

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney — Level 6 Felony Division

Cass County Prosecuting Attorney's Office | Logansport, Indiana

Want real trial experience, not years of doc review before you see a courtroom? The Cass County Prosecuting Attorney's Office is hiring a full-time Deputy Prosecuting Attorney to manage a caseload of Level 6 Felonies — with the kind of hands-on courtroom responsibility that larger offices often take years to hand a new attorney.

What you'll do:

You'll try cases, argue motions, and manage your own docket from day one, working alongside a close-knit team of six deputy prosecutors and a helpful support staff. This is trial-heavy work for someone who wants to develop real advocacy skills fast.

What we offer:

- Salary commensurate with experience, up to $95,000
- County health benefits and Indiana state pension (PERF)
- A collaborative, six-attorney team where you're never just a number
- Eligibility for federal and state loan repayment assistance programs available to Indiana prosecutors (including the John R. Justice program)
- Logansport offers small-town cost of living and community feel, with Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Lafayette and South Bend all within about an hour's drive — city amenities without the city price tag or commute

What we're looking for:

A license to practice law in the State of Indiana (or eligibility pending admission). New admittees and lateral attorneys both welcome — we invest in developing trial skills, not just hiring them.

Please send resumes, cover letter and references to:

Noah Schafer
Cass County Prosecutor
200 Court Park
Logansport, IN 46947
noah.schafer@casscountyin.gov