The disciplinary action was due the violation of IC 4-33-7-4(a) and 68 IAC 2-2-1(c) by installing surveillance equipment on the Trump vessel before licensure was granted by the IGC. Additionally, the application filed by NAV was incomplete and NAV failed to provide the required and requested information. As a settlement of this disciplinary action, NAV requested leave of the IGC to withdraw the application for a supplier's license. The IGC granted the request to withdraw the supplier license application on May 12, 2000 by Resolution 2000-20. As a result of the withdrawal of the application, NAV will not be able to supply goods or services requiring a supplier's license to Indiana riverboats.

Name Change

Aristocrat Technologies, Inc., a temporary supplier licensee, requested the IGC recognize a change in the company name from Aristocrat, Inc. to Aristocrat Technologies, Inc. The IGC granted the transfer of the temporary supplier's license on May 12, 2000 by Resolution 2000-18.

OCCUPATIONAL LICENSING

The IGC requires all individuals who work on a riverboat casino to hold an occupational license. In addition, the IGC requires some employees who do not work on the boat to hold licenses, such as those who work as security personnel, supervisors and managers, or employees whose duties involve handling money. A casino must hire an individual before the IGC will begin the process to license that individual. If an individual appears to be suitable for licensure based upon their application for an occupational license, the IGC issues a temporary occupational license to that individual. In 2000, the IGC issued 7,901 new temporary occupational licenses. The temporary license allows the individual to begin working aboard the riverboat pending the results of a routine background investigation, which is completed by the Background Investigative Unit of the Indiana State Police (ISP). Once an individual's background investigation confirms the absence of information that would prohibit the IGC from licensing that individual, the IGC issues a permanent badge to that individual. In 2000 the IGC issued 5,555 permanent badges to employees who had previously held temporary licenses. At the end of 2000, a total of 15,835 individuals held either a temporary or permanent occupational license allowing them to work aboard one of Indiana's riverboat casinos.

Once licensed, occupational licensees must continue to maintain suitability for licensure. The IGC takes various levels of disciplinary action against occupational licenses for failure to follow provisions of the ACT or Indiana Administrative Code. Depending upon the situation, the IGC may probate, suspend, revoke, or take formal disciplinary action against an occupational licensee.

Occupational License Revocations

The IGC staff revoked temporary occupational licenses prior to the issuance of permanent occupational licenses on nine occasions during 2000 for reasons unrelated to an individual's prior criminal history. These licenses were revoked for the following reasons:

Criminal activity in performance of duties	6
Improper action in performance of duties	1
Failure to adhere to IGC rules	2

Of these individuals, two have appealed the action of the IGC. These appeals remained pending as of December 31, 2000.

Disciplinary Actions Initiated Against Licensees

In Re Disciplinary Action of an Empress employee, Complaint Number 99-OL-EM-1. On May 11, 1999, the IGC initiated a disciplinary action against an employee for instituting a policy/practice of forcing variances in the cage to balance and failing to report the variances to the IGC. As of the printing of this report, a settlement has been reached.

In Re Disciplinary Action of an Empress employee, Complaint Number 00-OL-EM-1. On or about February 10, 2000, the IGC initiated a disciplinary action against an employee for wrongful conduct committed during the performance of that individual's duties as a slot attendant. The individual removed tokens from inside slot machines, and gave the tokens to a patron, to use in the slot machines or exchange for cash. As of the end of 2000 the IGC was awaiting final action.

In Re Disciplinary Action of an Aztar employee, Complaint Number 00-OL-AZ-1. On or about February 10, 2000, the IGC initiated a disciplinary action against an employee because the individual stole $120 from a patron's purse after removing the purse from a gaming area. As of the end of 2000, the IGC was awaiting final action.

Felony Waiver Decisions

Pursuant to IC 4-33-8-3, the IGC may not issue an occupational license to any individual who has been convicted of a felony. During 2000, the IGC denied temporary occupational licenses to at least 28 applicants due to their disclosure that they had been convicted of one or more felony charges. Additionally, the IGC revoked the temporary occupational licenses of 11 individuals due to the ISP Background Investigative Unit's discovery during routine background investigations that the licensees had failed to reveal felony conviction information on their applications. Pursuant to IC 4-33-8-11, an individual who is disqualified due to a felony conviction may seek a waiver of the felony disqualification. In 2000, the IGC received 22 requests for felony waivers. The IGC denied 14 of those requests because the individuals were statutorily ineligible to be considered for a waiver. One individual whose waiver was denied because of statutory ineligibility is in the process of appealing that denial. That appeal remained pending at the end of 2000. One waiver request was resolved because the individual was able to convince a court to set aside and void his conviction. Two additional waiver requests remained pending at the end of 2000. Felony waiver hearings were conducted in four cases.

The IGC granted a waiver in one of these cases; the other three remained pending at the end of 2000.

Gambling Misdemeanor Waiver Decisions

Pursuant to IGC rules, a licensee must not have been convicted of any offense involving the violation of a gaming law in any jurisdiction. Based on the recommendation of an administrative law judge in a 1998 case, the IGC has begun a process, analogous to the felony waiver process, whereby individuals may request a waiver of a misdemeanor gambling conviction disqualification. During 2000, IGC took action against eight individuals whose criminal histories contain gambling-related misdemeanor convictions. Two of these individuals were able to resolve the disqualification by getting their records expunged or nullified. One application was initially denied until the conviction was determined not to be gambling related at which point a license was issued. Five individuals have filed waivers and their cases remained pending as of the end of 2000.

CONTRACTS FOR PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

The IGC continues its contractual relationships with various entities for the provision of professional services. The areas of professional service are as follows: evaluation and testing of gaming devices and systems, legal services, publishing, evaluation of riverboat performance, and badging requirements.

Evaluation and Testing of Gaming Devices and Systems

The IGC has a contract with Gaming Laboratories International, Inc. (GLI), whose main office is located in Toms River, New Jersey. Under the terms of the contract, GLI provides the following services: on-site inspection and certification of electronic gaming devices, computer monitoring systems, and other onboard equipment; testing and evaluation of electronic gaming devices and associated equipment; training of IGC personnel and agents; and other related services as requested, such as consultation regarding gaming devices and software programs. The ACT and the terms of the contract require that the riverboat licensee or manufacturer of the device bear the cost of the inspections, certifications, testing, evaluation and training of IGC personnel and agents. IGC pays for GLI's services only in rare instances when the IGC requests consultation and assistance.

Legal Services

The IGC continues its contractual relationship with Virginia Dill McCarty of the Indianapolis law firm of Landman & Beatty. Ms. McCarty provides consultation and assistance with respect to numerous issues, including, but not limited to, bonds and the security of bonds, the types and amounts of insurance to be obtained or maintained by riverboat and supplier licensees, and other areas as requested by the IGC.

The IGC continues its contractual relationship with Bernard L. Pylitt, a partner in the law firm of Katzman Katzman & Pylitt of Indianapolis. Mr. Pylitt serves as an Administrative Law Judge for the IGC in complaints filed against the IGC, disciplinary actions initiated by the IGC, and issues concerning the revocation or denial of licenses.

Publishing

In 1998 the IGC contracted with a publishing firm to publish a manual that contains the ACT, rules promulgated thereunder (68 IAC), and an index of both the ACT and the rules. In 2000, the IGC worked with the same firm to publish an updated version of that manual. The new manual is available through the IGC for a cost of $20.

Evaluation of Riverboat Performance

The IGC continues its relationship with Indiana University on behalf of the Center for Urban Policy & the Environment, School of Public and Environmental Affairs (SPEA). Pursuant to the terms of the agreement, SPEA prepares annual reports outlining each riverboat's performance for a riverboat's first five years in operation. In 2000, SPEA began working on a new phase of the project wherein it will provide the IGC with comprehensive, cumulative reports that analyze each riverboat's first five years in business with regard to its performance of statutory and community obligations. The reports will be utilized by the IGC in effectuating the statutorily required five-year relicensing and reinvestigation process. Five of Indiana's riverboats will undergo the relicensing process in the year 2001.

Badging Requirements

The IGC issues identification badges to each occupational licensee and non-gaming employee of riverboat licensees. The IGC has entered into Memoranda of Understanding with each of Indiana's 10 riverboat licensees, Identix, Inc., and Datacard. Identix was designated the appropriate vendor to install and service live-scan fingerprint systems. Datacard was designated the appropriate vendor to install and service the photo ID systems. Although the goods and services provided are for the use of the IGC in processing occupational licensees who work for the riverboat licensees, all costs are borne by the riverboat licensees. Because the monetary expenditure is made by the riverboat licensee, yet the equipment is being utilized by the IGC, it was determined that Memoranda of Understanding are the appropriate mechanism within which to outline the various duties and responsibilities of each entity.

Additional Agreements

In fulfilling its other statutory obligations, the IGC has continued to enter into Memoranda or Letters of Understanding with other agencies and jurisdictions to facilitate the sharing of information and to ensure that the IGC has complete information about each licensee for regulatory purposes.

EXCLUSION LIST

Pursuant to IC 4-33-4-7, the IGC may place an individual on an exclusion list if the individual violates the ACT or if the IGC determines that the individual's reputation or conduct may call into question the honesty or integrity of the riverboat gambling operation, or interfere with its orderly conduct. There are currently five individuals on the exclusion list. Two of the individuals were added to the exclusion list in 2000 for the following reasons:

- (1) An individual who was a regular patron on an Indiana riverboat was engaged in the practice of using agents to cash out gaming chips on her behalf. The individual was attempting to avoid Federal Currency Transaction Reporting requirements.
- (2) An individual was caught placing lower denomination tokens in slot machines in an effort to defraud Indiana riverboats. Upon further investigation, it was discovered that this individual had been arrested for similar actions on an Illinois riverboat.

LAWSUITS

The IGC was a party to one lawsuit during 2000, Walter H. Schulz, Jack Phillips, Earl Becker, and American Legion Post #497 v. State of Indiana and Indiana Gaming Commission. It was filed in a previous year and reached a resolution at the trial court level during 1999. Following an appeal by the Plaintiffs, the case was finalized in December of 2000.

On October 25, 1996, Plaintiffs Walter H. Schulz, Jack Phillips, and Earl Becker filed a Complaint in Floyd County naming the above parties, the Members of the 108th General Assembly, and each IGC Commissioner individually as Defendants. The Complaint originally alleged the following:

- 1) That the law regulating riverboat gambling within the State of Indiana violates Article I, Section 23 of the Indiana Constitution and creates an unequal privilege to those classes of citizens who support riverboat gambling and does not apply to all counties in Indiana since some counties contiguous to a navigable river capable of supporting a riverboat casino are excluded.
- 2) That the inclusion of the Riverboat Gambling Act (HB 1107) contained in House Bill 1001 (the budget bill) is void, invalid, and unenforceable because riverboat gambling is not related to the remainder of HB 1001.
- 3) That the Plaintiffs should be granted a jury trial and that the Court should award them costs and attorney's fees incurred for litigation expenses.

On June 30, 1998, the Plaintiffs amended the Complaint to include the American Legion Post #497 as a Plaintiff to the Complaint and removed the Members of the 108th General Assembly and each IGC Commissioner as individual Defendants. The Complaint was further amended to include an additional Indiana constitutional claim that penal laws must be of general and uniform operation and that the law regulating riverboat gambling violates this principle. The amended Complaint no longer requests a jury trial.

On July 24, 1998, the Honorable Robert L. Bennett, Judge, Washington Circuit Court, was appointed to serve as Special Judge. A Motion to Dismiss and a Supplemental Motion to Dismiss were filed by the Attorney General's Office on behalf of the IGC.

On June 10, 1999, Special Judge Robert L. Bennett entered an Order of the Court granting the Motion to Dismiss and the Supplemental Motion to Dismiss filed on behalf of the IGC. The order stated the following:

- 1) The Plaintiffs' Complaint failed to allege any facts indicating that these particular Plaintiffs have been injured or are in immediate danger to sustain direct injury to any right, title, or interest as a result of the General Assembly's passage of the Riverboat Gambling Act, i.e., the Plaintiffs lack standing to pursue their claims.
- 2) That the Plaintiffs delay in bringing the action for some three years after the Riverboat Gambling Act was passed presented a further bar to the action by way of laches.

The Plaintiffs appealed the Order of Special Judge Bennett to the Court of Appeals of Indiana, alleging the following:

- 1) That the Plaintiffs will suffer injury to environmental and esthetic interests not suffered by the public at large as a result of the Riverboat Gambling Act, and therefore have standing to challenge the legislation.
- 2) That Plaintiff American Legion Post #497 has been excluded from the operation of video games of chance which the State has made lawful for riverboats, and therefore also has standing to challenge the legislation.
- 3) That the defense of laches should not be applied.

On July 14, 2000, the Honorable James S. Kirsch entered an opinion affirming the trial court's dismissal. The Court of Appeals agreed that the Plaintiffs' alleged injury was the same general injury suffered by the public as a whole, and that they suffered no direct injury.

The Plaintiffs then sought transfer of the case to the Indiana Supreme Court. By Order dated November 22, 2000, the Supreme Court denied transfer. The judgment is now final.

PROMOTIONS

In order to maintain the integrity of gaming in Indiana, all promotional activity conducted by riverboat licensees is subject to review by the IGC. Promotional activity includes, but is not limited to, slot and live gaming tournaments, contests and special events, such as parties, held on casino property.

In 2000, the IGC conducted regulatory overviews of 596 submissions, 588 of those resulted in a favorable review by IGC staff.

The following is a breakdown of the 596 gaming related and non-gaming related promotions:

Non-Gaming Related (Reviewed)	504
Gaming Related (Approved)	84
Disapproved	2
Pending (No other Activity)	6

MINORITY AND WOMEN BUSINESS ENTERPRISE ISSUES

The Indiana General Assembly has placed provisions in the ACT designed to ensure that opportunity exists for significant minority and women's business enterprise participation in the riverboat industry. The ACT requires riverboat licensees to expend at least 10% of the dollar value of the licensee's purchase for goods and services with minority business enterprises (MBE), and expend at least 5% of the dollar value of those services with women's business enterprises (WBE).

Certification

Only purchases made from certified MBEs and/or WBEs may be counted toward credit for statutory compliance. In order to be certified a business must be 51% minority or woman owned, and the minority or woman owner must control and manage the daily operations of the business.

The Department of Administration's Office of Minority Business Development is the state agency responsible for certification of minority, women's, and other disadvantaged business enterprises. In order to provide continuity in the certification process, IGC has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding with this office to review and certify applications submitted by MBEs and WBEs wishing to do business with Indiana riverboats. Dollars expended with these businesses will count toward the statutory goals found in the ACT once the business is certified or if its application has been completed and its certification is pending. A business may be certified as an MBE, WBE, or both. However, if a business is certified as both, the Indiana Administrative Code only permits the riverboats to apply the business toward either the MBE goal or the WBE goal, but not both. This provision was adopted by IGC through emergency rule promulgation in 2000.

Reporting and Auditing

Riverboat licensees are required to file a report to the IGC in January of each year containing all expenditures made in the previous calendar year. Beginning in 2001, riverboat licensees will be required to file quarterly reports containing all expenditures in addition to the annual report. Licensees break out the expenditures that are not "qualified" goods and services, including those that fall under the five statutory exemptions found in IC 4-33-14-5. Once the qualified purchases are identified, licensees must then list all purchases of goods and services made from certified MBEs and WBEs.

The MBE/WBE annual reports are subjected to a two-part auditing process that involves both IGC and the Office of Minority Business Development. The IGC examines the reports to ensure that all purchases exempted by the licensee under IC 4-33-14-5 fall within the categories listed in the statute. The Office of Minority Business Development verifies that businesses listed as MBEs and WBEs are certified and that dollar figures claimed match those reported by the vendors.

Efforts to Meet Goals

The Office of Minority Business Development maintains a list of certified businesses that is made available to the riverboats. The riverboats are required to make a good faith effort to attain the statutory goals. Failure to attain the goals or make a good faith effort may result in a disciplinary action by IGC. The riverboats often work together to meet these goals by disseminating information and by participating in minority and women's business enterprise awareness forums.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY DIVISION

The Information Technology Division (IT) is responsible for the implementation and support of information systems and their corresponding hardware technologies. This support covers the IGC central office as well as the remote IGC/ISP offices at each riverboat property. The supported information systems include end-user computing tools and custom designed applications. The division also coordinates the wide area network data communication to the remote gaming locations. The goal of IT is to enhance IGC's productivity through the continuous automation of its day to day operations.

The major accomplishments in 2000 include implementation of the Electronic Tax System (ETS), installation of the computer resources at the new Belterra Casino, migration to the State's new wide area network system, installation of new photo-ID badging systems, and design and analysis of the Electronic Gaming Device System (EGDS).

The ETS was placed into production at mid-year upon completion of a six-month parallel testing period. Riverboat licensees utilize this system to prepare and file Form RG-1 with their daily admission data and adjusted gross receipt information, as well as, calculate the admission and wagering tax due and submit month-end financial reports. This system has greatly enhanced the flow of financial information to the IGC central office and provides for online review by our audit division.

The computer resources for the IGC/ISP office were installed at the new Belterra Casino. Prior to the opening of the permanent facility, a temporary IGC/ISP office was configured with finger printing and photo-ID badging systems that handled the mass entry of new employees into the Occupational Licensing System.

The Intelenet Commission has adopted a new Wide Area Network (WAN) for the State of Indiana. This new WAN is replacing an existing network configuration that has been utilized at the IGC/ISP riverboat offices since their opening. Several changes were required at these sites to accommodate the new WAN.

The photo-ID badging systems in use at the IGC/ISP riverboat offices have been upgraded to a newer generation of badging technology. The new systems allow for a more streamlined connection to the central storage repository and provide a more state-of-the-art image capture solution.

The EGDS has been designed to track the movement and conversion of EGD/slots throughout their life cycle at an Indiana riverboat licensee. The proposed system will include the functionality for providing a reference catalog of approved gaming equipment, coordinating shipment information from suppliers, submitting requests for the shipment, movement or conversion of EGD/slots from the riverboat licensees, and issuing online approval of the requests. By eliminating the majority of our manual procedures, the system will expedite the regulatory process. System testing is scheduled to begin during the first quarter of 2001.

Internet Resources

The IGC maintains extensive resources on its Web site at www.state.in.us/gaming. These resources include notices and agendas of public meetings, monthly revenue reports, yearly riverboat casino evaluations, IGC annual reports, resolutions, and a link to the Indiana Code.

ADMISSION AND WAGERING TAX

In September 2000 the total admission and wagering tax collected since the inception of riverboat gaming (December 1995) reached the $1.5 billion level. The $453 million admission and wagering tax reported in 2000 exceeds any of the previous five years.

The charts and graphs in this section are a compilation of the monthly riverboat statistical reports for 2000. This information reflects the total amount of admissions, win from EGDs and table games and wagering and admission tax for 2000, as reported by each of the 10 operating riverboat licensees. For informational purposes, the disposition of the wagering and admission tax is included for 2000, as well as a six-year comparative for 1995 – 2000.

Throughout the year, on the 20th day of each month, or the next business day following the 20th, IGC provides a revenue release of the wagering and admission tax and monthly riverboat statistical information for the preceding month. These reports are available at the IGC Web site:

www.state.in.us/gaming

The admission tax is imposed on the admissions to gambling excursions at a rate of three dollars for each person admitted to the gambling excursion. The admission tax is calculated on the total of the turnstile count, all patrons who board a riverboat for an excursion, and the multiple excursion count, all patrons who remain on board for two or more excursions.

The wagering tax is imposed on the adjusted gross receipts received from authorized gambling games at the rate of 20% of the amount of the Adjusted Gross Receipts¹(AGR). There are two categories of authorized gambling games; electronic gaming devices (EGD/slot machines) and live gaming devices (table games). The income generated by these devices, commonly known as win, is the major component of AGR.

The ACT defines the disposition of the tax revenue to the appropriate unit of state or local government depending upon the tax type. The actual distribution of these funds is coordinated by the offices of the State Treasurer and the State Auditor.

The testing for electronically filed RG-1 through RG-9 forms was completed in May and the system was fully functional on June 1, 2000. All of the above forms are now filed electronically. Prior to that the licensees had been preparing them manually and then faxing them to the IGC.

The EGDS is expected to be ready for parallel testing during 2001. This system will enable the audit division to monitor the movements and conversions of EGDs on all of the riverboats more efficiently giving the auditors more time to audit additional areas of the casinos.

¹ Adjusted Gross Receipts means the total of all cash and property whether collected or not, received by a licensee from gaming operations; minus the total of (A) all cash paid out as winnings to patrons and (B) uncollectible gaming receivables, not to exceed the lesser of (i) a reasonable provision for uncollectible patron checks received from gaming operations; or (ii) two percent of the total of all sums, including checks whether collected or not, less the amount paid out as winnings to patrons.
