Stucker Fork Conservancy District Water Rate Case: Public Comments Invited

The Indiana Office of Utility Consumer Counselor (OUCC) is inviting public comments on Stucker Fork Conservancy District's pending water rate request through Feb. 24, 2025.

The OUCC – the state agency representing consumer interests in cases before the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC) – is using its technical and legal resources to review the utility's proposal. Formal testimony from the OUCC is due Mar. 4, 2025.

Stucker Fork Conservancy District provides water to approximately 8,000 residential, commercial, industrial and wholesale customers. The service area includes the City of Austin and portions of Scott, Jefferson, Jackson, Jennings, Washington, and Clark counties.

In its testimony, the district states it is seeking the rate increase due to higher operating and maintenance costs, along with capital improvements including the expansion of the Marble Hill water treatment facility. A monthly residential water bill for 4,000 gallons would rise from $34.35 to $40.88 within the City of Austin and from $25.61 to $30.90 outside the City of Austin. The district proposes implementing the increase in two phases.

Stucker Fork's current water rates received Commission approval in 2018.

A settlement agreement is possible in any legal proceeding; such an agreement, if reached, would require IURC approval.

Consumers who wish to submit written comments for the case record may do so via the form on the OUCC's website at www.in.gov/oucc/2361.htm, or by mail at:
