Background on the Weatherization and Energy Assistance Programs:

The Weatherization Program provides energy conservation measures to reduce the utility bills of low-income Hoosiers across the state. The main objective of the Weatherization Program is to improve energy efficiency, ensure the client's health and safety, and educate the client about ways to become more energy savvy.

The federally funded Low Income Heating Energy Assistance Program (EAP) is designed to offer low-income Hoosiers assistance with utility bills. IHCDA administers both a winter heating and summer cooling program.
