

INDIANA DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Retail Food Establishment Sanitation Requirements

Title 410 IAC 7-26

Effective April 16, 2025

PREFACE

The Indiana Department of Health is authorized by law to ensure that foods are safe, wholesome and sanitary; regulated products are honestly and accurately represented; and these products are in compliance with the state laws and regulations. The following rule 410 IAC 7-26, Retail Food Establishment Sanitation Requirements, is designed to provide a more comprehensive approach to protecting the consumer from contaminated food and foodborne illness.

Foodborne illness in the United States is a major cause of personal distress, preventable death and avoidable economic burden.

For many victims, foodborne illness results in discomfort or lost time from the job. For some, especially children under the age of 5, adults older than 65, and those with impaired immune systems, foodborne illness is more serious and may be life threatening.

It is a shared responsibility of the food industry and the government to ensure that food provided to the consumer is safe and does not become a vehicle in a disease outbreak or in the transmission of communicable disease. This shared responsibility extends to ensuring that consumer expectations are met and that food is unadulterated, prepared in a clean environment, and honestly presented.

Accordingly, the provisions of the rule provide a system of prevention and overlapping safeguards designed to minimize foodborne illness, such as ensuring employee health, active managerial controls, safe food, and acceptable levels of sanitation for retail food establishment premises.

This rule addresses risk factor controls identified by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and Prevention as contributors to foodborne illness and injury. The factors include unsafe sources, inadequate cooking, improper holding, contaminated equipment, and poor personal hygiene.

Outside of risk factors, the CDC has further established public health interventions to continue their efforts to prevent with foodborne illness or injury. Public health interventions include Person-In-Charge demonstration of knowledge, employee health controls, controlling hands as a vehicle of contamination, time/temperature parameters for pathogen control, and the use of consumer advisories.

The rule is designed to emphasize the areas of food safety that are considered Priority and if not properly followed, will be more likely than others to result in food contamination, illness or other environmental hazard. Each section in this rule describes which subsections are Priority, Priority foundation, and CORE.

In the future, the rule is anticipated to undergo revision more frequently with the objective of staying abreast of current science and industry trends. It is recommended to refer to the Indiana Administrative Code should you have any questions or would like to verify this source.
