St. Joseph County Department of Health Opens Respiratory Immunization Clinic

Health Officials are encouraging everyone to be vaccinated early this year against respiratory illnesses, such as Flu, COVID-19, and RSV. The St. Joseph County Department of Health has opened their fall respiratory immunization clinic. This clinic will allow for additional appointments for respiratory-related immunizations. Currently, flu vaccine is being offered with COVID-19 and RSV being available in the upcoming months.

Individuals can schedule their appointment online at www.sjcindiana.com/health. Immunization costs are covered by most health insurance plans. For those without health insurance or with plans that do not cover vaccines, the St. Joseph County Department of Health has programs to provide vaccines at little to no cost.
