

CAREERS IN AGRICULTURE

While fewer than a million Americans are involved in raising livestock and growing crops, more than 21 million people are employed in nontraditional agriculture careers. These careers encompass a wide range of jobs in food production, natural resources, plant systems, animal management and more and require different levels of schooling. Find below just the start of the careers available within the agriculture industry as well as the schools in the State of Indiana with agricultural courses and degrees.

CAREERS IN AGRICULTURE:

- Precision Agriculture Technician
- Agronomist
- Agriculture Sales Manager (Seed, Fertilizer, Chemical, Equipment etc.)
- Livestock Production Manager
- Field Technician
- Greenhouse Manager
- Equipment Operator
- Farmer
- Farm Laborer
- Farm Accountant
- Agricultural Lawyer
- Food Scientist
- Landscaper
- Golf Course Superintendent
- Grain Systems Manager
- Plant Geneticist
- Entomologist
- Botanist
- Researcher
- Agricultural Engineer
- Agriculture Teacher or Professor
- Lab Technician
- DNR Officer
- Grain Buyer
- Animal Pharmaceuticals Sales Representative
- Agriculture Marketing
- Commodity Merchandising
- Food Manufacturer
- Agriculture Loan Officer
- Consultant
- Supply Chain Manager
- Marine Biologist
- Water Quality Specialist
- Soil and Water Conservationist
- District Forester
- Arborist
- Environmental Safety Officer
- Environmental Attorney
- Policy Analyst
- Veterinarian
- Truck Driver
- Communications
- Horse Trainer
- Equine Assisted Therapist
- Veterinarian Technician
- Business Owner
- Value Chain Coordinator
- Data Scientist
- 4-H Extension Specialist
- Journalist

SCHOOLS WITH AGRICULTURAL COURSES & DEGREES IN INDIANA:

- Purdue University
- Vincennes University
- Ivy Tech
- Huntington University
- Marion University's Ancilla College
- St. Mary's of the Woods
- Indiana University