Indiana Secondary Transition Resource Manual
for Deaf & Hard of Hearing Students

This manual was developed by the Indiana Deaf and Hard of Hearing Transition Alliance in the Fall of 2014 to ensure students and families have information needed to successfully transition from high school to post-secondary experiences.

Outcome goal: Through the development of a Resource Manual that contains information and resources specific to Deaf and Hard of Hearing students, deaf educators will have the tools to provide guidance for successful transitions.

(It is web based, however can be printed if desired and posted on two websites intended to reach providers and families throughout the state of Indiana. These websites are: 1) Center for Deaf and Hard of Hearing Education at: www.chdhe.isdh.in.gov and 2) Indiana Secondary Transition Resource Center at: www.instrc.indiana.edu).

In addition, please note that it is important to be aware of your local school district’s transition initiatives under the Department of Exceptional Learners. For an example of transition initiatives, please refer to the link here from Lawrence Township’s transition website.

National & State Resources

National Resources

- National Deaf Center
  The National Center to support postsecondary outcomes for individuals who are deaf, deafblind, deafdisabled, hard of hearing or late deafened.

- Laurent Clerc National Deaf Education Center
  A national website that provides information about transition to adulthood Information for students on the go, financial aid, applying for college, transition planning and careers

- National Technical Assistance Center on Transition

  - FAQ for Students

- Transition Planning Handbook
  The handbook provides a list of helpful terms and definitions related to the transition process, as well as a list of community resources in Indiana. In addition, the handbook also provides helpful tips on what to expect during the transition process at each stage of a child’s education career from early childhood to high school and beyond. While this handbook is not specifically targeted for deaf and hard of hearing individuals, it is a good resource for parents and caregivers.

Assessment tools

- Secondary Transition Guide for Students Who Are Deaf or Hard of Hearing
  This Michigan Department of Education document is an assessment tool that parents and educators can use to assist them as their child/student transitions into post-school life after high school.

- Self Advocacy Competency Skills Checklist from Guide to Access Planning
The purpose of the Guide to Access Planning (GAP) program, is to provide information that is important for you to effectively advocate and be responsible for your communication access supports and, in particular, hearing assistance technologies.

- Map It: What comes next?
  This online training developed by PEPNET2 includes a variety of assessments to determine who students are, what they want, and how they are going to get there. Due to the relocation of this resource, it is currently not available.

- Transition Assessment Matrix
  This site provides different assessment tools that allow parents to choose the Transition Domain (Employment, Education/Training, Independent Living) that you wish to explore transition assessments for. Once you choose a domain, you may then choose the appropriate grade level(s), and the disability area(s) that are most similar to the needs of the student(s) you are assessing. Once you have chosen these three (3) areas, press the Show Transition Assessments button and the system will show you Transition Assessments that meet your criteria.
