DISCLOSURES:

Past performance is not a guarantee or a reliable indicator of future results. Bond values fluctuate in response to changes in interest rates, the financial condition of individual issuers, general market and economic conditions. In general, when interest rates rise, bond values fall and investors may lose principal value. Although the fund does not employ leverage, the use of derivatives may reduce returns and/or increase volatility. If the index measuring inflation falls, the principal value of inflation-indexed bonds will be adjusted downward, and consequently the interest payable on these securities (calculated with respect to a smaller principal amount) will be reduced. Repayment of the original bond principal upon maturity (as adjusted for inflation) is guaranteed in the case of US Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS). For bonds that do not provide a similar guarantee, the adjusted principal value of the bond repaid at maturity may be less than the original principal. All data presented is calculated from manager composite performance prior to 4/1/2013.
