Old Business

Matthews complaint- the case was heard in court on August 5th and the owners were ordered to allow an inspection. Health department staff inspected the residence on September 1st and found no public health threat. The case is closed.

The foods division request for an ordinance to hold event coordinators responsible for assuring vendors have a current food license was discussed. At this time an ordinance is not recommended. A strongly worded letter will be sent to all event coordinators early in the season urging them to require proof of a food license upon registration for their event.
