Editor's Note: This release is being reissued to expand the August 23, 2013 recall to include additional products and an additional allergen.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29, 2013 – Westlake Foods, a Santa Ana, Calif., establishment, is recalling a total of approximately 69,123 pounds of cured pork products because of misbranding and undeclared allergens, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) announced today. The products contain wheat and soy, known allergens which are not declared on the labels.

Recall 046-2013 is being expanded to include the following products: [\[Labels \(PDF Only\)\]](#)

- 12-lb. blocks of "PATE GAN TAY HO LIVERWURST SPREAD" distributed in cases for restaurant and wholesale use nationwide.
- 6-oz. cups of "PATE GAN TAY HO LIVERWURST SPREAD" distributed at retail, restaurants and wholesale locations nationwide.

The following products were named in the August 23, 2013 recall release:

- 11-lb. to 13-lb. cases of "Tay Ho Cured Pork Artificially Colored." This product was distributed for institutional use nationwide.
- 14-oz. packages of "Tay Ho Cured Pork Sausage With Pork Ears And Snouts." This product was distributed for retail sales nationwide.
- 11-lb. to 13-lb. cases of "Don Café Cured Pork Meat and Binder Product Pork skin added." This product was distributed for institutional use in the Houston, Texas area.

The problem was discovered by an FSIS inspector during a routine label review. The problem is believed to have occurred due to a change in the company's spice mix, which was not reflected on the products' labels.

FSIS and the company have received no reports of adverse reactions due to consumption of these products. Anyone concerned about a reaction should contact a healthcare provider.

FSIS routinely conducts recall effectiveness checks to verify recalling firms notify their customers of the recall and that steps are taken to make certain that the product is no longer available to consumers.

Media with questions about the recall should contact Jayce Yenson, Manager, at (714) 474-8828. Consumers with questions about the recall should contact Thuy Nguyen, Secretary, at (714) 973-2286.
