Keynote, Workshops Finalized for 21st Century Literacy Days

The keynote speaker and workshops have been finalized for next month's 21st Century Literacy events in Indianapolis (8/1), Kokomo (8/9) or Columbus (8/16). Headlining each event is Ann Sanders, library consultant and former Federal Regional Depository Librarian for the state of Michigan. She plans to present valuable information on the timely topic of government documents and how your library can provide this valuable information within your community.

The FREE, day-long workshops offer a unique professional development experience and opportunity to earn four LEUs in areas such as government, legal, health, early childhood, and adult literacy. Attendees can choose from a total of 12 unique workshops scheduled throughout four sessions at each event. If that's not great enough, lunch will be provided for each person in attendance.

Nominations Being Accepted for Annual 'I love My Librarian' Award

Nominations for the 2013 Carnegie Corporation of New York/New York Times I Love My Librarian Award recently opened during the American Library Association Annual Conference. The award invites library users nationwide to recognize the accomplishments of librarians in public, school, college, community college and university libraries for their efforts to improve the lives of people in their community. Nominations will run through Sept. 6 and are being accepted online at ilovelibraries.org/ilovemylibrarian.

Up to 10 librarians will be selected and will receive a $5,000 cash award, a plaque and a travel stipend to attend the awards ceremony and reception in New York, hosted by The New York Times. For more information or to submit a nomination, please visit ilovelibraries.org/ilovemylibrarian.

Middlebury Librarian Wins National Graphic Novel Award

Congratulations to Beth Adcock of Middlebury Community Public Library on being awarded the second-annual Will Eisner Graphic Novel Award for Libraries. Beth is one of three winners nationwide who will receive a collection of the graphic novels nominated for the Will Eisner Comic Industry Awards, a $2000 voucher to purchase graphic novels and a $1000 to host a comics-related event at their libraries...Read More
