Board members introduced themselves to each other and welcomed Paul Shoopman to the Board. He has been in business for over 50 years as a builder, which brings a lot of practical experience to the consumer position on the Board. Todd, Hal and Lisa introduced themselves and shared their experience with the group.

REPORT FROM THE OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Amy Osborne introduced herself and provided the board with a report from the attorney general's office. There are three open complaints with the architect/landscape architect board. There are zero open litigation files currently open. The board inquired about the substance of the complaints that have been filed. It's important to the Board to understand the type of complaints being filed. Are all complaints being investigated, vetted, followed through. The OAG can only investigate a formal consumer complaint. Todd asked for specific examples of the complaints that have been filed and the foundations of the complaints.

DISCUSSION ITEMS

- 1. CLARB 2023 Annual Business Meeting Report
Amy Hall provided a report from the CLARB Annual Business Meeting. The change of Board of Directors structure was the main topic of the Annual Business Meeting as well as the structure of the whole organization.

- 2. Pathways to Licensure
Jason Shelley wanted to make the Board aware of possibility of creating a pathway to licensure without the aspect of the formal education. Any experience garnered needs to be documented and a guideline for documentation. Further conversation with occur as NCARB is working on this topic to present to the member boards.

3. Technology in Design

Todd wanted to discuss the aspect of AI in design. It's expected in the next 5 to 10 years AI will be taking over all aspects of the design field. AI is intruding into all aspects of business from customer service to design. Conceptual drawings are being completed with construction documents for projects. How to we answer the question about AI and getting ahead of it.
