COAT OF ARMS

This crest symbolizes the student's spirit and their support of Clinton Prairie High School. Students should have pride, respect, and loyalty for their school. When in public they are representing Clinton Prairie and should behave in such a manner as to bring credit to Clinton Prairie.

Mr. Eugene Alexander, Superintendent of Clinton Prairie Schools, coordinates state and school board policies with the operation of the schools. He graduated with a B.A. and M.S. from Central Normal College and Purdue University.

Functioning as the controlling unit of Clinton Prairie High School, the school board fixes school policies, hires and replaces teachers and appropriates funds for the various departments.

Mr. Phillip J. McDaniel, principal, is responsible for the complete educational program at Clinton Prairie. He graduated from Indiana State University with a B.S., M.S. and has completed one extra year of graduate work. Mr. McDaniel previously taught in Indianapolis and was assistant principal at Cascade High School.

Besides performing his numerous responsibilities as assistant principal, Mr. Miller teaches Algebra I. He earned B.P.E. and M.P.E. degrees from Purdue University.

The Guidance Department advises students, schedules classes and administers tests to measure the students' abilities and interests. Programs are planned by the counselors to prepare students for future jobs and education.

Mrs. Marian Sims, general secretary, synchronizes the inner workings of the high school office. Her work includes writing tardy passes to being a private secretary.

Mrs. Sue Bass handles the extra-curricular funds. This involves the monetary transactions for the clubs and organizations in the school.

Mrs. Mary Kelly and Mrs. Betty Siekman work as secretaries in the superintendent's office. They are occupied strictly with the immense business of the corporation.

Studying in the round

English is a study throughout high school of grammar, composition, and literature that is beneficial for future success in any field. The journalism class learns journalistic skills by publishing The Gopher's Den.

Spanish and Latin classes utilize tapes and dialogues to put the language in operation. Exchange students, slides, displays, and research papers educate students in the culture of the country in which the language is spoken.

And next year save time for reading.

Speech entails public speaking, impromptu speeches, and dramatic work. Radio and television formats are written so they could be effectively produced. Some students enter public speaking contests to display their skills.

World and U.S. History, government, world problems, and economics widen the general jr. high social studies to a more specific and total insight.

Taxes can be taxing.

7th graders recreate a pioneer village.

Teachers attempt to make relevant the basic historical concepts by studying the problems and solutions of the past in the light of contemporary problems.

Films, film strips, library research, panels, mock political conventions and individual projects and study make up much of the high school social studies curriculum.

Micro film, and reference books are among the additions to the facilities of the school library. The librarian, Mrs. Hurt, offers synopses of new books given in the classroom, a service begun this year. Students use the library extensively for study and for pleasure.

Students are given the opportunity for self-expression by means of art through oil painting, stain glass work, copper enameling, hand crafts, sketchings, and many others. Much latent student talent has been revealed.

Move over Michealangelo.

We're just birds in a gilded cage.

A variety of activities occupies the time of the one hundred and ten member high school band. High placing at solo and ensemble contest and a first place rating at this year's band contest showed the results of everyday rehearsals. The band performs for home football games and participates in local parades.

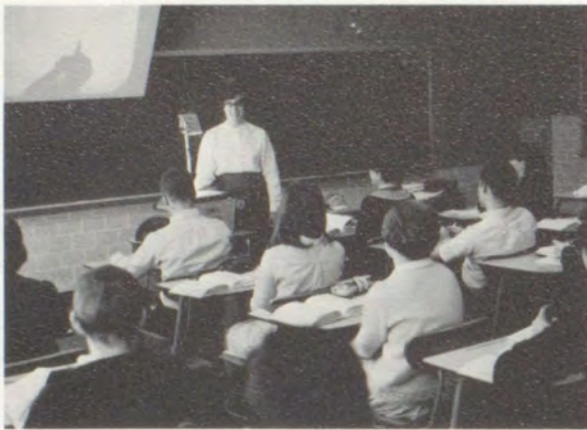

The members of the chorus are exposed to many levels of vocal music ranging from popular to classical. They also practice breathing and enunciation techniques to improve the quality of the music produced.

Laughing gas in the Chem. lab!!!

A four year math program gives students a chance to apply the values of logical reasoning. The different levels include general math, algebra, geometry, and advanced mathematics.

Biology, chemistry, and physics provide for student awareness of the diversified fields of sciences. Science gives students a satisfaction of understanding the 'whys' of the universe.

Putt! Putt! Blugh!

Home economics is valuable because it prepares girls to be more efficient in their future roles as homemakers. Many phases of homemaking are available to girls in grades seven through twelve. The backbone of these courses is consumer buying, which branches into clothing, interior decorating, and foods.

Crops, livestock, soil, and equipment are the significant components of farming. New methods are introduced in the classroom that can be applied directly to actual farming. Basic accounting principles and procedures are essential for managing a productive farm.

It won't burp, Mrs. Brown!

Business courses compile one of the largest departments at Clinton Prairie. Students experience the hazards of stock markets, the trying of a court case, and the arts of salesmanship.

A Multilith Off-set press and three IBM Selective typewriters are the most recent additions to the business department.

Jr. High students sample power mechanics, metals, plastics, woods, electricity, and drafting in the industrial arts department. Upper-classmen select the areas in which they are most interested to make their respective projects.

Physical education teaches co-ordination, fundamental skills, and sportsmanship. Gymnastics, basketball, and track are the principle activities common to boys' and girls' classes. In addition to these, the boys' classes engage in wrestling and football. Girls' experiment with modern dance and free exercise.

This burns me up!

Mrs. Virginia Scheirer, school nurse, divides her attention between the high school and four elementary schools for general health checks, and informs doctors and families of illnesses.

COOKS

L. to R. Maxine Grice, Bernice Vandermark, Becky Cohee, Martha Bridges, Julia Flowers, Margaret Woody-supervisor.

BUS DRIVERS

The one department that students take the most for granted is that of maintenance. Orville Stingley, Russell Harshbarger, Verda Thompson, and James Bridges work diligently all day and often late into the evening. Their combined efforts to clean, maintain equipment and heat the school are evident in our spotless building.

Glenn Juday, valedictorian, plans to enter Purdue University in September of 1968. Interest in the outdoors has motivated Glenn to further his studies in forestry. Flying a single engine plane has become a unique hobby which Glenn enjoys for pleasure and which will be useful in future work.

Salutatorian John Glick will major in math or elementary education at Franklin College of Indiana. John's participation in a wide range of activities will benefit him in elementary education. Excelling in the classroom and in the student body stems from his will to learn and his ability to be a successful leader.

It is with affection that we remember Mark L. Myer, member of the sophomore class who would have graduated with the class of 1970. Mark, an honor student, participated in freshman and B-team basketball and was a member of the science club. 'Nor in truth, would the honors of men continue after death, if their own spirits did not make us preserve a longer remembrance of them.'

ORGANIZATIONS

CP Students who lead

The student council acts as a link between the student body and the administration. A major accomplishment of this year's council was to submit the coat of arms and code of ethics to the student body. Officers: John Glick, president; Mark Simmons, vice president; Don Jacoby, treasurer; Susan Peters, secretary (not present). Sponsors: Mrs. Mohler and Mrs. Boser.

National Honor Society membership, based on scholarship, leadership, service, and character, is given to outstanding members of the junior and senior classes.

Each one of the Gopher's Den Staff is responsible for a specific phase of the planning of the paper. The sum of their skills equals the school newspaper, published biweekly to keep students informed of school events.

The staff worked to put each phase of the yearbook together to result in a complete record of the year. Editor: Gloria Ferguson. Sponsors: Mrs. McClughen and Miss Bell.

FFA Officers: Rusty Carter, president; Jerry Batts, vice president; Rodney Clouser, secretary; Gary Neal, treasurer; Carroll Cohee, reporter; Gordon Barnett, sentinel. Sponsor: Mr. Need.

National Chorus and Band: Chuck Watkins, Rodney Clouser, Phil Padgett participated in FFA National Chorus and Band at Kansas City.

Parliamentary Procedure Team: The Parliamentary Procedure Team participates in district and state contests to demonstrate its skill in correct methods of directing a well-organized meeting.

GAA expands

GAA: Girls who enjoy exercise can participate in sports for fun, competition, and fitness through G.A.A. Senior High Officers: June Rogers, president; Delva Heavilon, vice-president; Janet Yundt, secretary-treasurer. Sponsor: Miss Hayden.

Audio visual aids, such as films and overhead projectors, are operated by the members to benefit teaching in the classroom. Officers: Dave Beaver, president; Tom Landes, Office manager; Jim Isenhower, assistant manager; Linda Skiles, secretary-treasurer. Sponsor: Mr. Lamar.

Field trips and science projects sponsored by the science club are among activities designed to spark and develop interest in science. Officers: Mike Myers, president; Denny Thomas, vice-president; Dianna Keller, secretary-treasurer. Sponsors: Mr. Alward, Mr. Svoboda, and Mr. Hershman.

Giving of their time, student librarians provide many services for the students and librarians, Officers: Janet Cragun, president; Jeanie Goldsberry, vice-president; Mary Sheehan, secretary; Dawn McCorkle, reporter. Sponsor: Mrs. Hurt.

Hoosier Student Librarians Association. Advisor: Mrs. Hurt; State officers: Janet Cragun, secretary; Frances Phillippo, historian.

HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR

The large number of high school vocal groups provide an opportunity for many individuals to exercise their musical interests. The mixed and girls' groups perform at school functions and occasionally outside the school district.

B-SHARPS

PRAIRIE SINGERS

DEB-TONES

Senior High Band excels

Extra activities which require training and hard work on the part of the director, Mr. Ray Pearson, and the individual members include IU Band Day, state band contest, and the Christmas Parade at Frankfort. The drum majors lead the band with highstepping marches and shrill whistles. The solo twirler performs and adds an extra accent to the band. The Prairiettes present original routines at basketball and football games.

Stage Band performs at special events, playing this year for the Tipton prom.

Pep Band is responsible for adding pep and variety to school ballgames.

The M.J.B., characterized by amerachi music, is a popular C.P. ensemble which performed for the F.F.A. Banquet and for many other events and organizations.

CP Organizations are active

Health Careers Club points out different medical opportunities through activities such as trips to Logansport State Mental Hospital and the I.U. Medical Center. Officers: Susie Ferry, president; Danielle Click, vice-president; Mary Ann Coridan, secretary; Cindy Chittick, treasurer. Sponsor: Mrs. Scheirer.

Preparatory Music Classes

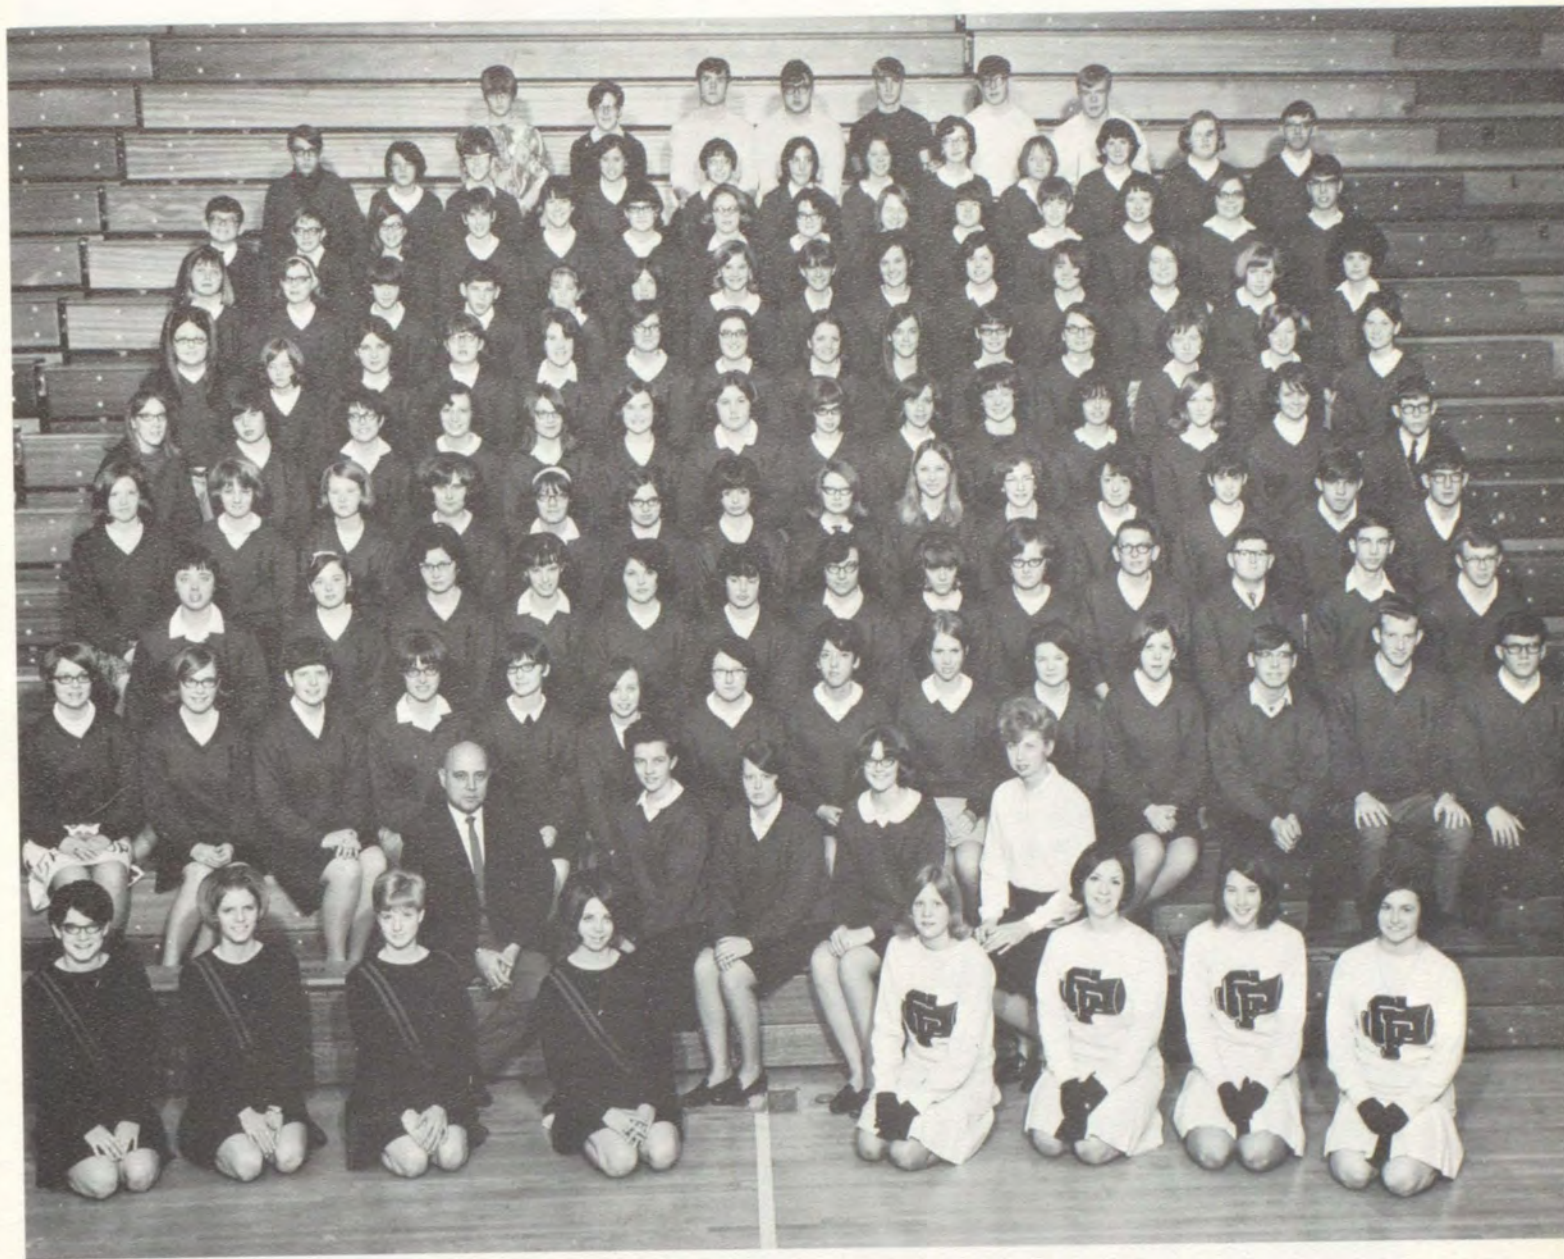

Boys' Glee Club prepares boys for high school choir.

Jr. High Band gives students experience with articulation, tone, and rhythm as a total group.

Pep Club projects spirit!

One hundred and forty-five members constitute the largest and most spirited Pep Club in the history of Clinton Prairie. Officers: Vickie Guffy, president; Debbie Krammes, secretary; Chylene Neal, Treasurer. Sponsors: Miss Hayden and Mr. Smith.

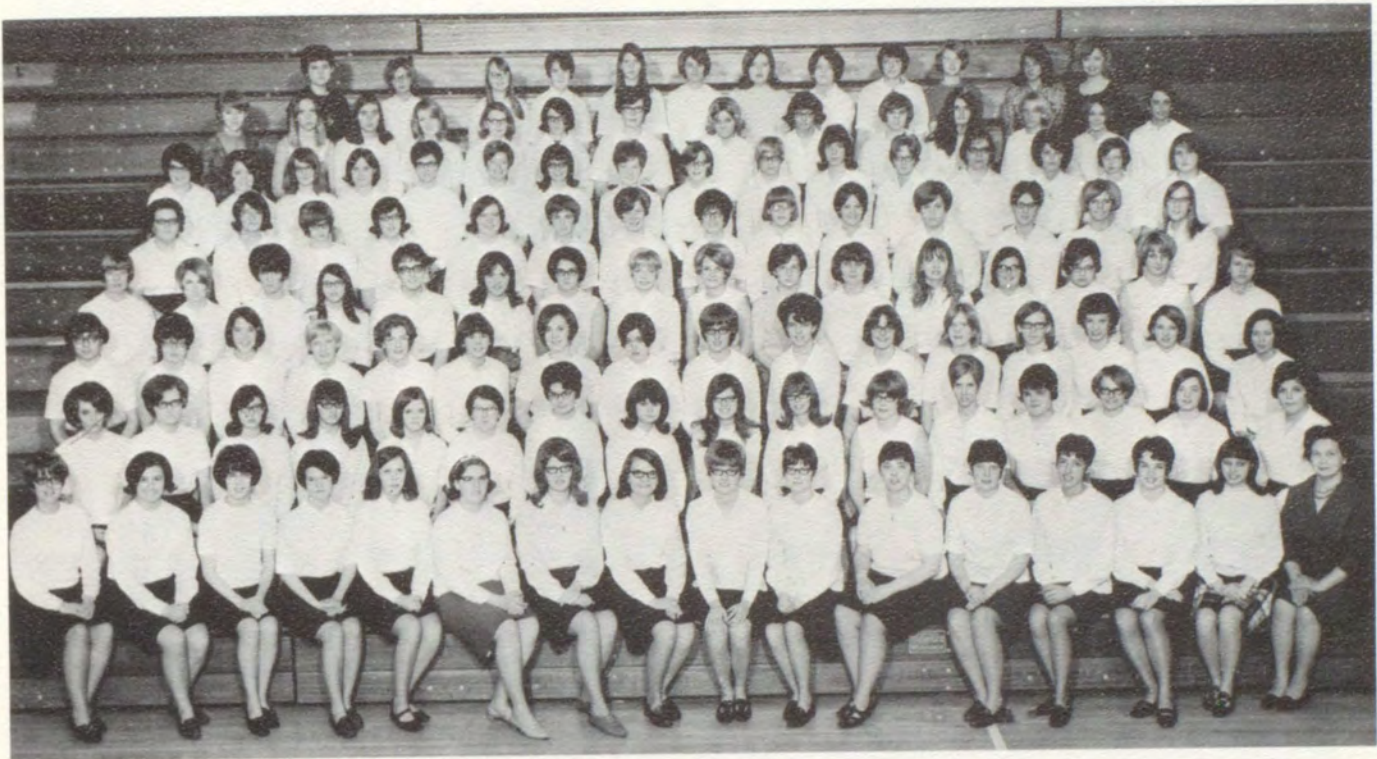

Latin Club held a slave auction to initiate its new members and enjoyed a nearly authentic Roman banquet. Officers: Mark Rains, Consul; Mike Svoboda, Vice Consul; Kathy Lane, secretary; Johanna Cook, treasurer. Sponsor: Miss Bell

Sunshine spreads cheer

Goodwill services and an Ideal Ladies' program throughout the year are the chief activities of the Sunshine Society. Officers: Cathy Webb, president; Susie Clendenning, vice president; Mary Ann Coridan, secretary; Ruth Hurst, treasurer. Sponsor: Mrs. Hollenbeck.

F.H.A.: Officers: Laura Essex, president; June Rogers and Sherrill Cohee, vice presidents; Janice Bradshaw, secretary; Ruth Pribie, treasurer; Mary Sheehan, reporter; Diane Boten, parliamentarian; Janet Cragun, historian; Barbara Neal, project chairman; Susie Lane, recreation. Sponsor: Mrs. Brown.

Letterman's Club: Letterman's Club is exclusively for those boys who have earned letters in one of the six sports. Officers: Ken Clendenning, president; Gordon Barnett, vice president; Mike Myers, secretary-treasurer; Greg Pollard, chaplain. Sponsor: Mr. Bradfield.

UP, UP, AND AWAY

Tulip Festival, Polynesian Island, Oriental Holiday, and a French street cafe depicted the theme of the 1968 Junior-Senior Prom, 'UP, UP, AND AWAY'. The flight was accompanied by the Warren Central Stage Band as couples danced their way around the world. In one evening, the students and faculty visited Holland, the South Seas, Japan, and France, and alighted back on earth at midnight.

Gopher's Den---Oh, when the Press comes marching in.....

VARIETY SHOW

The Variety Show, sponsored by the Speech department, was presented to the public on the twenty-second of March. The audience was entertained by twenty-two acts ranging from slapstick to dance routines.

Cook Twins---Country Corn Flakes, New Country.....

Kenny Doty---'Censored'

"The knife is a utensil merely used for-----."

"Just cool it, Dad, I'll get a job."

THE NITWITS

The Nitwits, the Speech class play, was filled with excitement as a make-shift psychiatrist's office turned into an absurd mad-house. Due to the individual acting of the cast, the insignificant plot of a college boy trying to earn some money becomes a hilarious scheme.

Principle characters were Tom Bie-secker, and Ken Doty along with the lunatics, Mary Harden, Denny Thomas, Larry Sharp, Sandy Berry, Mark Johnson, Dawn McCorkle, Ruth Hurst, and Bob Birge. Supporting roles were played by Beverly Rodgers, June Rogers, Barbara Rodgers, and Jim Holloway. The rest of the cast included Steve Davis, Bill Fultz, Doug Thomas, Pat Schmidt, Larry Heavilon, and Linda Bombei.

"I said ---- do you have these attacks often?"

"Uh huh, and you're Dr. Freud's protégé, too?"

Each played his role superbly under the admirable direction of Karen Green and Mr. Lowell Foote.

"I can't marry you now, my folks are out of town."

DAR AWARD

On the basis of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism, Gloria Ferguson received the DAR award at Clinton Prairie. Gloria competed with three other county girls in November by taking a test on world and national affairs and Indiana state history.

JR. MISS

L. to r.: Sandy Berry, June Rogers, Janet Yundt, Connie Kinsler, Kathy Lane.

BOYS'-GIRLS' STATE

Glenn Juday and Dianna Keller each attended a week of Hoosier Boy's State and Hoosier Girl's State at Indiana University. The delegates and the alternates, John Glick and Kathy Lane, were selected because of their interest in government.

Glenn and Dianna participated in model state and local government in action. They learned how campaigns, conventions, and elections are run by actually executing these functions.

Our staff had to meet many challenges during the year, but we had an editor who deserves immeasurable admiration.

Our theme has been "Faces." Its significance has been to convey that only through an individual's effort to maintain his own identity above a mediocre group can he excel. Only through excelling can one proudly face the future.
