Indiana Housing &
Community Development
Authority

The Indiana Housing and Community Development Authority (IHCDA), chaired by Lt. Governor Becky Skillman, creates housing opportunity, generates and preserves assets, and revitalizes neighborhoods by investing financial and technical resources in the development efforts of qualified partners throughout Indiana. Growing Indiana's economy starts at home.

Development (IACED) and the Indiana Housing and Community Development Authority (IHCDA) collaborate to deliver the Statewide Conference on Housing and Community Economic Development.

We hope you will join us for valuable knowledge and networking opportunities for more than 400 non-profit and private developers, financiers, government entities, and service providers.

The conference will again be held at the Indiana Convention Center in downtown Indianapolis. In addition to multiple tracks on the knowledge and skills necessary to lead community economic development, the 2012 conference will include a spotlight on the work and knowledge necessary to serve Hoosiers without access to banking relationships. Among other diverse housing and community development content, sessions will target communities participating in the successful Bank On Indiana program and explore the nuts and bolts of the Community Reinvestment Act and how lending institutions think about community development.

Visit the Statewide Conference on Housing and Community Economic Development website for more information and to register today!

If you are interested in becoming a sponsor or exhibitor, please visit the Sponsors Section of the conference site to see the many opportunities available, including the charity golf outing just before the conference begins to maximize your exposure.

We look forward to seeing you in Indianapolis September 18-19!
