Commission Announces New Executive Director of External Affairs

INDIANAPOLIS (Dec. 11, 2014) – The Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC) has named Chetrice Mosley as its new executive director of external affairs. She will be responsible for overseeing the commission's communications, leading the consumer affairs division, and serving as the agency's chief legislative liaison.

Mosley has served the State of Indiana since 2008 and comes to IURC from the Indiana Department of Revenue where she was the public relations project manager. An award-winning communicator, her team was recognized twice by the Hoosier Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America for their 2011 Marketing Communication Campaign and their 2013 Annual Report. During her tenure at the Indiana Department of Revenue, Mosley also provided public relations assistance to other state agencies including the Indiana Department of Labor, Indiana Department of Local Government Finance, Indiana Finance Authority, and Indiana Office of Technology's IN.gov Governance Council.

In addition, she was a public relations consultant for St. Mary's County Health Department located in Leonardtown, Md. Prior to Indiana state government, Mosley was a communications specialist for the Indianapolis Private Industry Council, Inc. (now EmployIndy) and communications manager for the Decatur County Family YMCA.

A graduate of Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis, Mosley earned her Indiana University bachelor's degree with honors in communications studies and public relations. She currently resides in Greenwood, Ind. with her family.

About the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC)

The IURC is a fact-finding body that hears evidence in cases filed before it and makes decisions based on the evidence presented in those cases. An advocate of neither the public nor the utilities, the IURC is required by state statute to make decisions that balance the interests of all parties to ensure the utilities provide adequate and reliable service at reasonable prices.
