Additional Information:

Joe Miller has been a licensed Indiana attorney since 1992. Joe was first licensed to practice law in 1989 in Arkansas, where he attended law school and practiced law in private practice for several years. Besides being licensed in Indiana he is licensed in Missouri, Washington, D.C. as well as the Seventh and Eighth Court of Appeals. Additionally he is licensed to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court. He has practiced before the state and federal courts of Indiana (and several other states) as well as Indiana's administrative agencies.

Joe has extensive experience with state and federal legislative matters and procedures as well as handling a wide variety of legal work and cases. Since 2005 Joe has been General Counsel at a major agricultural company in Indiana.

Joe grew up on a diversified livestock and crop farm in Northwest Indiana. He received a Bachelors degree in agriculture (agronomy and animal science) as well as a Masters degree in agriculture (Agricultural Economics) before attaining his law degree from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. He has been a member of the American Agricultural Law Association since 1988 and served on its Board of Directors for several years.
