A Small School...

The 470 students who attended Clinton Prairie Junior-Senior High School in 1989-90 came from several directions and spent the day at a school that is basically surrounded by cornfields and open countryside—definitely a rural setting. The school-age residents of Colfax, Mulberry, Jefferson, Antioch, Hamilton, Cyclone, Manson, and Fickle combine to make up the student body of CPHS, which is a decidedly small student body in comparison with nearby Frankfort High School, whose enrollment in grades 9-12 alone is around 870 students. While the students of CPHS may complain at times of boredom or of being stuck “out here in the middle of nowhere,” attending a small school definitely has its advantages. There is something for everyone who is willing to get involved here at Clinton Prairie.

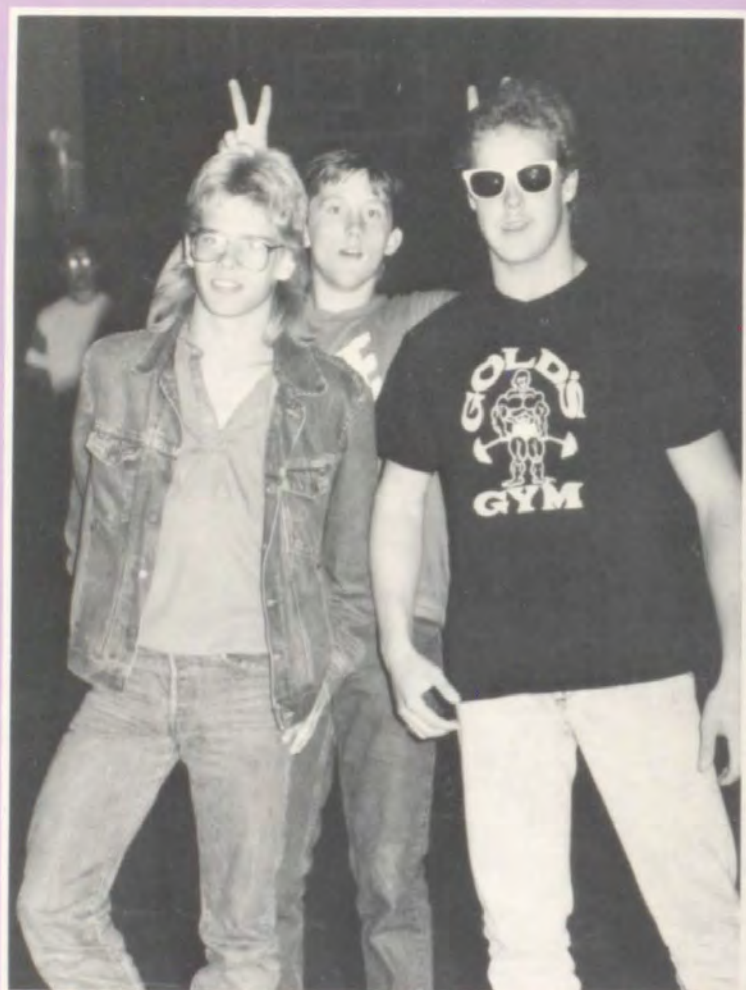

While at a big school a student may feel that he or she is “lost in the crowd,” the atmosphere at a small school is generally more comfortable.

What Is There To Do Around Here, Anyway?

Life at the Little School on the Prairie

It can be difficult to find things to do when one lives in a rural area as do the students at Prairie. So what is there to do around here? Even though CPHS is a small school, there are plenty of activities in which to participate. Many students take part in one of the nine or ten sports offered. Clinton Prairie students also have approximately twenty-five club activities from which to choose, and there are always other special activities going on, such as dances or parties. If all else fails, students can always spend time "hanging out" with friends at school.

have certain disadvantages for its residents, such as a lack of shopping and entertainment facilities, but many students choose to travel elsewhere: friends go to Frankfort or to Lafayette to eat, to go shopping, or to go to the movies. But most of the students who attend Clinton Prairie appreciate the advantages of the country setting. Said Michelle Perkins, an Antioch resident, "It's quieter and more relaxing in the country. There are no big buildings, and you usually know and trust your neighbors."

A rural area does

Small School Creates Familiarity

Another advantage of attending a small school like Clinton Prairie is that it is often easier to make friends with one's classmates. For instance, if a student is a member of a senior class containing a total of approximately 75 students, as were the seniors of 1990 at CPHS, he or she is much more likely to personally know his or her classmates than is a senior in a class of three or four hundred students. It can be a comforting thing to be able to greet one's classmates by name in the hallways.

Along with getting to know one's classmates better, it is also more likely that a student in a small school will get to know his or her classroom teachers better. Most teachers around Clinton Prairie know most of the students and can greet them by name, which can be a form of encouragement to the students.

An Intimate Atmosphere...

Many people look with amazement at the kinds of small communities that feed into the Clinton Prairie School Corporation. It's almost hard for some to believe that in this day and age it is still possible to feel safe enough to take a walk alone after dark or to leave the doors of the house unlocked. This feeling of security comes across at Clinton Prairie High School, too. Most students feel safe and secure in knowing their classmates, teachers, administrative staff, and support staff on a more personal level.

Special Events

Colleen Carter Crowned 1989 Homecoming Queen

The 1989 Homecoming activities started off with Hat and Shades, Do-rag, Pajama, and College Days. On Monday of Spirit Week the Student Council and the cheerleaders sponsored Fun Night for all high school students. They participated in events such as the egg toss, three-legged race, sack race, wheelbarrow, and obstacle course. The Juniors came in first place.

The 1989 Homecoming football game was held on October 6 against Westfield. Before the game the floats were judged by Mr. Bill Taylor, Mrs. Karon McColley, and Mrs. Sandy Thompson. During half time the Volleyball team's float came in first place with "Spike the Shamrocks"; second place went to the Juniors with "Real Men Wear Black." After the float contest, Colleen Carter was crowned the 1989 Homecoming Queen. She was escorted by Mark Lane. Colleen's court consisted of Jenni Oswalt escorted by Brent Eaton, Jenny Myers escorted by Matt Myers, Laura Neal escorted by Dean Johnson, and Kerry Rominger escorted by Tommy Doyle. The Junior class representative was Tammy Rominger escorted by Kelley Isenhower; the Sophomore class representative was Dusty Reece escorted by Jason Whitlock; and Freshman representative Danielle McGraw was escorted by Dusty King. The Prairie Gophers went on to be defeated by the Shamrocks 22-45. The Student Council sponsored a Homecoming Dance after the game. Entertainment was provided by Beat Frequency.

Mark Lane Wears Duke Crown In '89

JV, Varsity Win Both Games Against C.C.

The 1989 Duke of the Court ceremony was held Oct. 5 between the J.V. and Varsity games. After the J.V. win, The Duke of The Court candidates took the floor. The J.V. started off the night with a 15-1, 15-4 win over Clinton Central. The candidates and their escorts for the Senior class were: Mark Lane, escorted by Naomi McGraw; Steve Grace, escorted by Holly Williams; Matt Smith escorted by Paige Purcell; Mike McGraw, escorted by Julie Thompson; and Kent Scott, escorted by Jodi Brettnacher. The Junior class representative was Rodney Latshaw, escorted by Sossity Winger. The Sophomore class representative was Brant Orange, escorted by Dusty Reece. The Freshman class chose Jeff Brooke as its representative and he was escorted by Brittany Purcell. Mark Lane was then crowned the 1989 Duke of The Court. He received a sceptre and a Duke of the Court T-shirt. The rest of the seniors and underclassmen received a Duke of the Court T-shirt for their participation. C.P.'s Varsity volleyball team went on to win the game against Central while everyone stayed to cheer them on.

CPHS Drama Presents Rumbo!

Imagine a steamy, sweltering, bug-infested swamp crawling with snakes and roaches and creeping vermin. Sounds like paradise, right? Actually it was the scene of much of Clinton Prairie's 1989 fall play, RUMBO! The play followed the action of a mild-mannered perfume chemist, Albert Nerval, as he pursued a secret rescue mission for the U.S. military. Nerval took on the mission to escape the wrath of the infamous Dupree family, but little did he know the kinds of trouble that he and his trusty sidekick, Eugene Fowler, would run up against before finally ending their mission on a note of success.

Nearly twenty-five CP students took part in RUMBO! Under the direction of Sarah Sabens, Andy Kinsler, and Karen Witz, the cast and crew successfully entertained their audiences on Thursday and Friday, November 2 and 3.

Many High School Students Celebrate

The 1989 Christmas dance was sponsored by the Student Council on December 16th from 8-11 p.m. The theme was "Jingle Bell Hop," and instead of holding the dance in the multipurpose room, as was traditional, the student council decorated the cafeteria and held the dance there. The entertainment was provided by Andy Kinsler and Beat Frequency. Black paper decorated the ceiling, creating the effect of a starry night sky. The tables were decorated as presents and refreshments were provided. There was a better turn out than expected, and everyone enjoyed eating cookies, drinking punch, talking with friends, dancing, and generally having a fun night.

Revue 1990: Clinton Prairie Students

I really want to thank all the students who participated in this year's Revue. They did all the work. Everyone knew what they wanted their act to be and used every second of their practice time to make the Revue as enjoyable as it was. Everyone really made it easy for Mrs. Catt and I. Not that we didn't work, too! But thanks to everyone; I'll miss you!

CPHS Students Attend

Prom 1990 was held on the Madame Carroll in Monticello on May 5. The theme was "Midnight Masquerade". The boat was decorated with Red and Black masks, and several balloons were floating on the ceiling. The tables had red floating candles with black masks for the couples to take home. Music was provided by the Lennon Brothers. Cookies, punch, and sodas were supplied for snacks.

During the first break the Prom King and Queen were announced. The King was Cameron Potter, and the Queen was Stacy Joseph. Their court consisted of Seniors Holly Williams, Krista Martin, Kerry Rominger, Mike McGraw, Jon Pulley, and Matt Smith. Juniors Sossity Winger and Jamey Maish were crowned Princess and Prince. Making up their court were Tammy Rominger, Chris Timmons, Carmen McGraw, Ian Smith, Kelly Isenhower, and Justin Winger. The Royal Court danced to "Tender Years" and were joined shortly after by the other couples. Later on in the evening, the garter exchange took place, with the girls in a circle with their dates behind them.

King Cameron Potter and Queen Stacy Joseph have their dance.

A "Midnight Masquerade" on the Madame Carroll

The boat docked at 11:00 P.M.; then the couples left for Post Prom at the YMCA in Lafayette. The theme for the post prom was "American Bandstand." There was a DJ and many Senior parents attending also. Activities included: Dart throw, Twister, ring toss, lip sync, raquetball, frisbee throw, spin around the bat, and swimming. The refreshments served were: pizza, vegetables, chips, pop, and various desserts. The fun night ended with several people receiving door prizes and gifts.

Class Of 1990 Bids Farewell To CPHS

Gathering for probably the last time as an entire group, the senior class of 1990 went through graduation ceremonies on Saturday, May 26, 1990, in the CPHS gymnasium. Highlighting the day were the speeches of Valedictorian and Salutatorian Jenny Myers and Naomi McGraw, as well as an address from last-minute substitute Mr. Jim Eldridge, who was asked to speak to the class when previously — scheduled speaker Paul Lombardo had to cancel. Several songs were presented by the CPHS Concert Choir and Prairie Singers, and the band also performed for the graduation ceremonies. After presentation of the class of 1990 by Principal Charles Fink, new superintendent Mr. John Coopman accepted the class, followed by Mr. David Larsh's presentation of diplomas to the new graduates. Senior class president Mark Lane led his classmates in the tassel ceremony, and the newest graduates of CPHS were on their way, amid congratulations from friends, family, and teachers.

CPHS Honor Students Receive Recognition

May 23, 1990, was the date for Clinton Prairie's High School Honor Day, which began with the band's rendition of "Pomp and Circumstance." Next were Student Council awards, including the Citizenship Award presentation to senior Laura Neal. A number of awards were presented by various community groups. Among the awards were the following: Psi Iota Xi Outstanding Junior Girl Award to Jennifer Richardson; IHEA Outstanding Home Ec Student to Colleen Carter; 4-H Foundation Scholarship to

Tracie Goodnight; Optimist Club Scholarship to Craig Beaver; and the Angie Larsh Memorial Scholarship to Colleen Carter. Many classroom awards were also presented, including: Outstanding Artist Awards to Andy Kinsler, Colleen Carter, and Taija Laitinen; Spanish Excellence Awards to Danielle McGraw, Brian Clark, Carmen McGraw, Kelly Smith, and Naomi McGraw; English award to Naomi McGraw; Outstanding Journalist Award to Laura Neal; Outstanding Choral Student Awards to Jennifer

Rose and Jennifer Hawkins; Outstanding Band Students Awards to Karen Witz and Brian Clark; award for Outstanding Student in Biology to Dama Williams and in Chemistry to Jenny Myers; awards to Outstanding Senior Social Studies Students Mark Lane and Naomi McGraw; High School Math Award to Jenny Myers; an award for Mark Coffman as the Outstanding Industrial Arts Student; and Outstanding Accounting Student Award to Mark Lane. Several students were presented with attendance awards, including award for eight years of perfect attendance to Shawn Cole and Mike Rominger and an award to Jennifer Gammon for an unbelievable twelve years of perfect attendance. Many other Clinton Prairie students were also recognized for the various academic awards, scholarships, nominations, and other honors which they had received. It was a proud day for students, parents, teachers, and the administration at Clinton Prairie.

The seniors practiced for commencement right before Honor Day.

Mr. Fink recognizes Kellie Fink and Andy Kinsler for academic awards.

Megan Myers receives her editor award from Mr. Compton.

Kent Scott and Matt Myers attend their last CPHS Honor Day.

“Ya Gotta Have Friends”

Seniors know that friends are an essential part of school life, and by the last year of high school, most of the seniors had built up a pretty faithful network of good friends. Senior friends were together through thick and through thin, helping one another deal with problems, giving moral support, and just plain having fun.

After all, who wants to go out alone looking for something to do in rural Clinton County? Through the years, members of the class of 1990 got together for parties, school events, wienie roasts, and just "cruising the strip." The challenge now is for the graduates to stay in touch with those friends.

Seniors Of 1990 Are Experts

By the time the average student makes it to his or her senior year of high school, that student has probably been dating for at least 2 or 3 years. In the process of going on several dates with a member of the opposite sex, one is bound to learn some of the tricks of the trade, so to speak, and this can be helpful. With experience comes knowledge about such things as which types of people to go out with, what kinds of places to go and things to do on a date, how to make interesting conversation, and many other such things. A survey of Clinton Prairie seniors of 1990 revealed that these students do, indeed, feel that dating changes as one gets older. Most students indicated that they were allowed to stay out later on dates by their senior year, and most also said that they were allowed more freedom with their parents' cars.

When It Comes To Dating

When asked, "What do you look for in finding someone to date?", the CP seniors of '90 showed that there were more important things than just looks when it came to finding a date. Senior Steve Crace said that he looked for a girl who "loved to have fun." Jenny Myers required several things of her dates: "My ideal man should be very honest, respect his date, be active and athletic, as well as have good looks, and some money isn't bad either." While most of the seniors conceded that looks are one consideration, they agreed that there are many other factors to take into account. A good date, according to many of the seniors, was someone who had a sense of humor, was fun to be with, could be trusted, had a generally good personality, and was comfortable to be with. It seems that many of the seniors had come a long way from the earlier days when one found a boyfriend or girlfriend simply by picking someone who was "cute."

Seniors Remember And Reflect

According to a survey, the Clinton Prairie seniors of 1990 will best remember the times they participated in activities as a united class. Many of the class members mentioned such things as doing a class act in the Revue, taking part in Homecoming games, and going to parties where the whole class was invited. Along those same lines, the seniors of 1990 warned the underclassmen against dividing that unity and against forming cliques. Such dangers, said the seniors, take away from the enjoyment of spending time with different people and making a larger number of friends.

When asked what one piece of advice they would give to the freshmen, the seniors overwhelmingly said, "Take school seriously, and don't wait until your senior year to start thinking about your future. Work hard and make sure that you have enough credits to graduate, and, above all else, stay in school." It seems that with age does come wisdom.

Class Of 1991

The Juniors had a busy year in 1989-90, knowing that in the spring they would be hosting the Junior-Senior Prom. In preparation for the Prom, and also to raise money for their own 1991 graduation, the Juniors sold candy bars. Junior Kelley Isenhower went above and beyond the call of duty, selling an unbelievable $1030 worth of candy bars.

As the school year came to an end, the Class of 1991 saw its chance to become the new group of seniors at CPHS. Important matters like taking the SAT, filling out college applications, and just generally making decisions about the future couldn't be put off any longer.

The Sophomores finished off their second year of high school at Clinton Prairie in 1990. Representing the class throughout the year in Student Council were Jennifer Hawkins, Gina Lock, Mandy Thompson, and Justin Zipperian.

As the Sophomores ended the year, there were many important matters to consider. Getting closer to the end of their high school careers, the class had to begin seriously considering colleges and careers. Grades became more important, and added responsibilities were appearing. Many of the Sophomores either got their driver's licenses or could look forward to having them soon.

Class Of 1993

The Freshmen, moving up to the high school from the junior high, finally had the opportunity to choose more of their own classes. In doing so, they began to think more seriously about what careers they might want to pursue after high school and chose the appropriate classes for their tentative goals.

On a lighter note, the freshmen also made the adjustment of being in the calmer, cooler high school hallways after spending two years in the wilds of the junior high hallway. Most of the freshmen made the change to high school successfully and began looking to the time when they would become upperclassmen at Clinton Prairie High School.

Foreign Exchange Students Bring

As in the past, Clinton Prairie had several foreign countries represented in its school population, this time with four foreign exchange students who were here for the entire 1989-90 school year.

Cess Almazora came to CPHS from Makati, Metro Manila, in the Philippines. He lived with the Zeis family. Cess mentioned several things about the United States that he liked, such as sports, pizza, and hamburgers. Of course, Cess missed his family and friends back in the Philippines, and he had a little trouble adjusting to our cold winter weather.

Taija plays volleyball for Prairie.

The fall play was one of Chris's activities.

Different Cultures To CPHS

Cameron fools around with some tunes.

From Finland came exchange student Tia Laitinen, who spent the year with the Stokem family. Tia's favorite things about the U.S. were the bigger homes, the bigger rooms, and the movies. A big adjustment for Tia was getting used to her new, all-female family, since she missed her own family back in Finland. While most of CPHS's students think of Prairie as a small school, it was fairly large to Tia, whose Finnish school had a total of only two hundred students. Her class contained only twenty-two students in Finland.

Christine Lipp spent a relatively peaceful year at Clinton Prairie, having come from Hamburg, West Germany — a part of the world where big things were going on in 1989-90. Chris stayed with the Rose family and, like most American teenagers, she quickly became quite fond of pizza and breadsticks. Chris found it rather difficult to adjust to the quiet of living in a rural setting, since she was used to living in a big city where there is always something going on.

Coming from Ocean Grove, Victoria, Australia, was Cameron Potter, who lived with the Shaw family. Ironically, Cameron developed quite a liking for Mexican food while in the U.S. He also said that he liked American cars, clothes, music, sports, and girls! His biggest adjustment to life in the U.S. was living in the cold winter climate. Cameron attended a larger school in Australia, with about 1500 students in the school.

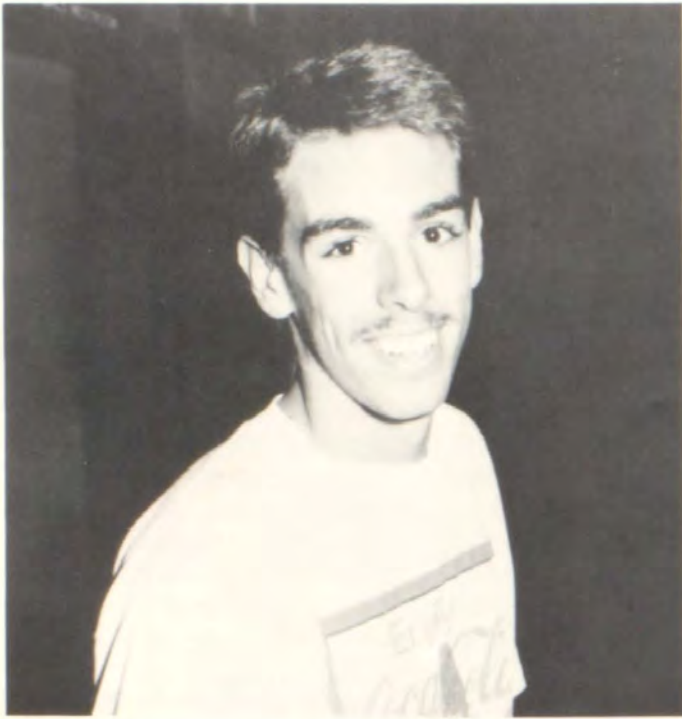

Cess spends time with a friend, Gene Johnson.

Chris and Taija become friends in America.

Disappointing Season For Varsity Football

Outlook For 1990 Is Brighter

Jamey Maish settles and awaits the arrival of the ball carrier.

The season for the 1989 CPHS varsity football team was a disappointment in many respects. However, though the team ended with a record of 1-8, the Gophers finished with much needed experience.

The coach, Dan Hilgediek, stated, "Due to the lack of numbers in upper-classmen, we were forced to play a lot of younger players. These players gained experience and will be the nucleus of future teams."

Although the team was not recognized as outstanding, a few individuals were. Alex Dobson was All-County and All-Conference, along with Jamey Maish. Mike McGraw and Justin Winger were voted All-Conference, and James Wells and Kenny Garrett were voted All-County. Alex Dobson also broke the record for a single game in total receiving yardage. He had 177 yards against a strong Western Boone team.

Through the experience gained in 1989, the outlook for 1990 was brighter.

The junior varsy football team had a better season, with a record of 2-3.

Coach Boes said, "This team had never won a ball game during 5th, 6th, 7th, or 8th grade, and I think they have enough talent to be a future winning varsity team."

The team had an outstanding game against Tri-West. They had 320 yards rushing, which is a possible record.

Varsity Volleyball Team Goes 28-8

J.V. Team Goes Undefeated

The 1989 season for Clinton Prairie's varsity volleyball team saw the beginning of a new tradition. The Pizza Hut Classic was held in September, with several highly-ranked Indiana teams competing. The Gophers made a good showing at their own tournament, finishing in second place behind Providence.

The Varsity team also finished another season with a winning record, ending with a mark of 28-8. The girls also came out on top of the new Hoosier Heartland Conference. Along with an outstanding team, several individuals performed quite well. Stacy Joseph, Lorra Lenahan, and Anne Swackhammer were selected for the All-Conference Team, with Colleen Carter making Honorable Mention for the team. During the awards banquet, several other awards were presented: Top Setter and Top Server went to Stacy Joseph; Top Blocker and Hitter went to Anne Swackhammer; the Defense award went to Missy McGraw; and the Mental Attitude award was shared by Colleen Carter and Lorra Lenahan. There were also some new records set for the season. Missy McGraw set the passing record with 144 off of serve reception. The digging record was set by Lorra Lenahan with 179. Other records broken included most assists in a single match, which was set by Stacy Joseph with 33. Anne Swackhamer tied Kim Short's old record for most kills in a single match with 15.

Coach Connie Garrett felt that this was probably the most improved team, from the beginning of the season to the end, that she had coached. "It was also a special team to coach because the girls worked so hard. They were a very coachable group," stated Garrett.

The 1989 junior varsity volleyball team had an outstanding season. The team finished the season with a mark of 21-0 and also won their JV tourney at Lafayette Jeff. Leading the junior varsity team were sophomore Jennifer Hawkins, who received the Most Valuable Player award, and freshman Sarah Oesterling, who was named the Outstanding Setter on the team. Said Coach Susan Oesterling, "This was a great team to coach as a first-time coach."

Cross Country Team Goes To Semi-state

Gene Johnson prepares to run.

The varsity cross country team had an exceptional 1989 season, finishing up with a 9-1 record. The team won the first ever Hoosier Heartland Conference meet and finished third in sectional competition and second in the regional, which allowed the team to go on to compete at semi-state. This was the first cross country team to go to the semi-state in three years.

Senior runner Dean Johnson was the captain of the 1989 team and was also named Most Valuable Player. He made the all-conference team, the all-sectional team, and the all-county team. Gene Johnson was another outstanding team member, making all-conference, all county, and all-sectional for the second straight year. Treney Zurfas was also honored as a member of the all-county teams. The Most Dedicated award went to Jason Whitlock, while Mike Travis received the Most Improved award. Colin McCarthy played a strong role in helping the team get to the semi-state.

The only female runner on the 1989 team was Deanna Greer, who had quite a successful year. She made the all-conference and all-sectional teams, and was also the county champion in her competition. She won the Central. Deanna finished in 20th place out of 110 girls at semi-state.

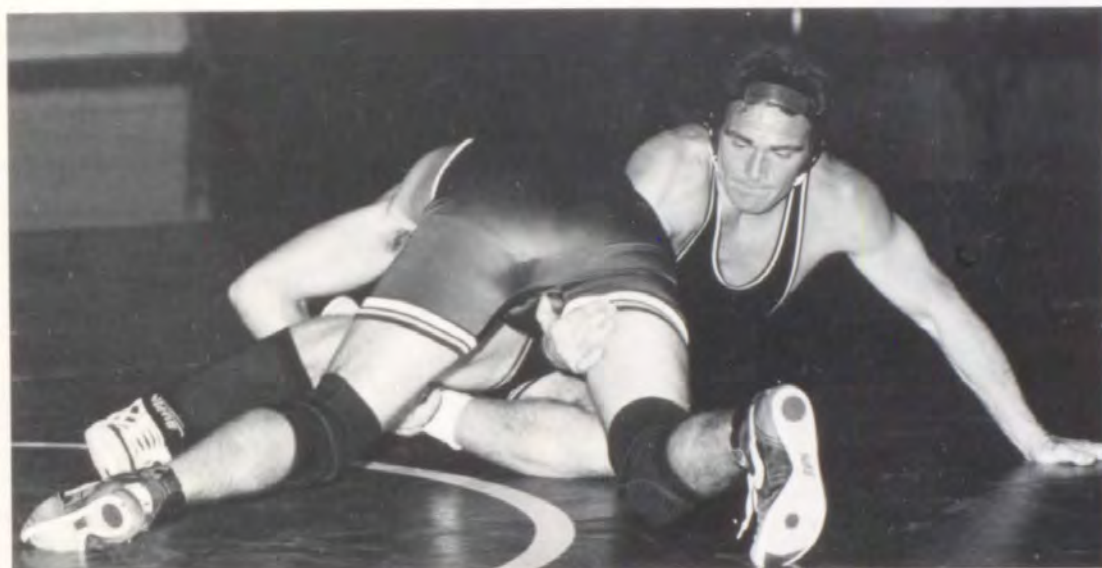

Coach Bob Smith was very proud of his 1989 team and expects great things from the 1990 team. He stated that the team had a goal at the beginning of the year to reach the semi-state, but by placing second at regional, the team surpassed the earlier goals.

Individuals Pin The Competition

A team's record doesn't always show the individual effort put into the season. Even though the Prairie wrestling team had a 5-21 season, some members of the team had outstanding performances. Steve Crace finished with a 33-9 season. He was Semi-State qualifier, Blind School Invitational champion for four years, Trojan Super Duals champ, and Prairie Invitational champ. Steve also holds two records: second most wins and third most pins in Prairie history. James Wells finished his season with a 30-11 record. He was Prairie Invitational champion at the 152 pound weight level, Sectional champion, Regional finalist, and had most pins on the team. Rod Lone finished his season with a 28-13 record. He was Conference champion for the 176 pound weight level, Sectional runner-up, and Semi-State qualifier. Coach Terry Boes commented, "The team improved much faster during the course of the season than I expected. The seniors led by example of their hard work."

Senior Players Lead The Way

According to Coach Connie Garrett, 1990 seniors Jesse Morrison, Stacy Joseph, and Lorra Lenehan were leaders in paving the way to a stronger girls' basketball program at CPHS. "Due to both their dedication and hard work, they led their team to a successful season," commented Coach Garrett.

The girls' team finished their season with a 12-6 record, ending 2-1 in the conference. Missy McGraw and Jesse Morrison set a new assist mark with 71. The 1989-90 team set a team record also, averaging the most points per game at 57.7. Anne Swackhamer and Jesse Morrison made first All-Conference; Stacy Joseph and Missy McGraw were honorable mention. Morrison also made the Times All-County first team, with Swackhamer receiving honorable mention. This was the best season for the CP girls since the sectional championship team in 1979. "The willingness to work hard and play as a team were the key characteristics of this team," said Coach Garrett.

The J.V. girls finished their season with an 11-6 record and were 2-1 in the conference. Missy Meece led the team in three-pointers with five in a single game and totaled twenty-two for the season. Sarah Oesterling and Suzy Martin were other leaders in scoring and rebounding. The girls gained valuable experience, due in part to the small numbers and the loss of some players to the varsity team. "The whole group will be fun to watch as they develop as basketball players," stated Coach Dan Hilgediek.

CPHS Basketball Teams Accomplish Much

The 1989-90 boys' basketball team had an interesting season. Many of the players had to adjust to new playing roles due to the numerous injuries that plagued the team.

Senior Matt Smith broke two 3-point field goal records: he shot 43%, which breaks the old record of 42%; Matt also holds the new career record for three pointers with 39%.

Senior Tom Doyle was the leading scorer with 19.6 points per game and led in rebounding with 8.5 per game. Doyle also was honored as a member of the All-Conference team.

Jason Padgett was honorable mention to the All-Conference team and shot the leading field goal percentage with 64%. Jason also led in steals with three per game.

Jamey Maish led in assists with 4.8 per game; Treny Zurfas was the leading free throw shooter with 88%; and Mark Lane was the outstanding defensive player.

Coach Bob Blaydes stated, "After a slow start and numerous setbacks, the team finished with a strong second half, winning 9 of our last 13 games."

CP's 1989-90 freshman basketball team accomplished some admirable feats during its season. For the first time in the school's history, the team won both the Clinton Prairie tourney and the North Montgomery tourney. Team members also worked well together, with no one player dominating the group and with no player averaging more than two turnovers per game. Trevor Fultz ended with the highest point average; Matt Wien was the leading 3-point shooter; Jeff Brooke led in assists; Chris Neal headed the rebound category; Jerrad Blacker chalked up the most steals; and Mark Wien had the fewest turnovers. Coach Bill

Taylor was very pleased with his team, which ended the season with a 12-4 record. He commented, "This team was the hardest working group I've seen. They worked as a team and were unselfish. It was a fun season."

The 1989-90 junior varsity basketball team had an up and down season. The team, which was coached by Kris Jones, started the first half of the season with a 3-7 record. The Gophers regrouped and turned the second half of the season around with a 7-3 record. Prairie ended the season with a 10-10 record.

Young Team Has Successful Season

The CPHS varsity baseball team finished its regular season with a 10-13 record and a 2-4 conference record. One record was broken during the course of the season: the team scored the most runs in a single game with 23 against Western Boone. Three players — Kenny Garrett, Kelley Isenhower, and Ryan Roberts — were elected to the all-conference and all-county teams. The highlight of the season was the team's win over Lafayette Jeff in the first round of the sectional in May. Said Coach Dan Hilgediek, "This year's team was very young and inexperienced, but we learned a lot about ourselves. As a result, I feel this team has been very successful."

Ryan Roberts waits for the pitch.

Scoring for the Gophers is Ty Swan.

Jamey Maish takes a break on second.

JV Team Goes Beyond Expectations

Ending their regular season at a 5-3 mark, the members of CP's junior varsity baseball team went beyond their own expectations and surprised even themselves with their success. According to Coach Kevin McCray, the team worked very hard and meshed well together, thus creating a total team experience. With several young and talented ballplayers on the team, it looked as though there would be many promising players for future varsity teams at Clinton Prairie.

Girls' Track Season Ends at 13-4

According to Coach Kris Jones, the CPHS girls' track team finished with a fantastic season in 1990. "The girls worked very hard, and their success was a reflection of their hard work," said Coach Jones. The team ended the season with a conference record of 3-0 and an overall record of 13-4. They were both county and conference champs. While all members of the team were outstanding, three girls stood out from the crowd. Senior Deanna Greer and freshmen Lauri Grimes and Keisha Smith all placed high enough in their events at Sectional to go on to Regional competition. Each of the three also earned over 100 points during the track season.

Jennifer Richardson soars to clear the bar.

Jennifer Hawkins and Mandy Thompson show their team spirit.

Boys' Track Ends With Winning Season

The CPHS boys's track team ended its regular season in 1990 with a record of 7 wins and 3 losses and with a conference record of 2 wins and 1 loss. According to Coach John Vandewalle, some of the outstanding team members were Dean Johnson, Gene Johnson, Jason Ubelhor, and Kreig Zeis. Dean Johnson broke the record for the 800 meter run with a time of 1:58.7. Said Coach Vandewalle, "This was a very good year for us. All of the team members contributed to a winning season."

Members of the boys' team were, front row, l. to r. — J. Ubelhor, J. Whitlock, D. Friedrich, D. Galvin, W. Brewer, M. Travis, R. Lone, J. Brooke, J. Zipperian; Row 2 — Coach Vandewalle, N. Rudd, K. Zeis, T. Zurfas, D. Johnson, I. Smith, G. Johnson, C. McCarthy, T. Rose.

Softball Team Works Together For Success

Winning more games than any previous CP softball team, the 1990 team ended its regular season with an 8-7 record, also reigning as co-champs of the conference. Coach Chris Duzenbery was pleased to have five team members named to the All-Conference team: Stacy Joseph, Jesse Morrison, Lorra Lenehan, Jenny Travis, and Missy McGraw. The Most Valuable Player award went to Jesse Morrison, while Lorra Lenehan received the award as the Most Dedicated Player. Best Mental Attitude awards went to Stacy Joseph and Lissa Lenehan, and Taija Laitinen and Jenny Loy were named the Most Improved Players. Coach Duzenbery saw much improvement in the girls during the season. She stated, "They worked together as a team and were successful as a result."

Despite a losing record of 2-12, Clinton Prairie first-year golf coach Steve Math felt that his golfers did have a successful season in 1990: "We showed constant improvement." Prairie's two wins came against Caston and Tri-Central. In addition, there was another bright spot in the season with the consistently good play of senior Kent Scott, who placed second in both the conference and county meets. The team had to put in overtime duty, as the sectional did not begin until the first week of June.

Concentrating, Kent Scott prepares to tee off.

Cheerleaders Stir Up School Spirit,

Clinton Prairie's freshman, junior varsity, and varsity cheerleaders put in another busy year of supporting CP sports. Under the leadership of a new sponsor, Mrs. LeAnne Morris, the girls stirred up spirit among Prairie fans.

The varsity cheerleaders were led by Captain Jenni Oswalt. These girls set an example and helped the other squads, all of whom practiced two days a week after school. New cheerleaders were added after the football season, and all of the girls were required to help with a fundraiser. They sold M and M's in order to buy three new cheerleading uniforms.

Help To Encourage Prairie Gopher Pride

HIGH SCHOOL AIDES

Once again, the high school teacher aides saved a lot of time for those teachers who chose to take advantage of student helpers. The aides did such jobs as grading papers, taking attendance, running errands, covering bulletin boards, or typing for the teachers. These were jobs that were not necessarily difficult, but they were very time-consuming. Since most teachers are short on time, they were very pleased with the jobs done by their student aides.

ELEMENTARY AIDES

Like the high school aides, the elementary teachers' aides performed many tasks in order to save some time for various teachers. Grading papers, running errands, covering bulletin boards, and even working with small groups of elementary students were some of the jobs performed by the elementary aides. These students opted to give their time to teachers willing to use them rather than going to study hall. As with all student aides, they received no credit hours for the work they performed, but most enjoyed working with the elementary teachers.

OFFICE AIDES

Being an office aide isn't as easy as many students think it is. Some of the jobs that come along with working in Clinton Prairie's front office include: taking phone messages; checking students in and out of school; delivering balloons, flowers, and other items; and running various errands around the school. According to Mrs. Nikki Stillings, CP's school secretary, being an office aide requires a great deal of responsibility from a student, as the aides often are entrusted with important information or tasks to perform.

LIBRARY AIDES

The High School media aides made life a little easier for media specialist Carol Travis and her assistant Fran Reagan. These five students gave up their study halls in order to help in the media center with such jobs as keeping the center clean, checking books in and out for the students, and delivering overdue notices. Their help was greatly appreciated by Mrs. Travis and Mrs. Reagan.

SPEECH TEAM

The Clinton Prairie Speech Team, which has been growing in numbers over the last few years, also increased the number of categories in which the students competed during the 1989-90 season. The team competed in sixteen tournaments during the year. Club sponsor Lee Moyer was pleased with the interest shown in the Speech Team. Its members not only displayed their speaking abilities; they also made some new friends. Said James Wells, "You can meet some very interesting people at a speech meet."

FFA

The Clinton Prairie FFA, sponsored by Mr. Bill Fox and Mr. Gordon Logan, was busy as usual during the 1989-90 school year. Officers for the year included: President Scott Smith; Vice President Ed Timmons; Secretary Jenny Myers; Treasurer Julie Thompson; Reporter Jeff Blacker; and Sentinel Scott Kimmel. Some of the many activities the FFA participated in or sponsored were the District Leadership Contest, held here at Prairie, the Tractor Troubleshooting Contest, and the Livestock Judging contest.

CPHS's Prairie Singers perform pop/rock music. The group does many shows, both here at school and in the community. Under the direction of Music Director Patti Catt, the 1989-90 school year was once again a busy one for the Prairie Singers. From performing several Christmas programs to preparing for their act in the 1990 Revue, the twenty-four members of the Prairie Singers stayed busy throughout the year.

PRAIRIETTES

The girls who were CPHS's Prairiettes during the 1989-90 school year dealt with some change in the fall when sponsor Mrs. Patti Catt, a mother-to-be, turned the sponsorship of the girls over to Mrs. Lee Ann Morris. During the football season, the Prairiettes performed with the marching band. The girls likewise provided halftime entertainment at Prairie's varsity basketball games. Senior Prairiette Captain Jenni Oswalt choreographed the dance steps for the group's performance in the 1990 Revue.

ACE TEAM

Clinton Prairie's high school Academic Competition for Excellence (ACE) team competed in two major events during the 1989-90 school year: the Spell Bowl in the fall and the Quiz Bowl in the spring. The high school team members did a respectable job in going up against other large schools in the Spell Bowl, and team members also researched the Greek influence on our modern world in order to prepare for the Quiz Bowl. Sponsors for the team were Sandy Thompson and Charlotte Bailey.

SCIENCE CLUB

Clinton Prairie's Science Club busied themselves once again with many activities. The club, which seeks to stimulate interest in the study of science, collected cans for an ongoing recycling project in order to promote environmental awareness and conservation in both the school and the community. The club likewise sponsored the annual Science Fair, as well as hosting the third annual Duke of the Court ceremony during the volleyball season and sponsoring a high school dance. Science Club officers for the year were: President Andy Kinsler; Vice President Mike Travis; Secretary Craig Beaver; and Treasurer Kellie Fink.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Clinton Prairie's Student Council officers for the 1989-90 school year were: President Jenny Myers; Vice President Andy Kinsler; Secretary Colleen Carter; and Treasurer Missy McGraw. During the year the Council performed some of its regular jobs, such as working concessions at ballgames, donating to the SHARE program, and holding a raffle. In addition the Student Council sponsored the 1989 Christmas Dance. The group's sponsor was Mr. Doug Segraves. CP's Student Council worked hard to meet the needs of the student body.

FCA

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, sponsored by Mr. Bill Taylor, finished its second year at CPHS in 1990. The club sponsored a dance and a food drive for the needy and also sold concessions during spring sports. Officers for the FCA were President Kellie Fink and Vice President Laura Neal. According to Mr. Taylor, the group is here to sponsor the spiritual needs of the students, to show everyone that none of us are perfect. Said Taylor, "FCA isn't an exclusive group of people, it's here for everyone."

Row 1 L-R J. Gammon, S. Grice, L. Lenehan, L. Lenehan, A. Swackhamer, C. Stevens, J. Loy, C. Carpenter; Row 2 R. Latshaw, M. Treece, K. Hudson, L. Neal, D. Reece, A. Neal, M. Meece, M. Prater, K. ## FHA

1990 was a busy year for the Future Homemakers of America at Clinton Prairie. The group started it all off with babysitting for the Elementary PTO. In addition the FHA sold carnations for Valentines Day, had a pizza party, went to Union Station, and attended the county-wide Fiesta Party at Clinton Central. Officers for the 1989-90 FHA were: President — Paige Purcell; Vice President — Jenny Loy; Secretary — Julie Pelfree; and Treasurer — Brandi Cole.

Row 1 (L to R): M. Harmon, J. Watkins, J. Pelfree, J. Loy, P. Purcell, B. Cole, C. Loveless, C. Loveless; Row 2: Mrs. Rogers, K. Galvin, C. Carpenter, L. Tate, L. Shepard, M. Zipperian, A. ## LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The Lettermen's Club took a new turn during the 1989-90 school year and decided to let female athletes into the club. Over the year the club worked concession stands at the games to raise money for their trips. They took trips to a professional hockey game and to King's Island. The officers for the year were: President — Mike McGraw; Vice-President — Mark Lane; Secretary — Matt Smith; and Treasurer — James Wells.

Row 1 (L to R): S. Winger, K. Martin, L. Lenehan; Row 2: C. Carter, S. Joseph, A. Swackhamer, J. Morrison, M. Myers, J. Myers, J. Robbins, G. Lock, C. Shepard, P. Purcell, M. Thompson, J. Hawkins, K. ## HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The 1989-90 Clinton Prairie High School band had a very busy year. Under the direction of Mrs. Donna Wicker, the band performed during halftime shows, took part in parades, and played at concerts. Drum Majorette Karen Witz led the band through several contests, also. The CPHS band finished second runner up at a state contest, while receiving a second place rating at the district contest, which was held at Lewis Cass High School.

HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR

As usual, Clinton Prairie's high school choir performed many times during the school year, both competing in contests and simply entertaining. The choir members went to the Clinton House and also to Union Station to perform during the Christmas season. During the months of February and March the choir worked on its act for the 1990 Revue; the act was entitled, "British Invasion." In the spring the choir participated in the ISSMA organizational contest in Frankfort. To wind up the year, the choir performed at the graduation of the class of 1990. Mrs. Patti Catt directed CP's choir.

PEP CLUB

The 1989-90 CPHS Pep Club did its best to boost school spirit and to support Clinton Prairie athletes, primarily the boys' basketball team. The Pep Club did not have any officers, so the varsity cheerleaders were in charge of keeping everyone together and pumped-up with spirit. Members of the club sat together in a block to support the varsity boys during the basketball sectional. Mrs. LeAnne Morris was the new sponsor of CP's Pep Club during the 1989-90 season.

Row 1 (L to R): B. Segal, K. Butler, A. Hurt, S. Grice, K. Fink, G. Johnson, L. Lenehan, M. Myers; Row 2: C. Kinsler, J. Marion, K. Fink, A. Chestnut, M. Nehrig, K. Rominger, J. Oswald, S. Myers, C. ## NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society, sponsored by Leslie Robison was involved in many different activities throughout the 1989-90 school year. New members went through an induction ceremony and were also honored with a banquet. In addition all NHS members took part in fund-raising activities, such as sponsoring dances and selling concessions. The club also donated to SHARE to help the needy. To wind up the year on a fun note, the National Honor Society took a trip to Chicago in April.

Row 1 (L to R): M. Travis, A. Kinsler, K. Cook, J. Myers, M. Myers, N. McGraw, K. Fink; Row 2: C. Stevens, J. Marshall, J. Richardson, T. Rominger, M. McGraw, K. Isenhower, J. Gregory, C. McGraw.

YEARBOOK STAFF

The 1990 Emerald staff was one of the smallest in several years. With only five staff members, there were extra copy and layout assignments for everyone so that deadlines could be met. Serving as Editor of the 1990 staff was Senior Michelle Perkins, and the Advisor was Mrs. Sarah Sabens. With the help of an occasional Coke or pizza, the yearbook staff worked hard to produce a good book for the students.

JOURNALISM TEAM

The 1989-90 Journalism Team at Clinton Prairie, under the guidance of Marcia Hudson, put in a lot of time to publish several editions of CP's Gopher Den. Selling advertisements, writing copy, taking photographs, and coming to Sunday paste-up sessions were all part of the job for the journalism students. Senior Megan Myers was the 1989-90 Editor-in-chief of The Den, and she was responsible for seeing that everything got finished on time. Teamwork was an essential part of the Den staff's effort to keep CP students informed and up to date.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The Clinton Prairie Industrial Arts Club was formed to give its members a variety of new experiences which relate to their Industrial Arts courses. The club took many trips during the year, including those to the Indy 500 time trials, the super pull, and the World of Wheels car show. The sponsor was Mr. Al Hintzman, and the 1989-90 officers were President Matt Myers and Secretary/Treasurer Bobby French.

Academics

Ag Classes Are Varied And Busy

The CPHS agriculture classes, taught by Mr. Bill Fox and Mr. Gordon Logan, were involved in many learning activities during the 1989-90 school year. Student teacher Mr. Ed Shelton also assisted Mr. Fox and Mr. Logan in their teaching.

Field trips were taken by many of the agriculture students. Some of the places visited included: the Farm Progress Show, Churchill Downs, the Louisville Farm Machinery Show, Frankfort area greenhouse businesses, and area agricultural businesses.

In the classroom the students also participated in a wide variety of activities. The horticulture class propagated 600 to 700 plants either by seed or from plant parts; in ornamental horticulture the students designed landscape plans as well as pruning and working on shrubs and trees; the production agriculture students learned about crops and livestock and also practiced leadership skills. Agriculture classes, in general, also studied the use of computers in agriculture, as well as plant and animal sciences.

Mr. Fox jokes with students.

Students Display Their Talents In Art

Mrs. McColley watches as Anita Stokem cleans up her work area.

The 1989-90 art department, headed by Mrs. Karon McColley, had a very busy year. There were many interesting projects undertaken by the individual classes: the eighth graders worked on the potter wheel; the crafts class made wooden calendars and door harps; the sculpture class made clay and fabric dolls and carved old-fashioned wooden inn signs; and the commercial design classes airbrushed T-shirts with a tropical design and with bubble letters.

Mrs. McColley took her high school classes to Indianapolis for the Scholastic Arts Exhibit. Art 8 and Commercial Design classes entered a "Design-an-Ad" contest sponsored by the Frankfort Times. Chris Glovacki, an eighth grader, won a $100.00 savings bond for his first place ad for Frito-Lay. Several students also entered the art contest sponsored by Psi Iota Xi sorority in mid-April. In addition, many of the students helped in coming up with a design for the front of the coming year's student assignment books.

Business Courses Teach Practical Skills

Clinton Prairie's business department kept busy during the 1989-90 school year with many different activities. Besides doing their homework and listening to lectures, the students took part in simulations. These activities gave the students the opportunity to operate a business and see what it was actually like. The simulations also gave the students a break from the day-to-day routine of regular homework.

The head of the business department was Mr. Nick Baker. He taught Accounting, Sales, Recordkeeping, and other general business courses. Also teaching in the department was Mrs. Sandy Thompson. Mrs. Thompson taught Word Processing, Keyboarding, and Shorthand classes.

Mrs. Thompson shows Anne where her letter should begin.

Tammy Rominger gets a good laugh in wordprocessing.

Mr. Baker entertains his class by singing.

P.E., Health Classes Keep Students Active

Mr. Boes takes attendance.

Missy Meece and David Friedrich watch Miss Garrett demonstrate a serve.

Clinton Prairie's health and physical education department consisted of Chairperson Ms. Connie Garrett, Mr. Bob Smith, and Mr. Terry Boes. The CPHS students are required to take a semester of P.E. through their sophomore years; then, as juniors and seniors, they have the option of taking Advanced P.E. I and II. Daily activities in the P.E. classes included such sports as flag football, soccer, basketball, volleyball, softball, pickle ball, badminton, floor hockey, and tennis. The students were also required to take physical fitness tests.

Mr. Boes taught the health classes, which consisted of sophomores. The students learned what it means to be healthy and how to be healthy. They participated in group presentations which related information from particular health units to the rest of the class. These activities were done in an attempt to teach the material and be entertaining at the same time.

Mr. Smith jokingly gives Jason Whitlock spikes for his track shoes.

Home Economics Students Get Variety

Clinton Prairie's home economics department saw many changes during the 1989-90 school year. Mrs. Char Rogers started her second year at CPHS by becoming head of the department, and Mrs. Betsy Cederquist joined Mrs. Rogers in the department as a new staff member.

There were many special activities going on in the home economics department throughout the year. Guest speakers visited several classes: for instance, Jim Ellis spoke about diamonds and gold; the foreign exchange students told about family customs in their countries; Judge O'Neal spoke on the topic of divorce; and Mr. Chezem addressed the issue of drug use. Several field trips were also taken to such places as Home Hospital, a used car lot, the Clinton County Courthouse, Homeworks, Farmer's Bank, and Ball State's Historic Costumes. Home economics students also participated in many classroom activities: the family living class held a mock wedding; the clothing classes made sweatshirts; consumer education classes designed and taped TV commercials; and the housing class designed and decorated a complete floor plan for a house. In addition, the seventh grade students participated in the Quest program, and they also learned word processing during a computer unit.

Industrial Arts Involve "Hands-On" Activities

Mr. Walker prints bandannas for the sales class.

Mr. Hintzman gives the students an assignment.

The 1989-90 school year was a productive one for Clinton Prairie's industrial arts department. The three teachers that made up the department were Chairman Al Hintzman, Mr. John Vandewalle, and Mr. Joe Walker.

There were many activities going on in all of the IA classes. For instance, students in auto mechanics classes worked on their own or other people's vehicles and even rebuilt engines; students in home repair classes learned about wiring, plumbing, and woodworking; classes in electronics were offered; students could draw up floor plans in computer-aided drafting; graphic arts students learned about photography and silk-screening; the plastics classes went to Crellin on a field trip; and students in woods classes turned in a number of major projects, ranging from gun cabinets to cedar chests.

Language Arts Department Exposes Students To

From grade seven clear up through grade twelve, students of Clinton Prairie's language arts department were engaged in a wide variety of learning experiences during the 1989-90 school year.

The English department, led by department chairperson Linda Marshall, focused on developing the writing, speaking, and critical thinking skills of its students. In the basic English courses, students worked in the areas of composition, grammar, speech, literature, and many others. Many of CP's students also participated in the Electronic Bookshelf reading program. There were writing assignments done in the computer lab and research papers done in the media center. In addition, journalism students worked to produce the school newspaper, speech students worked on various presentations, and drama students worked on play pro-

Mr. Compton concentrates on grading some papers.

Clinton Prairie students also were given the option of taking Latin or Spanish classes through Clinton Prairie's foreign language department, which was headed up by chairman James Compton. These students were likewise exposed to a variety of techniques for learning the languages and cultures of other peoples. Listening, speaking, comprehension, and writing skills were emphasized in the foreign language classes. The teachers in this department gave their students an appreciation for cultures different than their own.

Seventh graders made projects for a mythology unit.

Math Activities For 1990 Include

Clinton Prairie's math department for the 1989-90 school year was composed of teachers Steve Adamson, Charlotte Bailey, Bill Taylor, and department chairman John Elliott.

Students in CP's math classes worked on a variety of fundamental arithmetic and problem-solving skills. Numerous activities were used to help the students learn. For instance, Algebra II students worked with computers to learn about graphs; they also played "Jeopardy" and games of chance to help them study. The eighth grade classes were encouraged to keep binders with notes.

Mr. Elliott shows his class how to solve the problem.

Participation In First Annual Math Contest

Mr. Adamson helps his students with their papers.

Sabine Grice smiles while Mr. Taylor grades her paper.

General math classes used calculators most of the time, and peer help was often used in this more informal atmosphere. Theory, rules, and applications of calculus were studied by the students who chose to take the calculus class.

A new activity for CP math students in 1990 was participation in the first annual Hoosier Heartland Mathematics Contest, which was held in April at Rossville High School. Teams competed in the areas of Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry, and Comprehensive. CP's teams placed second in both the geometry and the comprehensive categories.

Music Students Perform Year-Round

The school year began early for Clinton Prairie's music department in 1989-90. Led by CP music director Mrs. Donna Wicker as well as choral director Mrs. Patty Catt, Prairie's music students started their work before the school year even began.

Marching band students attended a band camp in July, so that the group could have some practice time before performing in local parades. Fall football games meant halftime presentations for the band, while the group also prepared for the Midwestern Marching Band Festival in Lebanon and the state music contest at Lewis Cass

H.S.

The Christmas season was busy for both band and choral students, as the concert band and choir prepared for concerts and various performances, such as the one at Union Station. Springtime brought the Revue, which meant busy evenings for the stage band and most of Mrs. Catt's musical organizations. The final concerts and contests took place in April, after which the expectant mother Mrs. Catt was replaced by Mr. Scott Mills. Prairie Singers and Concert Band performed at graduation also, ending another busy year.

Science Students Involved In Many Activities

There were a lot of things going on in the science department at CPHS during the 1989-90 school year. Ms. Chris Duzenbury chaired the department, which once again offered several different classes.

Seventh and eighth grade science students had a new curriculum this year. During first semester the seventh graders studied earth science; second semester physical science was studied. The eighth graders studied physical science first semester and earth science second semester. This setup allowed students to cover a wider variety of topics in science.

Biology classes studied all types of animals and organisms. In order to learn about these subjects, the students performed many experiments, including dissections of frogs, starfish, crawdads, pigeons, and fetal pigs. Biology classes also wrote research papers in their study of infections diseases.

There were also many experiments going on in chemistry classes at CPHS. Bright line spectrums, flame tests, and qualitative and quantitative analyses were just some of the activities going on. The second year chemistry classes also took a trip to Bloomington to tour the Cyclotron facility.

Basic principles of physics, such as gravity, motion, and forces were studied in physical science classes. Among other things, the students designed and tested egg-drop containers, worked on chemistry, and grew various crystals.

Social Studies Offer Involvement For Students

Clinton Prairie's social studies department remained very busy throughout the 1989-90 school year. Along with the regular classroom activities, there were many special projects undertaken during the year.

The psychology classes once again studied the responsibilities of parenthood by carrying around "egg children" for one week. The classes also visited the state mental hospital in Logansport. Economics classes listened to numerous guest speakers from both state and local levels throughout the year. One of the government classes involved the whole school in a mock election to choose Clinton Prairie's new "President." After a period of campaigning in order to win votes, Craig Beaver was chosen as the top candidate. A major project for the seventh graders was that of assembling a newspaper scrapbook, in which were included news articles and summaries.

Heading the social studies department as chairman was Mr. Dan Hilgediek, and he was supported by Mr. Doug Segraves and Mrs. Jill Doades. In addition, student teacher Ms. Allison Bunch worked with one of Mr. Hilgediek's U.S. History classes, as well as with a psychology class and an eighth grade social studies class of Mr. Segraves.

Media Center Sees Changes During 1989-90

The CPHS media center was headed by Mrs. Carol Travis and her assistant, Mrs. Fran Reagan, throughout the 1989-90 school year.

Mrs. Travis, who had previously assisted long-time media specialist Mrs. Rosalie Carter, took over when Mrs. Carter left. Having already worked in the media center for eight years, Mrs. Travis fit right into her new job. Likewise, Mrs. Reagan, who replaced Mrs. Travis as media assistant, was no new face at Clinton Prairie, having previously been an assistant in the computer lab.

As usual, the media center was a busy place. Students of all grade levels were assisted in the center with reports and projects for many of their classes. English students checked out books to read for the Electronic Bookshelf program. As part of the program, junior high students competed against one another in the "Battle of the Books" contest, answering questions based on the books on their reading lists. Also, in celebration of Library and Media Month, the media center sponsored a contest for junior high students which required the students to fill in crossword puzzle with the titles of books. Correct answers were rewarded with free ice cream coupons, and two students received gift certificates at Walden's Bookstore. At the end of the year, students were also honored for reading and passing quizzes on books with such prizes as certificates, medals, pizza parties, and field trips.

Students, Staff Make Good Use Of Lab

Clinton Prairie's computer lab saw some changes and improvements during the 1989-90 school year under the supervision of Mr. Don Chase.

One of the most obvious changes in the lab was the departure of Mrs. Fran Reagan as an assistant, as she went to work with Mrs. Travis in the media center. Replacing Mrs. Reagan was Mrs. Suzanne Rothenberger. Other things were happening as well: a mini-computer lab was formed within the larger, including eight Apple // GS computers. Mr. Adamson and his Computer Literacy/Programming classes made use of this lab. Also, a new card catalog was completed for use by the high school staff, helping teachers locate desired software more easily. Mr. Chase and his assistants, Mrs. Pat Eaton and Mrs. Rothenberger, worked hard to provide the best service possible to CP's students and staff.

Chapter One Students Practice Skills

Mrs. Cornell concentrates on a computer program.

Mrs. Rita Cornell was in charge of the Chapter One program at Clinton Prairie during the 1989-90 school year. One of the big changes in the program was that Mrs. Cornell moved to Room 5 so that she now had an entire room to herself for the reading and math program.

Chapter One students worked on new skills or practiced previously acquired skills by using one of two computers or by playing various learning games. In addition records were kept of how much homework the students turned in to their math and English teachers; then Mrs. Cornell awarded points for the work done, and these points could be spent on free days or small parties in the Reading and Math Lab. Several pizza parties were held for students who turned in all of their homework for the nine weeks. Mrs. Cornell also took her students to the Indianapolis Zoo in April as a reward for the extra work that they did during the year.

Many Activities Taking Place In L.D. Room

Miss Leonard helps a student type.

Miss Kim Leonard's learning disabilities students were involved in many different learning activities during the 1989-90 school year at Clinton Prairie. One English class, for instance, put on a play entitled, The Winning Team. Other English classes read two novels: Where the Red

Fern Grows and Treasure Island. In addition to other activities, the basic biology classes conducted several experiments, and in the spring they dissected frogs. Miss Leonard's students also took a trip to the Indianapolis Zoo near the end of the school year.

Computer Use Increases In C And G Office

The Counseling and Guidance Office added more computer capabilities during the 1989-90 school year, which helped them out in scheduling classes and in making up fee statements. The computer is now hooked up with the computer in the main office. The C and G staff is hoping to some day get the whole school on the same computer network. Secretary Marilyn Moore stated, "It's exciting to try new things on the computer, but it is also stressful in the limited time available."

Mr. Nick Zafran and Mrs. Leslie Robison, school guidance counselors, continued their guidance of the students at Clinton Prairie, helping them with the scheduling of classes and with planning for the future. They also provided recognition to those students that made the honor rolls at CPHS and helped students who were having problems of one kind or another.

CPHS Main Office Is Center Of Activity

Mr. Fink helps put up the showcase.

Many of the busiest people at Clinton Prairie once again were stationed at the main office of the high school building.

Principal Charles Fink headed CP's administrative staff in his twelfth year as Principal. Mr. Fink stayed in close contact with students, parents, and teachers in order to help ensure a quality education for the students of Clinton Prairie. Working alongside Mr. Fink was Mr. Myron Chezem, who once again filled the position of Assistant Principal. Mr. Chezem dealt with many students on an individual basis and also kept track of bus routes and maintenance staff.

Also putting in many long hours in the main office were Secretary Nicki Stillings and Treasurer Marilyn Price. Mrs. Price mentioned the collection of fees from students as a difficult chore, while Mrs. Stillings pointed to the difficulty of finding substitute teachers. Said Mrs. Stillings, "This is not the hardest job I have ever had, but it is definitely the busiest."

Mr. Chezem takes a break from his paper work.

"Creating A Vision For The Nineties"

The following is a statement from first-year superintendent Mr. John Coopman:

As we entered the decade of the 90's, the administrative team chose the theme "Creating a Vision for the 90's" to chart the course for Clinton Prairie School Corporation. The vision includes technological innovations such as interactive video discs and a computer on every teacher's desk to enhance instructional opportunities for our students. We also intend to continue with the introspection of our curriculum and make revisions that will provide education to help our students meet the demands of the future. We also plan instruction to exceed the minimum proficiencies required for I.S.T.E.P. Students not meeting our expectations will be remediated at their level as soon as a deficiency is noted.

Our vision also will include professional development opportunities that will enhance teachers' methodology so as to meet the learning styles of all students. As instructional strategies change to include active learning, students will be excited about learning tasks that are relevant to real life experiences. Cooperative learning is a concept that will enable students to learn skills associated with communication and problem solving typically used in business and industry.

Ultimately, we want our students to have a high self-esteem and to feel good about their educational opportunities while attending Clinton Prairie Schools. We want them to have a sense of pride about their school and community. We want all students and staff to achieve their highest potential.

As superintendent, I am proud to be an integral part of the Clinton Prairie School Corporation and I look forward to being the educational leader implementing the vision of the 90's.

The school board for the 1989-90 year consisted of Mrs. Barb Carmichael, Michael Perry, Jerry Davis, David Larsh, and David Hudson.

School Nurse Has Many Duties

Mrs. Kauffman takes Rachel Boller's temperature.

The new school nurse at Clinton Prairie during the 1989-90 school year was Mrs. Deborah Kauffman.

Mrs. Kauffman is a registered nurse, but she chose to work at Clinton Prairie because of the opportunities to teach students and staff about current health subjects and because she wanted to work with young people.

Mrs. Kauffman took care of any health problems that arose with students in grades K through 12. She also tested the junior high students for scoliosis and maintained immunization reports, among other things.

Cooks Provide An Important Service

The 1989-90 school year kept the cooks on their toes. Throughout the year they offered many new lunch items and also started a new program called "Snack Sacks." These were snacks which could be purchased by the students who had to stay after school and wanted something besides a candy bar or soft drink to snack on. The sacks included a sandwich, chips, cookie, and fruit. This was just one more thing that the cooks did for Clinton Prairie's students.

Custodians Keep CPHS Looking Good

The custodians at Clinton Prairie put in many hours of hard work to keep our school in good condition. Mrs. Donoho, head custodian, took on many responsibilities, including taking care of the vans, preparing the auditorium for presentations, picking up items in Lafayette and Indianapolis, and many other things. The custodians worked many different shifts so that the school would be attended to around the clock.

The custodians did a fine job of keeping our school clean for the students, faculty, and visitors.

Bus Drivers Have Big Responsibility

During the 1989-90 school year, the bus drivers kept busy with keeping the students under control on the way to and from school. The drivers enforced such rules as no fighting and no moving from place to place on the bus. As always, it was a challenge to keep some of the younger students safely in their seats for the duration of the ride.

The drivers also did a great job in helping transport students and especially in helping out with extra-curricular activities, such as band and athletic contests and field trips for grades K through 12.

Class Of 1994

Clinton Prairie's eighth grade students came back to school for the 1989-90 year with one big thing to look forward to: they were no longer the youngest students at CPHS! With one year of junior high under their belts, the class of 1994 could relax and enjoy their increased status. By now all were old pros at opening locks, finding rooms, and getting to class on time. As the end of the school year rolled around, most of the eighth graders had done a lot of growing up and were ready to take the big step to the high school level.

Eighth grade class officers were Julie Reents, Brandon Bolinger, and Courtney Kinsler.

Class Of 1995

The class of 1995 began their junior high experience at CPHS during the 1989-90 school year. The seventh grade students found many changes awaiting them as they moved into the junior high: they now had seven classes and seven teachers rather than only a few; there were lockers to find and combinations to remember; and there were different classes than they had taken in elementary. Along with the added responsibilities, the class of 1995 also gained more independence and more privileges as they made their way through their first year of junior high.

Seventh grade officers for the year were: President Stephanie Lock, Vice-President Andy Remaly, and Treasurer Denae Barnett.

Junior High Ace Team

The 1989-90 school year saw the beginning of a new extracurricular activity for Clinton Prairie's seventh and eighth grade students — a junior high academic team. The first year spelling team held up respectably in the fall Spell Bowl and worked hard for the spring Quiz Bowl, researching individual topics dealing with the modern-day influence of ancient Greece. Under the leadership of coaches Marcia Hudson and Sarah Sabens, CP's junior high ACE team gained valuable experience for future competitions.

Junior High Student Council

The 1989-90 Junior High Student Council was sponsored by Mr. Dan Hilgediek. During the year the Council sponsored three junior high dances. They included the Christmas Dance, the Valentines Dance, and the Spring Dance. The officers for the 1989-90 year were: President — Courtney Kinsler; Vice President — Danielle Larsh; Secretary — Ali Lock; and Treasurer — Jamie Pelfree.

Front row: J. Pelfree, C. Kinsler, D. Larsh, A. Lock; middle row: J. Maish, B. Ward, D. Maish, R. Ruch, K. Hansell; back row: S. Golden, S. Miller, C. Benefiel, C. Fultz, S. Lock.

Clinton Prairie's junior high choir occupied itself with many activities during the 1989-90 school year. Directed by Mrs. Patty Catt, the choir sang and danced at the annual Christmas Concert, and the students also performed at the Spring Concert in April. The choir members also worked very hard to earn a second place award at the ISSMA contest in late March by performing "Sing All Together," "All Things Bright and Beautiful," and "One of Those Songs."

Clinton Prairie's junior high band members, under the guidance of Mrs. Donna Wicker, worked hard to improve their skills throughout the 1989-90 school year. During class the students practiced songs for contest, as well as learning new music. Several students performed well at the Solo and Ensemble contest. The band also performed at Christmas and spring concerts, and they sold popcorn in order to raise money to buy new music stands. Said eighth grade band member Rachel Brooks, "I really like band because it's fun, and it's different from my other classes."

Eighth Graders Fight An Uphill Battle

The 1989 eighth grade football team did not have a terribly successful season, winding up with an 0-5½ record. The half game was one in which the eighth graders played only a half of the game, while the seventh grade played the other half. Mr. Al Hintzman, the team's coach, commented, "It was very tough competing against teams with players who were so much larger than our team!" Although the season was not a success, the boys gained experience for playing on the high school level.

Desire High On Seventh Grade Team

The 1989 seventh grade football team ended with a record of 0-6. Coach Joe Walker stated, "Even though the season was a losing one, mainly due to lack of experience, desire was high. If all the players return to play in eighth grade, they should have a great season."

The 1989 junior high volleyball team had a great turn out, so there were enough girls to have seventh and eighth grade A and B teams. The seventh grade B team finished 2-1, while the seventh grade A team went 5-4. Both teams had a good year. They placed second in the County Tourney, lasting three games of the championship match.

The eighth grade B team had a 2-2 record, while the eighth grade A team won the County Tourney. Mrs. Cheryl Kas and Mrs. Cheryl Overman coached both the seventh and eighth grade girls together. "This was a good group to work with," both coaches commented. "They really worked hard."

Eighth Graders Work For Improvement

The 1990 eighth grade boys' basketball team was coached by Mr. Kevin McCray. Although the team's record didn't turn out as they hoped, ending with only one win, there were some outstanding players, including Brandon Bolinger, Brett Ward, and Shawn Golden. Golden was also the team's leading scorer. The players gained much-needed experience for their high school careers, getting more practice in basic basketball skills and in working as a team.

Much Improvement Shown By Seventh Graders

The seventh grade boys' A and B teams both ended with great seasons. The A team ended with a record of 7-9, and the B team finished with a record of 5-2. The teams got into the championship games of the Rossville and Clinton Central tourneys. Jade Kas was an outstanding player, leading the season in scoring. According to Coach Randy Cooper, both teams showed much improvement over the course of the season.

Eighth Grade Girls Have A Winning Season

The 1989-90 eighth grade girls' basketball team had a successful season. Their overall record was 8-4, and their conference record was 2-1. Mr. Richard Grimes coached the girls, and he commented, "They worked hard to win all eight games." The team consisted of eight girls. They all did their job in making the season successful.

Seventh Graders Finish With 7-5 Record

The 1989-90 seventh grade girls' basketball team was coached by Mrs. Jill Doades. The team had a pretty good season, finishing with a conference record of 3-1 and an overall record of 7-5. Because such a small number of seventh grade girls came out for the team, the sixth grade girls were also offered the chance to play junior high basketball. Many of them accepted, and they helped the team tremendously, according to Coach Doades. She also stated that all the girls improved much throughout the season. Stephanie Lock was cited as a standout player for the girls' team.

JH Cross Country Ends Season At 1-5

The junior high cross country team was 1-5 in dual meets during the 1989 school year. The team had three outstanding eighth graders competing: Keith Hansell, Brandon Bolinger, and Greg Hawkins. There were two outstanding seventh graders: Mark Garriot and Shawn Boesch. Despite the losing record, Coach Randy Cooper felt that his team worked very hard, and he enjoyed working with the team throughout the season.

JH Wrestlers Gain Valuable Experience

The 1990 junior high wrestling team ended with a season record of 1-5. Though the team lost most of its meets, there were some outstanding wrestlers cited by Coach Terry Boes, including Shawn Anes, Charles Haug, Greg Hawkins, Clinton Mackey, Jon Maish, Steven Miller, Jacob Pulley, and James Waddell. Most of the team members were first-time wrestlers and therefore were inexperienced. The high point of the season was the team's win over Tri-Central, as heavyweight Charles Haug soundly beat his opponent, thus breaking a tie and giving CP the win. According to Coach Boes, "The team showed great potential and could be a winning varsity team as they gain valuable experience."

JH Girls Crowned County Champs

CP's junior high girls' track team had an outstanding season in 1990. The team's record, which was 7-1, included a win at the Sheridan Invitational as well as the county Track title. Eighth grader Rachel Flowers set a new school and county record in the 200 meter dash as well as tying the county record in the 100 meter dash. Buffie Johnston, also an eighth grader, set a county record in the high jump. The team was coached by Ms. Cheryl Kas and Ms. Cheryl Overman. Said Coach Kas, "It was a super team effort all season long. The girls accomplished a lot with their efforts."

JH Boys Show Potential

Members of the boys' team were, front row, l. to r. — J. Waddell, J. Fultz, J. Brooks, J. Tharp, D. Smith, C. Benefiel, M. Garriott; Row 2 — Coach Smith, J. Kas, C. Haug, S. Miller, K. Eldridge, S. Golden, K. Hansell, K. Poppe, Coach Garey.

The 1990 junior high boys' track team, coached by John Garey and Kevin Smith, ended their season with a record of three wins, 2 losses, and one tie. The team ended at third place in the conference as well as in the county meet. Outstanding team members included seventh grader Kevin Eldridge, who set school records in both the 100 and 400 meter dashes. Eighth grader Shawn Golden joined Eldridge in accumulating over 100 points during the season. Coach Garey felt that the entire team was a hard-working one with a lot of potential.

Junior High Cheerleaders Arouse Enthusiasm

Eighth grade cheerleaders were: B. Segal, A. Hurt, B. Johnston, and K. Butler.

The junior high cheerleaders, sponsored by Mrs. LeAnne Morris, worked throughout the 1989-90 school year to stir up the spirit of the Clinton Prairie fans at various junior high sporting events. The girls attended all of the boys' basketball games, as well as some of the girls' volleyball games and a few other events. Also, to raise money for new uniforms, the junior high cheerleaders joined the high school squads in selling M and M's.

Seventh grade cheerleaders were: A. Chestnut, M. McGraw, K. Rothenberger, and C. Howe.

Junior High Students Receive Honors

Clinton Prairie's junior high students were honored with a number of awards on May 22, 1990, during Junior High Honor Day. The junior high band opened the program with a musical number. Mr. Bob Larsh then presented Courtney Kinsler and Brett Hazlett with the 1990 American Legion Good Citizen Awards, followed by Mr. Bob Smith, who handed out many physical fitness and athletic awards. Librarian Carol Travis named Andy Remaly as the top junior high reader of the year. Math awards went to Jade Kas, Brandon Bolinger, Brett Hazlett, and James Waddell. The top English students of the year were Natalie Bailey, Brett Hazlett, Kara Elliott, and Jade Kas. Mr. Hilgediek presented awards for social studies to seventh graders Dennise Brettnacher and Jason Thompson and to eighth graders Brett Hazlett and James Waddell. Outstanding achievement in science awards went to

Kara Elliott, Nick Waincott, Courtney Kinsler, and Brett Hazlett. Mrs. Wicker named Dusty Smith and Rachel Brooks as the top band students of 1990, while Dennise Brettnacher was named top student in music. Maria Myers received an award as the outstanding choral student. Mr. Chezem ended the day's ceremonies with attendance awards, including one for four years of perfect attendance to Brett Hazlett. The 1990 Mental Attitude Award to eighth grader Ryan Perkins.

Dusty Smith receives an athletic award from Mr. Zafran.

Mr. Hilgediek was one of many to give Courtney Kinsler an award.

Kara Elliott was Mrs. Sabens' top English student.

Michelle's Page

Now for one of the most important pages of this book. Students and teachers don't understand what it's like to try to please everyone's taste at the same time. I feel we have done the best job with what we had to work with, and I hope this book brings back special memories for you. I'd like to say thanks to last year's yearbook editor, Meg Seager. As for the staff, I'll start with you, Tommy (not that you're any more important). Thanks for the title of the book! Ha! I'd thank you for keeping the records, but Stacy did that more than you did. You did type a lot, though. Thank you, Stacy, for typing, running errands, and making calls for ads. Todd, well, let's see . . . Oh! Thank you ever so much for all of those male chauvinistic comments and jokes! Someday (I doubt it) you might find someone who'll shape you up. It'll take a lot! (Same goes for you, Doyle.) Holly, thanks for doing the index cards. That's the worst job of all. Now for the person that deserves the most thanks . . . Mrs. Sabens! The Emerald wouldn't be anything without you. You care about the book, and it shows. The Emerald has really improved since you've taken charge. Good luck next year. Stacy, Tommy, Todd, Holly, and I would like to give you a great big huge thanks from the bottom of our stomachs for all of the pizzas and cokes that you gave us or let us get. THANK YOU!!! Oh, and thanks for all the layouts, copy, and captions you did for us so we could make our deadlines without working too hard. To Karen McGarey, thanks for all the pictures you took for the numerous activities. You were always there and did a great job. We really appreciate it. Good luck next year.
