

ELIZABETH GAMBOA

Indianapolis, Indiana

- Administrative Law Judge, Natural Resources Commission (NRC)
- Attorney

Travel: Statewide; Virtual

Areas of Particular Interest:

- Natural Resources Law
- Child Welfare
- Labor and Employment
- Administrative

Additional Information:

Elizabeth (Libby) Gamboa received her BA from Indiana University, Bloomington, and her juris doctorate from Indiana University School of Law, Indianapolis. She served as a judicial clerk at the Indiana Court of Appeals before beginning a private practice. She began public services in 2008, serving as a staff attorney for the Department of Child Services, Johnson County office for eight years. She joined the legal division of the Department of Natural Resources in 2016. In 2020, she joined the Office of Administrative Law Proceedings as an Administrative Law Judge. Libby became the Director of the Hearings Division and Chief Administrative Law Judge for the Hearings Division of the Natural Resources Commission in 2022.

Libby has volunteered for, or served on the board of several non-profit organizations in Johnson, including United Way of Johnson County, Girls on the Run, and 100+ Women Who Care.