

ABOUT

ANDY HEDINGER

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE

MEDIATOR

Andy has served as an Administrative Law Judge at the Office of Administrative Law Proceedings since August 2021. He took on a leadership role as Chief Administrative Law Judge in early 2022 where he leads a team of Administrative Law Judges in the Social Services Division who conduct hearings for a variety of FSSA related matters regarding Medicaid, SNAP, and TANF, amongst others.

Prior to joining OALP, Andy attended the Maurer School of Law at Indiana University Bloomington for his Juris Doctorate and put his practical legal skills to work in small firm life in the diverse areas of Criminal Defense, Business Law, Family Law, and Medical Malpractice before switching gears into Criminal Prosecution. As a Prosecutor, he handled both criminal and IV-D matters which further increased his versatility in the legal profession.

Andy is known for his multifaceted legal knowledge, attention to detail, and awareness of the “big picture” in the grand scheme of things.
