Do You remember back in the day when we had to sing the school song as loud as we could at pep sessions? Or when going to those pep sessions, we felt as if it was our responsibility to be the loudest screaming class? What about when it came to picking what game we were going to play at recess? It was almost as if the happiness of the rest of our day would depend upon that decision. To us, those were the hardest decisions we had to make. And now? Now we have different and much larger worries; some larger than others. The great part about those decisions is we get to make them all. All throughout life there has always been that one person making your life choices; or at least most of them. Now that person is ourselves. We dictate what we will and will not do. Who could ask for anything better? Yet, our past will always be part of our present. It is our pasts that define who we are, what we believe, and what we hope for. The yearbook staff thought long and hard, heavily debated, and puzzled over what they could do with this year's book to make it the most memorable yearbook ever. It seemed most fitting that we adopt the title "we will always be" because, no matter what, we will always be Clinton Prairie students. We might not have liked the fact that our mascot is a gopher, and we might not have liked everyone who ever went to this school. However, the years that we spend here are some of the most important years of our teenage lives. With each passing year we grow older, and we (hopefully) grow wiser. This year was full of inspiration, struggle, laughter, pain, and love. We survived some of the hardest times, and we cherished the best of times. We are the student body of Clinton Prairie, and we will always be...so let it be.

"Nobody can go back and start a new beginning, but anyone can start today and make a new ending." -Maria Robinson

Senior year is all about chances. Whether it be taking a chance on that final you didn't study for, or it's your last chance to beat the school's rival in the homecoming game, at some point you'll come to the realization that it's finally your time to do your, "last times." Coaches are always telling their teams to "leave it on the floor," but why? Where a game, competition, or high school career may end, life will still go on. Learning from our mistakes and successes makes us who we are.

"One day your life will flash before your eyes. Make sure it's worth watching." -Anonymous

Some day, life won't consist of walking down these halls and staring at these lockers everyday. Instead, it will be full of something that we (hopefully) have been working toward.

"Take the risk, forget the fall. If it's meant to be, it's worth it all." -Anonymous

Life is full of risks and chances that we have to take, so let it be.

Kristen Barri Bailey

Favorite Quote: "Life is a beach, I'm just playing in the sand"

Favorite Memory: "My favorite high school memory would be going to the football games and pumping up the jam at the dances. It was a lot of fun, and I'm definitely going to miss that!"

Voted Best Sense of Humor and Class Comedian

Marissa Kaye Brassie

Favorite Quote: "Shall I describe it to you, or would you like me to find you a box?" - Lord of the Rings, The Two Towers

Favorite Memory: "I'd say my favorite memory is shopping at The Buckle with Shelby Orange and getting attacked by a tall, blonde, skinny chick who wanted to sell us pants for $108."

Abigail Capri Burkhalter

Favorite Quote: "You may say I'm a dreamer, but I'm not the only one." - John Lennon

Advice: "You may hate where you are now, but one day you'll come to love it, because it makes you who you are."

Voted Most Likely to Become a Famous Musician/Actor/Actress

Jaclyn Mackenzie Bush

Favorite Memory: "My best memories would be all the great times in FFA. Whether it was going white water rafting to Louisville, the Farm Machinery Show, and going to DQ. Even the bus rides were fun. I have made so many friends from all over the US through FFA & Judging. I wouldn't change that for anything."

Voted Best Car.

Katye Rose Clark

Who is your host family? Ms. Nancy Elsie

What activities are you involved in? JFA and Z-Club

What do you love about the U.S.? "The school because its more fun."

What is the biggest difference between Belgium and the United states? "The United states is big compared to Belgium. There arent big superstores, like Wal Mart, in Belgium."

What are your future plans? "I am going to go back to Belgium and go to a university there."

SENIORS 2011

Then and Now

Senior parents enjoy a time out from preparing the meal for the seniors. The senior parents work hard to ensure the seniors have an enjoyable cookout... whether it be inside or out.

Seniors Calin Cochran and Slayd Schimmel pose for a picture at the senior cookout. The seniors made the best of the rain situation and enjoyed the cook "in."

Senior cook "in" & hang night

Due to the terrible storming weather, there was no senior campout this year, and the cookout was inside. The seniors met up at the school at 9:30pm to do the senior prank, and others who didn't participate in the prank went to the movies.

Seniors Calin Cochran and Kara Werner hug junior Hannah Coons during the senior walk. The senior walk through the hallways is a special time for seniors to show off their caps and gowns.

Finding Senior, Adam Schrock throwin' down beats in a dressing room during his spare time is not unusual. Drumming has always been one of Schrock's passions. The summer before his fresman college year, Schrock will be marching for Pioneer, a World Class Division 1 Drum and Bugle Corps.

Left: Juniors Joey Silva, Chase Schimmel, Kevin Cripe, Colton Barker, and Senior Chris Mackey take it easy. Relaxing in the pit before the curtain opens for the first night of the Revue is a great way to get rid of those "First night jitters."

Right: Junior Sydney Courser and Senior Shelby Orange make passing out old yearbooks entertaining! Rolling down the hallway being hidden by boxes always makes the administration wonder. However, to the yearbook staff? It puts a smile on the face!

Left: Freshmen Mason Thomas, Lucy Coons, Gracie Dallas Miller, Kelsie Funk, and Taylor Light take from all of the hype in the Mulberry Pizza King camera! Homecoming 2010

Not only was the spirit in the crowd phenomenal on Homecoming night, but the team played a great game also. The Gophers beat the North Central Panthers in a win of 52-7. Nick McElroy made his team debut by making the second longest run in the school's history missing the record by 9 yards. Blake Harkins led the team with 11 tackles followed by Kyle Padgett with 7. Coach Shaun Wines said, "Overall, we played a strong defensive game. Everyone played a key role in our teams win."

Fall Formal

By: Shelby Orange

Kyle Padgett and Evan Woods show how perspired the student body got during the dance. Few students smelled lovely after dancing the night away.

Below: Senior Chris Mackey and Junior Carrie Funk looking absolutely adorable! They were just one couple caught making starry eyes at one another.

Senior Jordan Gardener and Junior Trent Harney depict the boys' difficulty with their flowers. Luckily, Mr. Larsh is a pro!

Black heels, dresses with pockets, and bubble dresses were the fashion trends of the Fall Dance.

Senior Shelby Orange helps Junior Alexis Williams touch up before heading back to the dance floor. The restroom was visited frequently for make up check.

Freshman girls, Paige Schoonveld and Sarah Good dance in a circle of friends. "The best was making up our own dance to 'Teach Me How to Dougie!' We had no idea what we were doing but it was so much fun!" -Paige Schoonveld Freshman Michael White with Hannah Holmes and Sophomore Chelsea Stevenson with Freshman Hannah Boles buddy up for a dance. The dance was a great place to let loose with friends.

This year's Fall Semi Formal Dance was held on November 6th in the cafeteria. The dance was sponsored by Student Council. Chaperones were Mr. Joe and Mrs. Alicia Abney, Ronnie Pedroza, Mrs. Cheryl Ellison and Mrs. Pam Kramasa. Seniors Adam Schrock and Katlyn Simon received this year's Fall King scepter and Fall Queen crown. The theme for the dance was "Down an Old Country Road." The cafeteria was beautifully decorated in burnt orange, hay yellow, apple red, and oak brown with leaves and hay scattered playfully about.

Pictures taken for all the "mothers", before dances are always a popular fashion.

Junior Bradley Clark and his date share a slow dance. "My favorite song was 'Pretty Boy Swag' That song just absolutely made my night." -BC.

Clinton Priane kids get a little boo. Actually, make that absolutely, ridiculously, stupidously, positively crazy!

Adam Shrock and Katlyn Simon (below) twirl around after becoming the Fall King and Queen. Both are beloved senior band members.

Freshman Iwe Weifen, along with Junior Jillian Ellison and Senior Bethany Segreaves, show off just a few of the many fun moments that graced the dance floor. The Fall Dance was a great time for all to cut loose and have a ball.

Student teacher Romie Pedroza was looking fab-u-lous! Even the teachers had a blast at the dance.

Chase Schimmel, junior, swings about 30 feet high from a rope over to a tree overlooking a pond. "It was hot, and it just looked awesome. Everyone kept saying I was going to fall. But i definitely did not." answered Schimmel when asked why he decided to climb up the tree and jump.

Tori Martin, freshman, gets her hair done in corn rows while visiting Mexico. Most vacation spots down south have a lot of opportunities to get your hair styled like this. It's an easy way to keep cool in the heat!

Cy Dieter, sophomore, is buried under the snow from the shoulders down. Our generation finds it fun to be buried under snow alive. What goes through our minds?!

Nick McElroy, sophomore, and Kara Werner, senior, stop and pose with all smiles during their trip to Florida. Florida was Werner's last high school spring break. She made it a good one with friends!

Emily Hollis, junior, sits atop a beautifully constructed sand "train". Sand Artists had competitions for the best sand castle in Florida.. "It was so pretty, so i just took my picture with it" said Hollis.

Seniors Haley Smith and Danielle Ruckie "party" in a shopping cart as Ruckie calls it. The shopping cart was found near their hotel room where they enjoyed their spring break in Florida.

1) A group of friends, sophmores and juniors combined sit in a group of chairs together talking and just hanging out. Everyone was gathered to celebrate sophomore Alison Spray's sixteenth birthday party. Sophomore Kylie Miller says, "It was a lot of fun. Especially since everyone was theretogether.."

2) Jake Morris, senior, cheerfully smiles in the freezing cold over winter break. This was the last winter break he had for high school. Morris had been out with some friends sledding and enjoying the snow.

3) Seniors Adam Schrock, Jesse Dority, Alex Jackson, Dylan Humburg, Jake Morris., and sophmores Stephanie Schrock and Kelsey Dunham stand on the edge of the boat and pose for a picture. The friends liked hanging out in a big group so it was never boring!

4) Marissa Brassie, senior, along with Kayla Howe, junior, smile with their shades to block the very bright and vibrant Florida sun. With both girls having fairly light skin, they got sun poisoning in Orlando. "It was the worst ever!"

Brooke Miller, junior, holds still as a parrot perches upon her shoulder on the sandy beaches of Florida. "It was super cool.. it freaked me out at first but then I was like, he is awesome!" said Miller of the very vibrantly feathered friend.

Junior Morgan Gray sits on the divider between the walk way to show off her new tan. This was the first trip to Florida Gray had ever been on. "It was so relaxing. I absolutely loved the warm weather. I wish Indiana was like that!"

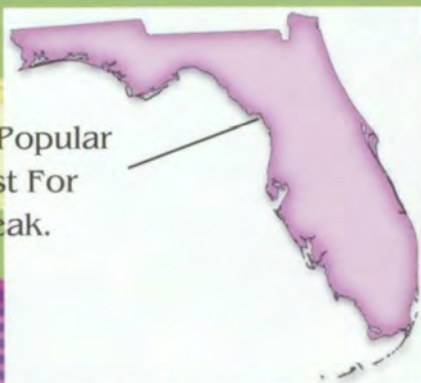

Two good friends, Emily Bennet, junior, and Stefan Crye, senior took a day to hang out at the beach together. "It is cool going to Florida, because you can hang out with everyone. Because EVERYONE goes there," stated Bennet.

"A vacation is having nothing to do and all day to do it in."

Florida: Most Popular Place To Visit For Spring Break.

Junior Jillian Ellison, senior Katye Clark, and freshman Abby Clark bundle up in warm clothes to withstand the freezing Indiana weather. Even though the weather seems miserable, memories can still be made!

Katelyn Simon, senior sits up a huge chair in Cozumel, Mexico on Spring Break. Fabrics like the ones on the foot stool are the traditional style and found as decoration everywhere. "It was really fun, I wish I could have stayed there a lot longer," said Simon when asked if what she thought of Mexico.

Junior Blake Scott poses with a very large fish. Many students enjoy spending free time fishing and hunting. Scott is both an avid fisher and hunter and can usually be seen with outdoorsmen gear.

Freshman Aaron Duke takes pride in one of his favorite pastimes - riding four-wheelers. Duke first poses on his quad after an intense mudding experience and then on a high jump in the snow.

Often times, after school, boys will be, well boys! Seniors Cody Pitzer, Slayd Schimmel, and Riley Smith celebrate their last day of school by jumping on Cy Dieter's car.

Junior Jessie Coapstick is often seen taking orders at Milky Way in Frankfort. Students often visit Milky Way in the warm seasons to enjoy their beverages and ice cream. Coapstick has worked at Milky Way for three years.

Senior Evan Rusk takes time out from driving the tractor to send a text message. Rusk works at Ramsey Farms as a farmhand.

Junior Saydie Bray removes a pizza from the oven at the Mulberry Pizza King. Bray has worked at Pizza King for a year. Pizza King is a very popular Mulberry hangout.

Freshman Clayton Guffy poses for a picture in a seed tender. Guffy and his family were recently profiled in the magazine Successful Farmer since he and his brother, Jamie, will be taking over the family farm. Guffy Farms grows approximately 2200 acres of soybeans and corn.

"Some people dream of success... while others wake up and work hard at it."

Senior Cain Cochran reacts to being named the 2011 Hardwood Queen with senior Stefion Crye. Cochran said, "When all of the representatives and candidates were standing out in the court, I was too concerned with keeping my legs from shaking and making sure I didn't fall over to even think about who was going to win! When they called my name I was completely shocked at that moment! I looked at my mom and grandma and saw them smiling and was overwhelmed with joy."

Junior Carrie Funk prepares to mount during the basketball game. Everyone played a vital part in making the game a spirited, energetic event for the team and student body.

Freshman Kara Simon is escorted by freshman Dallas Miller.

Senior escorts Riley Clark and Jordan Hammel take a break from their escorts to watch the basketball game. Even in their uncomfortable dress, the boys still managed to both cheer on the team and support their senior representative.

Eighth graders Chaelty Karminga, Kirsten Endeley, Malorie Marchand, Kall Denham, Noah Freestone, Haley Clark, and Sierra Wilson pose for a picture during 80's Day. Homecoming was the first time Junior-High was able to participate in the fun dress up days and usually did so enthusiastically.

Some students, such as sophomore Kelsey Durham, opted to dress as a casual teacher. Alidia Abney, Engle, and Durham both wore softball shirts with their shared number of 24.

Seniors Karla Hovde, Sadie Bray, Adam Schrock, and Brianna Little pose for a picture during "Fancy Nancy Day". Students were excited to participate in the silly dress up day at the same time as the elementary.

Members of the student cheer block applaud the boys basketball team. Cheerblock has always been a spirited atmosphere throughout the years.

Prom Forever Young

"I enjoyed doing 'The Creep' in front of the entire student body at prom with my friends. We owned the dance floor."

Seniors Gabby Klippel and Kyle Laffen have some serious fun during the dance. "It was nice having everybody in one group, not pulled off into their own little sections" said Klippel.

Kendra Hufford waits patiently as her date delicately puts on her shoe. Prom was held at the Best Western hotel in Lafayette.

This was the first year Prairie students were required to pass an alcohol screening before entering. Mr. Larsh said, "The students did fine with the whole thing."

Junior John Hammel and his date sophomore Kyle Miller move in close for a slow dance. Miller's dress was made in textiles class. "I'm never doing that again!" Miller said, commenting on the hard work.

Seniors Brianne Little and Jesse Dority were crowned Prom Queen and King. Juniors Jillian Ellison and Cameron Carlson were named Prom Princess and Prince. Senior court members were Jaclyn Bush, Taylor Perkins, Bethany Seagraves, Justin Edwards, Daniel Geurs, and Nolan Jansen. Junior court members were Brittney Cook, Brooke Miller, Kendra Hufford, Joey Silva, Mitchell McGirt, and Aaron Scott.

Seniors Bethany Seagraves and Jesse Dority share a laugh in the middle of the crowd. "I wish I had something witty to say, but it was honesty just a lot of fun," said Dority.

Senior Kyle Padgett cracks up with his friends during a dance. Padgett said, "Plain and simple, prom was awesome."

Most Unique

When Senior Daniel Geurs asked junior Sydney Courser to prom she replied, "What heterosexual actually wants to go to prom?" Geurs countered, "I do and I really want to go Victorian style. The look on people's faces will be priceless!"

Junior Katie Katzman quoted about the electronic bull, "It was fun, and probably my favorite thing there!" Students were able to ride the bull in the high school gym.

The Junior Moms stop for a break while preparing the 2011 Miami styled post prom titled "Forever Fun". They worked very hard to raise the money throughout the year that was needed to make an extremely fun post prom for all the students who went to prom.

CP POST PROM 2011

Senior Jaclyn Bush holds on tight while riding the electronic bull. The mechanical bull was a popular event among all students.

Sophomore Nick McElroy and Junior Emily Bennett dual on the jousting inflatable. McElroy quoted the match as, "Domination".

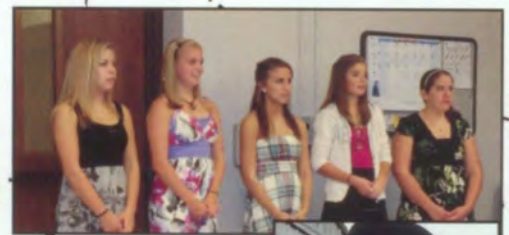

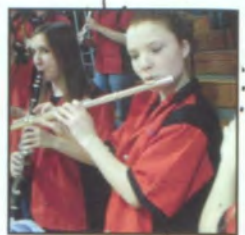

Sophomore Stephanie Schrock and Junior Alison Bailey take a break from all of the fun. Schrock and Bailey are friends from cross country.

Seniors Kyle Padgett and Daniel Geurs show off their slick dance moves while singing karaoke. Padgett and Geurs are known for their entertaining personalities.

Senior Luke Nance and his prom date take a few swings at one another in the boxing inflatable. The boxing ring was a true knock out!

Senior Gabby Klippel tosses a bean bag at the corn hole competition. Klippel dominated at the corn hole game.

The Literary Festival was based on books by Mark Twain like the ever so popular, that all students have to read at one point, The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. The Lit Fest was held on March 15 after a delay of about a month because of snow days. Most of the students relate the Lit Fest as a random day in the school year where lunch is a lot longer and we get to dress up without being criticized for it and we get a grade for it, but the Lit Fest is much more than that. It is a day where the school bans together to celebrate the accomplishments of a legendary writer like Twain with games and experiences that relate to their writings.

1. Juniors Evan Kalner and Chris Biery try and prove who has more "muscle" in an arm wrestling match. Biery and Kalner put up quite a fight against each other.

2. Sophomore Jaemine Murphy gets a mustache painted on to look like Mark Twain. Students were able to get numerous things painted on their faces from mustaches to flowers.

Sophomore James Thompson poses as Mark Twain so students could get the chance to have a photo opportunity with the infamous Mark Twain. "It was so fun to be idolized during the Literary Festival," says Thompson.

Freshmen Alexis Lafen concentrates on winning her "Frogger" game and earning a piece of candy and bragging rights. Lafen earned both the bragging rights and the piece of candy.

Junior Sydney Courser gets the sorting hat from the hit movie saga Harry Potter to see where her place is in Hogwarts. Courser got placed in the sly and sneaky house of Slytherin.

Junior Brad Clark sits in the Library reading his World History book to complete his assignment for History class. Clark is a hardworker and makes sures he completes his assignments on time.

Senior Chris Mackey sits in Mr. Coels class intently reading his book "The Things They Carried" by Tim O'Brien. "The Things They Carried" is a book about Vietnam that most of the juniors had to read during the year.

8th grader Aris Moreno ponders over the next question during the Junior High Battle of the Books Competition. Moreno's team did well during the competition.

Junior Micheal Stephens reads a book while listening to his ipod. Stephens is just one of the many students who are notorious for breaking the "no iPod in school rule" set for the school.

we will always be we will always be ourselves we will always be we will always be

We have all taken those trips and classes that make memories last a long time. Such as the eighth grade ski trip, trips with your favorite club, or those random trips with our classes. We will always keep those memories, even if its a random memory of that person next to you who dressed differently than everyone else, or had that artistic talent that no one else has. They will always be with you.

1 The science club is all smiles in the sun during their trip to the Indianapolis zoo. "I had so much fun seeing and learning about all the different animals," says freshman Turi Marth.

2 Freshman Megan Sedwick plays a prank on fellow classmate Keely Ballard. "The sign on the back never gets old. It's a classic!" Sedwick says.

3 Eighth grader Kinzey Floyd sews on a decorative button in class. "A little extra credit never hurt," says Floyd.

4 Sophomore Tees Wilson shows off the goggles she made in art class. "I needed a pair, and I thought, 'eh, why not?'"

5 Eighth grader Malorie Marchand watches for her chance to hit the slopes. Every year the eighth graders have a chance to go skiing and have a little stress reliever from school.

6 After spending hours in the caves, The science club poses for a photo opportunity. "It was definitely a blast," says senior Nathaniel Snyder. "I will really miss all of this next year."

7 Seniors Kara Werner, Madi Myers, Jacelyn Bush, and Jordan Gardener put together their next assignment. "This was definitely the funnest project we've done in Composition" - Gardener.

8 Sophomore Kaitlyn Durham climbs through the tiny holes of the caves at the field trip to the Mango Cavea. "It was so exhilarating to climb through the caves and face the tight places," says Durham.

9 Junior Evan Kalher checks out an exhibit at the Goodwin Funeral Home and Car Museum. The fieldtrip was taken by Mrs. Michele Abitz's Adult Roles class.

10 Sophomore Natalia Mickels mixes up some paint for her final art project. Mickels is known for her extreme attention to detail.

11 Sophomore Kara Jareen shows off her unique fashion style. "I love to mix and match and have fun with it." - Jareen.

Juniors Kelsey Black (1) and Andrea Sheppard (2) played the hilarious "old biddies", Claire and Ouiser, whose outstanding comedic timing kept the audience rolling with laughter.

Sophomore Jaemine "French" Murphy (1) and Senior Abby Burkhalter (2), the saassy hairdresser Truxy, and the shy new assistant Anale, kept the peace in the beauty salon while bringing style and class to the stage.

Freehman Kara Simon (above) and Senior Marissa Brassie (left) played the daughter and mother, Shelby and M'Lynn, who, through heartbreak and trauma, manage to stay upbeat and carry themselves with grace through the show.

This year the drama club performed "Steel Magnolias." The show was based on a true story of six women in Louisiana. Coping with their trials brings humor, sarcasm, arguments, wit, and true Southern compassion to the stage. This group of incredible actresses brought new-found talent to the stage and pulled off a show Clinton Prairie has not seen before.

The talent at Prairie was so abundant, the show was double casted with a second group of equqlly talented girls. Both casts portrayed their characters with ease, and the production was a success!

Junior Andrea Sheppard entertains the audience yet again in the Friday night performance! When asked what was the most difficult part about her role, Sheppard replied, "The hardest part was definitely keeping the southern accent! You wouldn't think talking like a hick would be hard, but it is!"

"The preparation is done, lights are up, and characters are entertaining the audience. Drama Club isn't just a club, it's a passion!"

We all are our own person and have our own individual styles, but some styles are found all around. Like with the guys it is a dri-fit tee and some khaki shorts accompanied with Sperrys shoes. For the girls the most common outfit you would see is a tight fit tee with a columbia thrown over it and a pair of skinny jeans and some Sperrys shoes to tie it all together. There are more than just this to the students closets though. A lot of people love to wear their flip flops and a pair of jeans with holes in them with a plaid button up shirt, but this is only the beginning of the students' wardrobe.

Boys:

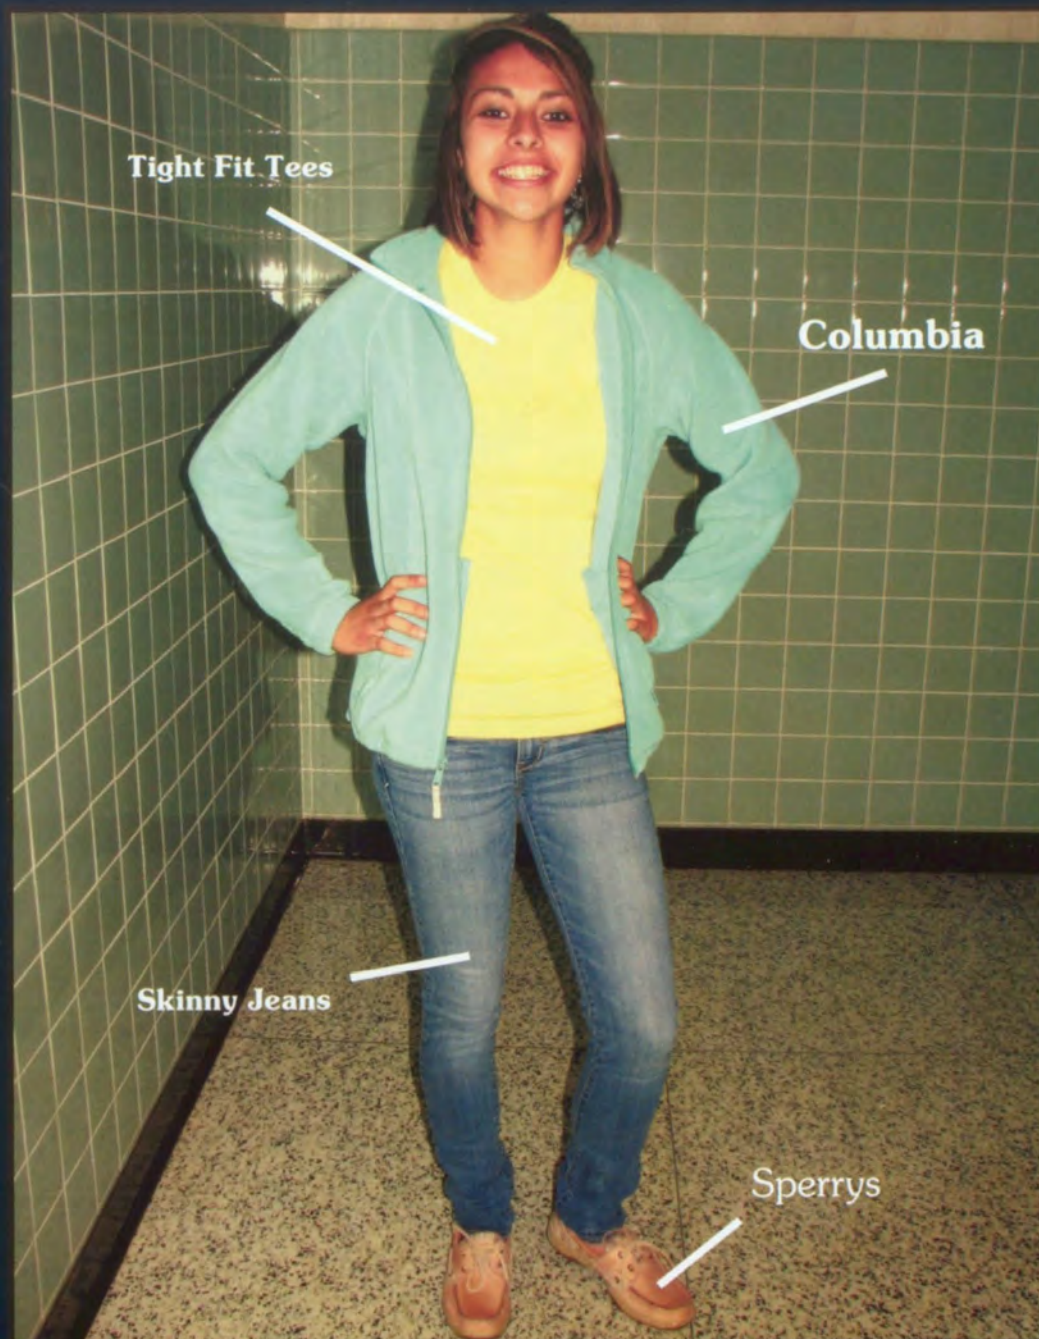

- Sperrys
- Dri-Fit Tees
- Nike Slides
- Khaki Shorts
- Under Armor Clothing
- Converse
- Jeans with Holes
- Plaid Button Up Shirts

Senior Riley Smith sports the average outfit for the guys you would see passing through the halls during the 2010-2011 school year.

Freshman Montgomery Young, juniors Shawn Wicker and Nick Whippel, and sophomore Duke Snyder dress as the cheerleaders for the powder puff football game during homecoming week. Without their support and hilarious stunts, the atmosphere of the first annual powder puff football game would not have been as entertaining.

"I think they're annoying, but they make me laugh at the same time. It's entertaining to see some of them running down the hall because they think they are going to be late! I remember those days, and now that I'm older I think back and wonder if I was just like them?" says senior Savannah Ragains on underclassmen.

ATHLETES

Sophomore Jasmine Hanna and Seniors Kara Werner, Elizabeth Geurs, and Bethany Segraves, walk back onto the floor after a timeout against county rivals, the Frankfort Hotdogs. Werner helped to make this game the senior's most memorable by sinking the winning free-throw with 1.9 seconds left in overtime. This win became a celebration as cheers burst out in the locker room. The Lady Gophers will forever remember this 49-48 victory.

CHAOS

The 2010-2011 school year kicked off the beginning of Clinton Prairie's Chaos. This spirit group was organized by Mrs. Alney and Mr. Ulrich at the end of the 2009-2010 school year and firmly established over the summer break. It was then taken over and introduced to the student body by various athletic groups during the first few months of school. Associated with Chaos is the Mulberry Telecommunications Company. The first Monday of every month student athletes, fans, and coaches gather at the Mulberry Pizza King to hear athletic interviews, enjoy food and friends, and have the chance to receive prizes. Mulberry TV broadcast and record most all CP sporting events. Prairie Seniors Justin "Sparky" Edwards, Jake Morris, and Jesse Dority are all commentators on behalf of the student body.

Members of Chaos cheer at the home football game. The student section helps cheer on the Gophers to victory. Coach Eric Ulrich says, "the cheerblock provides an uplifting spirit to the athletes." Ulrich was a active participant in Gopher Sports Chat.

Members of Chaos cheer on the Gophers basketball team. Junior Mac Decker was a consistent regular at the games and was always enthusiastic.

The student body is overly enthusiastic about Chaos. Juniors Emily Berner and Emily Hollis show their support at many games.

Senior Adam Schrock and Junior Jamie Dority hang around at the September Chaos Bash. The boys are just two of the xcountry runners that attend to listen to Mr. Smith's (The Godfather) interview.

Jordan Hammel, senior, takes a warm up pass from Riley Smith, senior. Warm ups were a vital part of Gopher season.

Run, Slayd, Run!!

The Gophers' running game was an essential part of our offense. This year's team has one of the largest rushing yards in school history.

"Don't flinch, don't fold, and hit the line hard!"

-Teddy Roosevelt

Both the offensive and defensive lines were forces to be reckoned with. The team wasn't the biggest, but they definitely were the baddest.

Heart, effort, and determination were more than a few words made from styrofoam cups. These words were the living, breathing moto of the entire football squad.

Travis (Flying Tomato) Engle, Junior, gives a pep talk to fellow Junior Bradley (B.C.) Clark. The Gophers provided support for one another on and off the field.

Huddle up! Communication was key in the Gopher's game plan.

Senior Jessie Dority gets hyped up with fellow defender and junior Blake Harkins. The School can boast to having one of the rowdiest bunch of boys ever.

Seniors Cody Pitzer and John Schubert lead the pack! It is tradition for the football team to break through a banner before every home game.

The boys take a knee for an injured player. The team has always been respectful to other teams, regardless of the score or rivalry.

The football boys graced us with one of the best seasons in Clinton Prairie history! The only recorded losses were to Lafayette Central Catholic for the Hoosier Heartland Conference title and then to Guerin Catholic in the Sectional finals. The team finished with a record of 10-2, which tied them for the school record for most wins in one season. The team was ranked 8th in the state in the Final Polls. This senior class now hold the record for the most winning class in school history. The team reached both the Conference and Sectional Championship games.

"I am very proud of the team. Even though we were shorter than most of our opponents, we played hard and kept the ball in play. I feel like many teams underestimated us because they thought they would have an easy time beating us. Although we did play well against most opponents. We just weren't able to reach 25 points before them. Even though our record wasn't impressive, I think the players should be proud of the way they played and the improvements they made throughout the season!" -

Coach Shilling

One of the most fun-filled nights is remembered from this picture. The ladies of the volleyball team took part in a midnight practice, and had fun with it. Neon colors, crazy wigs, and funky socks were the "trend". Nonetheless, all girls dressed up with goofy costumes. The overall goal of the night was that they got to bond and be crazy, at the same time learning things needed for season.

Senior, Gabby Kippel, does not let a photographer up in her face distract her from focusing. Being an experienced senior, Kippel knows that focus is key to winning a game.

The boys did a great job at the county meet held at Roseville High School. They won first place and achieved one of their goals for the season.

"The will to win means nothing if you haven't the will to prepare." - Juma Ikangaa

Senior Dakota Robbins' favorite memory was when he sprinted the first quarter mile of the sectionals meet.

Coach's Corner

The Cross Country team had a very successful season. The boys team ended the season 10-0 and girls 6-4. Junior, Jamle Dority placed 10th in Sectional and 9th in Regional competitions. He qualified for Semi State for the 3rd year in a row. Dority also won the Tri County Invitational for the 2nd year in a row. Dority along with seniors Alex Jackson and Adam Schrock made the all conference team. Freshman Emma Tolley and Sophomore Stephanie Schrock made the girls all conference team.

Freshman Emma Tolley, Sophomore Stephanie Schrock and Junior Alexon Bailey lead the pack in the Tri-county Invitational.

Carrie Funk and Kaylen White take a stroll as they go to get water. The two girls had a very successful season.

Freshman Emma Toley receives a medal at the Tri County Invitational. Toley received 10th place.

Seniors Alex Jackson, Adam Schrock, and Dakotah Robbins show off their trophy. These three seniors work hard and lead the team fearlessly.

Piggy back ride anyone? After a season with each other, these boys become more like brothers.

One of Junior Alison Bailey's favorite memories of the season was when Coach Smith would always tell them "FUGOEM" - Fred Up Goin Crazy Every Minute!

This year, the girls made their own special shirts. Going to someone's house and painting shirts is just one of the ways the girls bonded this season.

The 2010-2011 Dance Team consisted of 9 girls. Co-Captains were juniors Jillian Ellison and Riley Clark. Morgan Gray and Jessie Coapstick were also juniors. As for sophmores we had Taylor Stevens and Rachel Lloyd. And the freshmen, Kebey Baland, Ramee Collins, and Lauren Scott. "Every dancer was new to team with little or no experience at all except Jillian and I, so we had a lot to learn! But none the less, memories were made and we had a ton of fun developing as a team and getting to know eachother. By the end of the season we were all super close and what not. It was fun!" said Riley Clark, about her third year of being a Prairieette. Prairieettes tried a few things different this season to try and raise money for outfits and things needed so the girls didnt have to pay as much out of pocket money. One hot fundraiser was selling red "sillybandz" and the shpaes of gopher heads."

"The kids loved them! Taking them to the elementary was the biggest seller. Especially for $1, they ate those things up!" stated first year Coach Pletch. Another way the team made money was having a "junior Prairieettes clinic". Hosting elementary kids all day long, teaching them a routine and performing it that night for a small cost and a tee-shirt turned out to be not such a bad idea!

Below: junior Riley Clark and sophmore Taylor Stevens wait for "On Your Merry Way's" music to start to entertain the crowd. Facial expressions was a key term drilled into the heads of the dancers during season. Clark and Stevens are all smiles.

1) Dance shoes are rather famous for their distinctive leather socklike looks, and distinctive smell. "I've had the same shoes for 3 years, all years I've danced. You can't put your clothes and shoes in the same bag. Everything will smell!" said junior Riley Clark. With the amount of time the dancers spend on their feet and not wearing socks, the shoes become a trade mark of dance. "Even magic potion won't work!" exclaimed junior Jillian Ellison after trying every solution possible to rid the smell.

2) The Prairieettes Dance Team 2010-2011 smile in a donut like pose for some group photos. "It was a fun year!" freshman Kebey Baland said of her first season.

◇CHEERLEADERS!

The cheerleading team started out the Fall season with only three girls: sophmores Mary Gick and Chloe Woodruff, and freshman Chebie Steveson (all pictured at left in stance for the national anthem during a football game). Mid way through football season, Coach Dawn Horlacher held another try out to give CP girls one more opportunity to be a part of the Clinton Prairie Cheer Squad. After it was all said and done, Clinton Prairie had 16 cheerleaders to keep the spirit of the school alive and carry out the past traditions. The only downside to the situation was that almost 3/4 of the team had never cheered a day in their lives. But that didn't get their spirits down. Practice Practice Practice! All 16 girls worked after school on form, technique, cheers, formations, and eventually stunts. With the help of coaches and past cheerleaders the girls formed a team in no time! "It was so much fun! The first few days, even weeks I was super sore. But after that it was fun to learn new things and when the stunts didn't fall and went the way we wanted, it was exciting! A good experience for sure!" said junior Emily Benet.

Clinton Prairie Cheerleaders make funny faces for their team photo. This picture is just one example of the individuality each team member has. The girls can stay focused and get work done but they know how to have fun too.

Senior Jesse Dority lines up on the foul line to attempt for the extra points. Dority is a noteworthy offensive player drawing in 30 free throw attempts.

"Tough" "Amusing" "Funny." "Athletic." These are only a few words seniors Jake Morris, Jesse Dority, Chad Timmons, and Kyle Padgett use to describe the basketball team. Even though they were not very successful, the boys had a good time with each other, growing as a team and giving them skills that will last them a lifetime. "I am proud of the team, it was the best senior year I could have asked for," said senior Jesse Dority.

The boys gave their all and played their final game at Tri-Central in a close match during the sectionals. With the fans help, they were able to keep up their battle until the final buzzer sounded. Their final record was 6-15.

Senior Kara Werner dribbles and dodges her defenders down the court. Werner played an important leadership role as pointguard.

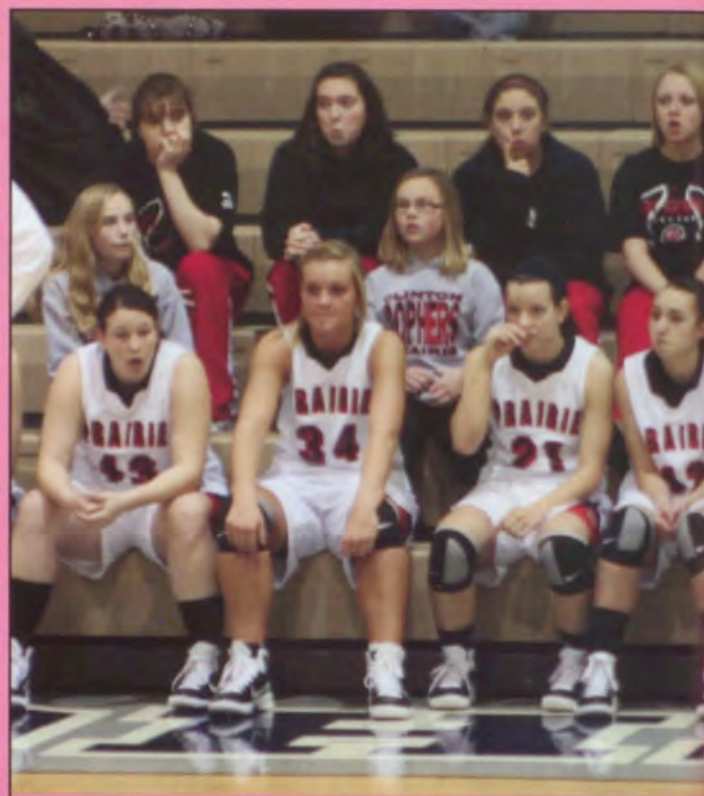

The girls line up for the national anthem. They are decked out in pink for breast cancer awareness.

Over the course of the season this group of girls has become very close, practically family.

Coach Kreg Stockburger, Jason Haid, Heath Johnson and Alicia Alney helped lead the girls to success. They always pushed and persevered, never giving up hope or doubting the girls skills.

Coach's Corner

The girls ended the season with not their greatest record, but certainly not a bad one. Led by a great group of seniors, the team ended 6-13. Coach Haid says "We play extremely hard each game and compete to the best of our abilities. Our highlight of the season was beating Frankfort in overtime and going 2-1 in the county."

Team members Emily Hollis(Junior) and Kara Werner (Senior) are on the All Conference team.

Coach Haid

The team watches as the seniors play their last few minutes of basketball in their high school career. They are true leaders and will be dearly missed.

Senior Elizabeth Geurs starts the game off well by winning the jump ball. Geurs was an important aspect of the team.

Senior, John Gick does "The Gracie" on his opponent. Gick wrestled up a weight class, and still won by tech fault.

"This year we have had a very young team with everyone except one more senior than us next year. With several freshmen and sophomores wrestling for us now, we can continue to grow our squad. Much like this season, we will be looking for big seniors Tyler Casey and Josh Kleh.

One of our two seniors, John Gick, wrestled at 160 pounds and finished 8-15 record. Gick at the time, upset 3 different Ranked Wrestlers in the state, two of them being from Calumet with a record of 29-11! He had some of the biggest wins this year for us. Gick did a great job this year, and his talents will be missed on the mat.

Katie Clark, our other senior, has been a manager for 4 years on the team. As we can honestly say, without her we would be lost. She does everything from state tournaments, to tutoring, to organizing for the team, and more. She will be greatly missed this year, and we have appreciated having her around.

Another one of our biggest match ups of the year was Tyler Casey vs. Josh Kleh. Tyler weighed 185 pounds, but wrestled up at 215 LBS for conference made it to the final against returning champion from Central Catholic. Tyler won by fall in the first period coming from behind, and fighting off his back. This was a huge win for him, and he won with a conference championship at 215!

Nolan Ryan once said, "One of the beautiful things about baseball is that every once in a while you come into a situation where you want to, and where you have to, reach down and prove something."

The Gophers had the initiative it took to make this season a memorable one. They gave 100%, dealt with their losses, and continued forward, always putting forth their best effort. Head Coach Dan Hilgediek said it was a great season and he's very proud of the team. Hilgediek decided this would be his final year coaching for the boys varsity baseball team. He was honored at the end of the season by accomplishing his 300th win.

6. Sophomore Nick McElroy waits at the ready for the pitch. McElroy was an excellent addition to the team this year.

7. Junior Dillon Mang watches intently, waiting for his next move. Mang showed leadership throughout the season.

we will always be we will always be ready for "go!"
we will always be we will always be

Junior Jamie Dority limbers up. Stretching before a race, he prepared himself for a first place.

Senior Slayd Schimmel crosses the finish line first. He always put out 110% in the 100 meter dash.

Senior Jordan Hammel runs down the track and over all the hurdles. No obstacles in his path can slow him down.

er

Junior Kaylen White is set and ready for the gun to fire. She placed first in the 100 Meter hurdles. Along with being very successful in long jump, White is known for being unstoppable in hurdles.

Freshman Dallas Miller and sophomore Steven Good finish strong in the 1600 meter run. They dug deep to ensure a good time on the stopwatches.

Junior Joey Silva, is counting his steps, breathing deep, as he recalls all the instructions from Mr. Buschman. Fearlessly he ran to pole vault.

Track is known as the universal sport. There is an event for everyone. But what may not be seen at face value, is that each team member has to work very hard to obtain their personal goals, as well as their team's goals. The only way to break records, is to push one's self to the limit every time they practice. This is what makes them ready when the gun fires. Hard work and determination, will make an athlete ready for when the host says "Go!".

Because each track member and each track event is so different, the team has to stay united by cheering each other on. It is not uncommon to see half of the team yelling and screaming support to their teammates during a race. We may have a small team, but they are united and strong.

Junior Travis Engle clears the practice rope. He was confident enough from his warm up to have a successful pole vault in competition as well.

Senior Taylor Perkins lands a perfect jump. The team would stand by and cheer her on.

Freshman Brooke Taylor sits with the girls and entertains them with stories before the meet. After being together and socializing, long lasting friends are easily made in sports.

Junior Blake Harkins says the worst part about golf is the mental stress over personal scores. Harkins, reportedly, has one of the best personal scores on the golf team.

Coach Aaron Coe and Junior Brandon Wines hang out in the golf cart during a meet. Wines explains, "You take the averages at practice and the six best scores go to the meet, but only four of those six golfers actually participate. It's like taking the good players and then taking the best players from that."

Sophomore Grant Doyle sits and waits for a meet to start. "Golfing keeps me sane" says Doyle.

Seniors

Senior Jake Morris lines up for a putt. Morris loved going to all the different courses, but he says that Fox Prairie was his favorite.

Senior Jesse Dority describes his funniest memory, "One day Jake and I got out of school early and went to Walmart. we came back with bright pink hats, and Coe yelled at us for being stupid, but that night we shot our best personal scores of the season"

We Will Always Be 'We Will Always Be bowlin' on We Will Always Be We Will Always Be

It is not uncommon to hear Junior Alexis Williams saying "I can't wait to go to bowling tonight!" The bowling team has and will always be a fun group. They enjoy each other's company whether they are practicing or competing.

The back of their t-shirts quote Phil Collins "In the Air Tonight". Instead of saying "Hold on", it says "Bowl on". With these creative shirts and a passion for bowling, the team will always bowl on.

Each member has to prepare to bowl. Sophomore Logan Harris is limbering up before practice.

Junior Chelsea Fleener is always one that is content to be around the team. The reason Chelsea Fleener loves going to bowling is, "You get to see your friends!"

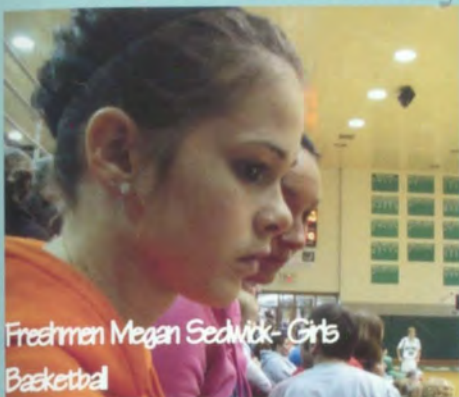

Freshman Jammie Williams is waiting for her next move. She has the help of her coach behind her to guide her also.

Sophomore Kenton Little sends his ball flying with impressive force and form. His teammates stood behind him in awe.

Freshman Tristan Knox says, "You wouldn't believe it but, Bowling is a contact sport."

Sydney - She did not have to be in an art class to get artsy

Although Mrs. Chapin Brown taught for three years in the elementary, she is knew to the high school. Brown has brought her understanding and love for art to her students, so they can enjoy it as much as she does.

Whether it is assigned, extra credit or just for entertainment, students are getting artay- fantasy in their own special way. Some students design their own creations, while others give their personal touch.

Being encouraged to get creative, teaches students to have their own ideas. When we have free-thinkers, we can be sure to have a better advancing world. Thanks to Mrs. Brown and other teachers, our students are making our world a better place as well as entertaining.

With art, one can exercise creative liberty. Creative liberty is the freedom to make whatever you want, however you want, and for whatever purpose. Using this makes the artist truly feel free. This is what being artay-fantasy is all about.

This is Dirty Dan Da Man. He is third hour 2-D Arts mascot. He was used during a painting project to inspire creativity.

Good supplies make great artists. These basic utensils can unlock the creations within the mind.

Sophomore Shane Thomas meticulously paints a t-shirt. This was one of the freelance projects that Mrs. Brown encourages. It leaves plenty of room for creativity.

We Will Always Be We Will Always Be going for gold We Will Always Be We Will Always Be

"Uno Maé!" "One more time!" For seniors, The Pride of Prairie Marching Band 2010 show, was their last. It was their last time calling the band to attention, their last time singing their part on a bus, or even their last time running it back.

Even though it was their last time for many things, some things will never change. They have all learned how to apply themselves, and they will always be going for gold. The skills of perseverance, that each band student has at one point obtained, will be helpful and necessary for their life beyond high school. Everyone that has been blessed with the opportunity to be a part of a marching band this close, has also been given a means to success.

The seasons will change, but the love of music will never end. The hard work and dedication the band has spent will not be forgotten. They will always have stories that start out: "One time at band camp...". There will always be band jokes that no one else fully understands. "We're together so much we have become one big family!" -Senior Nina Myers

"Variations on the Canon" was the title of the show. In the show, the musicians played a version of Pachelbel's Canon, which is popularly known as the wedding march. This is ironic, because two of the band's instructors were married the same month as the start of the season.

The band has improved in many ways this year because of great leadership. The directors and seniors have all done a wonderful job and it shows. The band has received a gold scoring in both district and regional competition, along with the highest scoring in our school history. So for one more time, Hats off to you all!

This page is dedicated to the musicians in our school. Being involved in music these days is extremely hard but a great, fun way to express ones self. Music is not just something we listen to, it is something we feel. It is great that we have so many students involved in such a wonderful activity. So to all the rockers, the blues lovers, or classical music admirers, keep playing and singing, and support music anywhere you go.

Clinton Prairie, although very small, is built up of many different individuals. We have our cliques, but that doesn't stop us from expressing ourselves. Each student is unique in their own way in something that sets them apart from each other. In life, it won't matter what actions you took, or what you said. However, what you did with your words and actions will always be remembered. Don't be just another face in the crowd, student in a classroom, or member of a club or organization. Instead, be leaders set apart as individuals that are looked up to. Make your life meaningful, and be proud of it. Unfortunately the truth is sometimes you will fail. You won't always be the one to come out on top.

"Keep trying, hold on, and always, always, always believe in yourself, because if you don't, then who will, sweetie? So keep your head high, keep your chin up, and most importantly, keep smiling, because life's a beautiful thing and there's so much to smile about."

I will always be I will always be the 2011 Editor I will always be I will always be

Being on the yearbook staff comes with a great amount of responsibility. Everything from documenting every event, getting all the pages done on the deadline, to capturing that perfect photo. Plus on top of all that there is homework from other classes, after school activities, such as a job or sports. Needless to say, in the end the students who worked hard on this this product won't even get as much as a credit in the class. There is a great amount of work, time, and effort that is put into making the yearbook, and I don't think that my staff recieved enough credit.

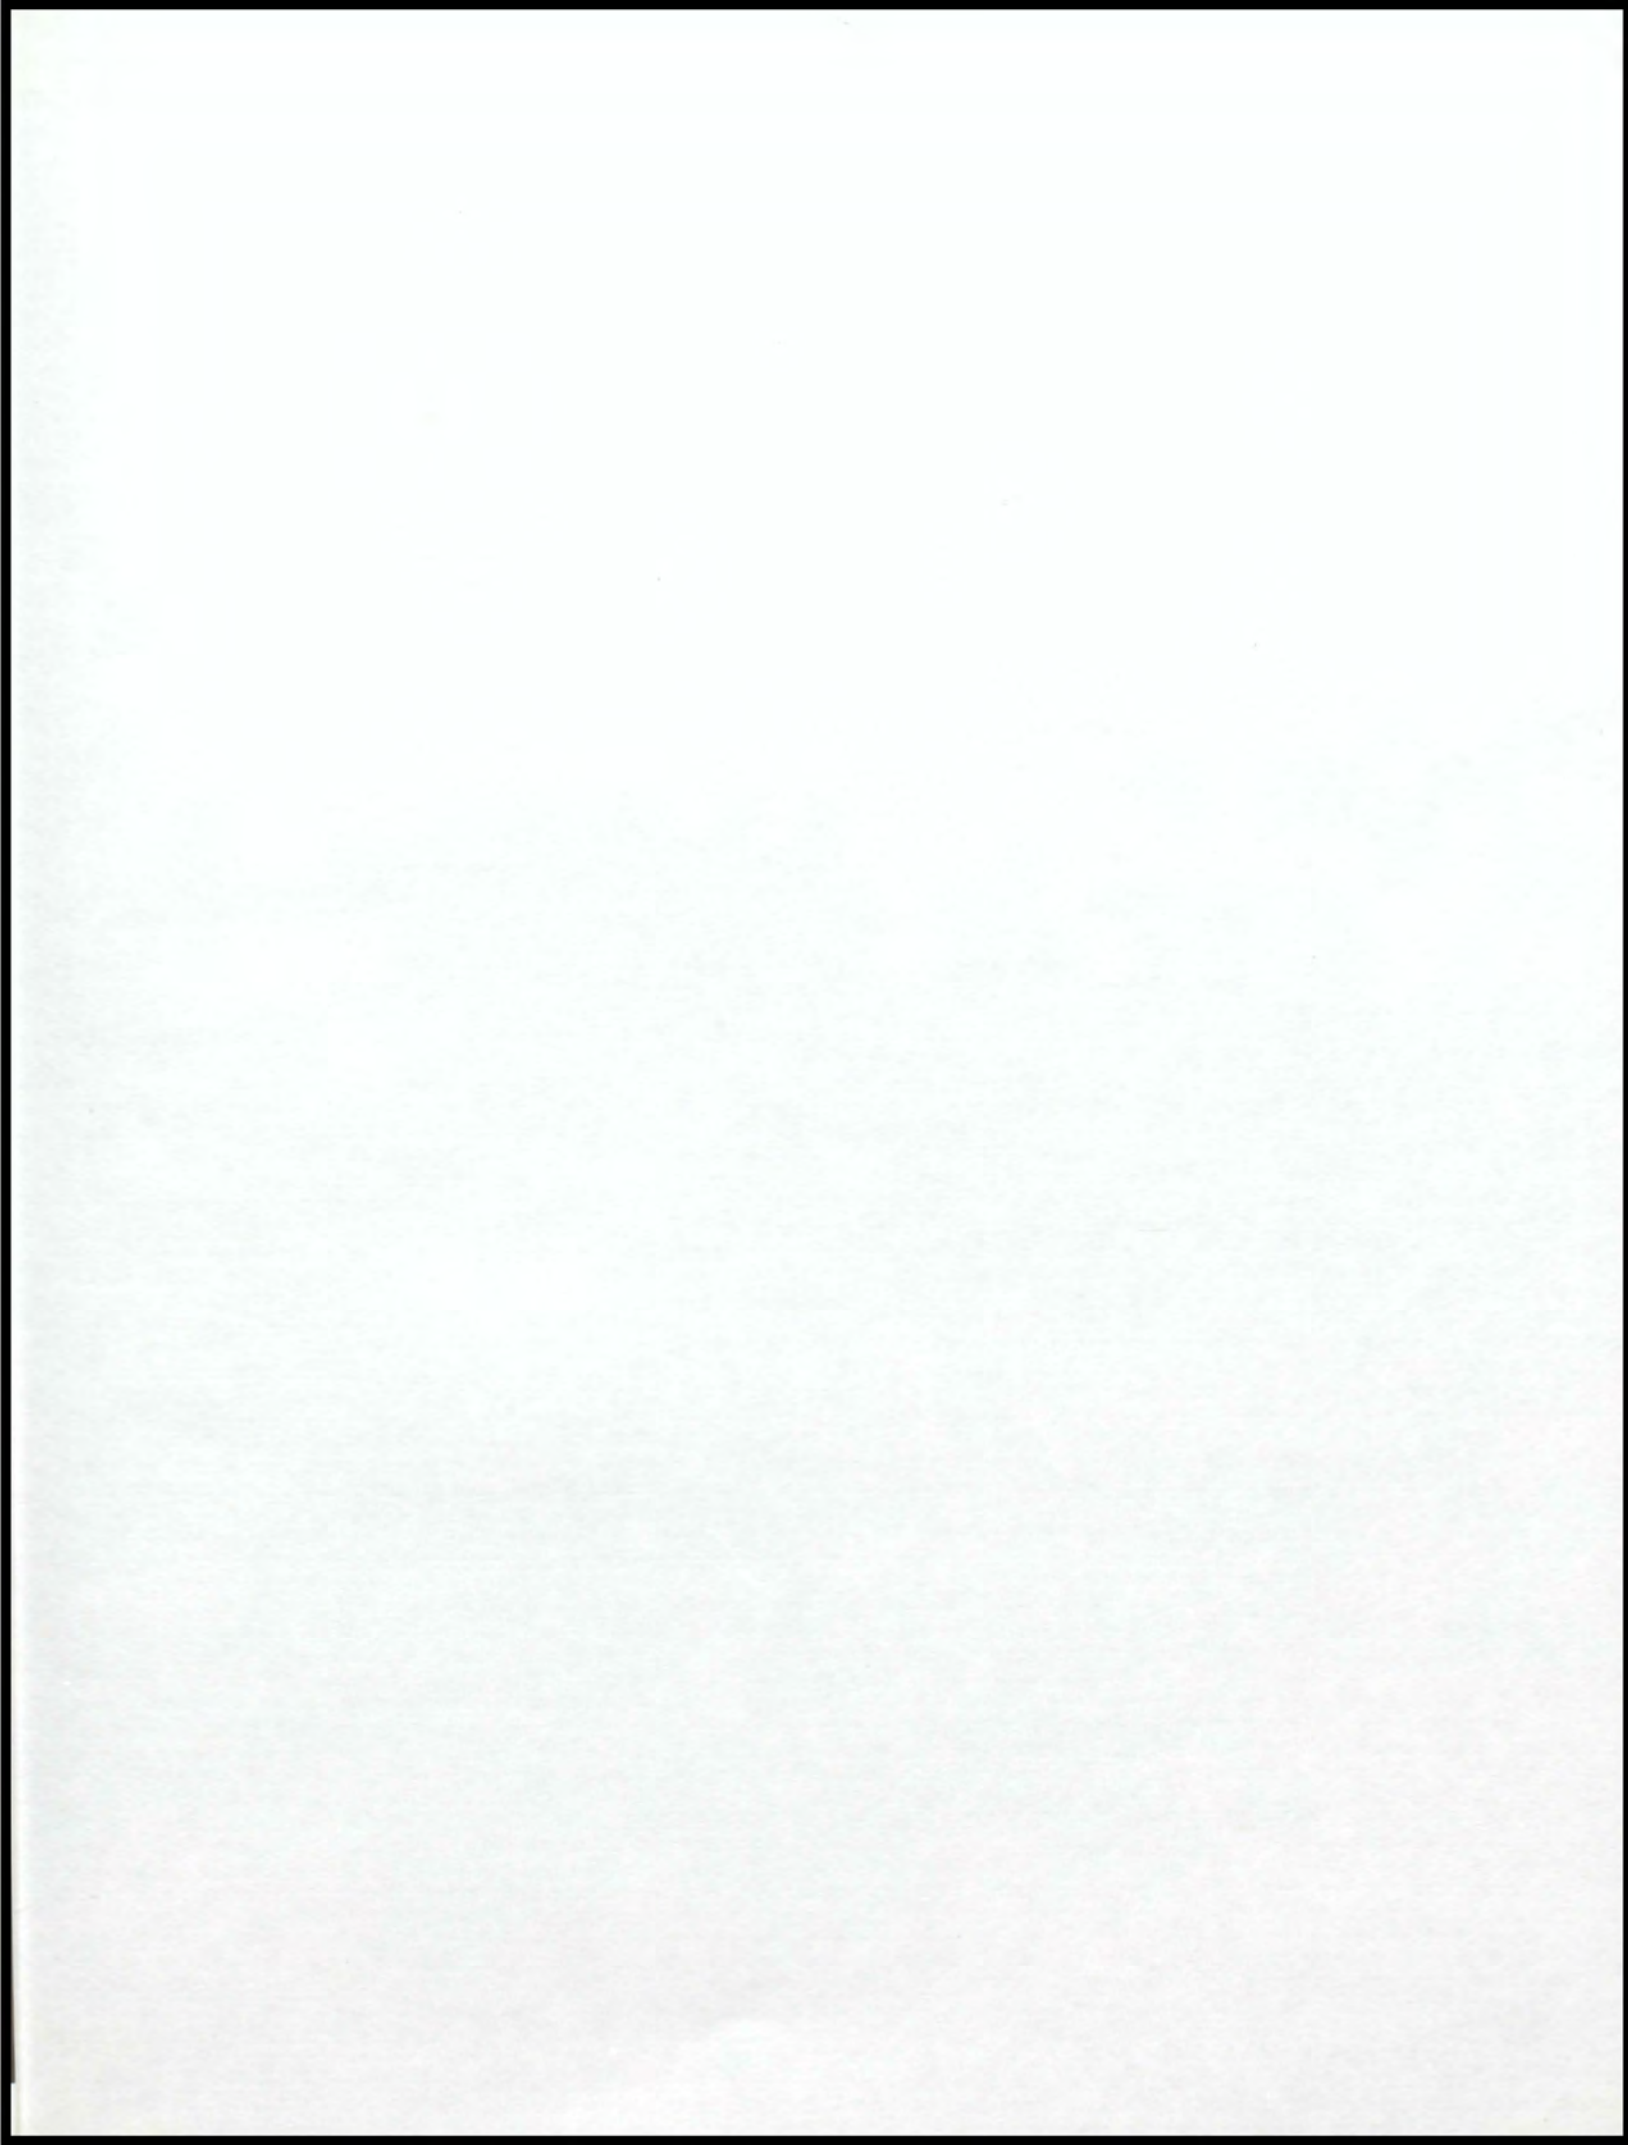

Kate- I start with you because not only are you my best friend, you have been "my right-hand lady" throughout this whole year. I can remember both of us being up at the wee hours of the morning, and having chats on facebook while working on this book. If I needed anything you were always there for me; in and out of the classroom. I can't thank-you enough for everything you've done for me. Leaving you here while I go off to Missouri is going to be one of the hardest things I'm ever going to have to do. It's hard to think of how life will be without you around, but I guess we both knew this day would be coming. I'll miss you while I'm in Missouri and you're at Ball State, but it's good to know you're just a phone call away. Love you girl, and again, thanks for everything! (: Sydney- Giiiirl! I don't even know where to start! Basically, you kept me sane throughout this whole year! You know how to make me laugh at any given moment! I wish I could just pack you in my suit case, and take you with me wherever I go! Sadly, we both know I can't. (: However, I do want to point out that you take AMAZING photos. Thank-you for your awesome photography, because without it half of the pictures in this yearbook wouldn't be here. Riley- Thanks for all your hate faces and being blunt about everything. (: With you, I could tell if you absolutely hated an idea, or if you actually did love it; which to be honest is more helpful than you think. Also thank-you for creating both cover ideas we had! You took a ton of stress off my shoulders, and I loved both creations you came up with! Jillian- I'm not going to lie, at first I was a little apprehensive about having a class with you and Riley. We don't really share a lot of the same friends; however, after the year went on, that quickly changed! (: You're a very hard worker, and I'm glad that I chose you to be editor next year! I'm warning you, at some points you'll want to literally pull your hair out! However, in the end I swear it's worth it. Don't lose sight on the ideas you've already shared with me about next year. You're an incredible leader, and I know with your hard work and dedication everything will go very smoothly! Shelby- Thank-you for always giving 100%. I knew I could count on you to get a job done quickly and efficiently. You always were one of the firsts to volunteer for jobs that no one else wanted to do. Trust me, I saw that, and it was very much appreciated. Good luck in college, and I'll miss not being able to yell at you and Adam next year! (: Katie- Thanks for the memories. I'll never forget all the times where all I knew do with you is laugh. Even though you can be a ditz, I know you are a very intelligent woman. I appreciated all the times I would ask you to spell check something, or reread a column and tell me what needed fixed. Have a ballin' senior year next year, and make the most of it! It flies by SO FAST! Marissa- Thanks for being on the staff and good luck in college next year. Keep in touch!

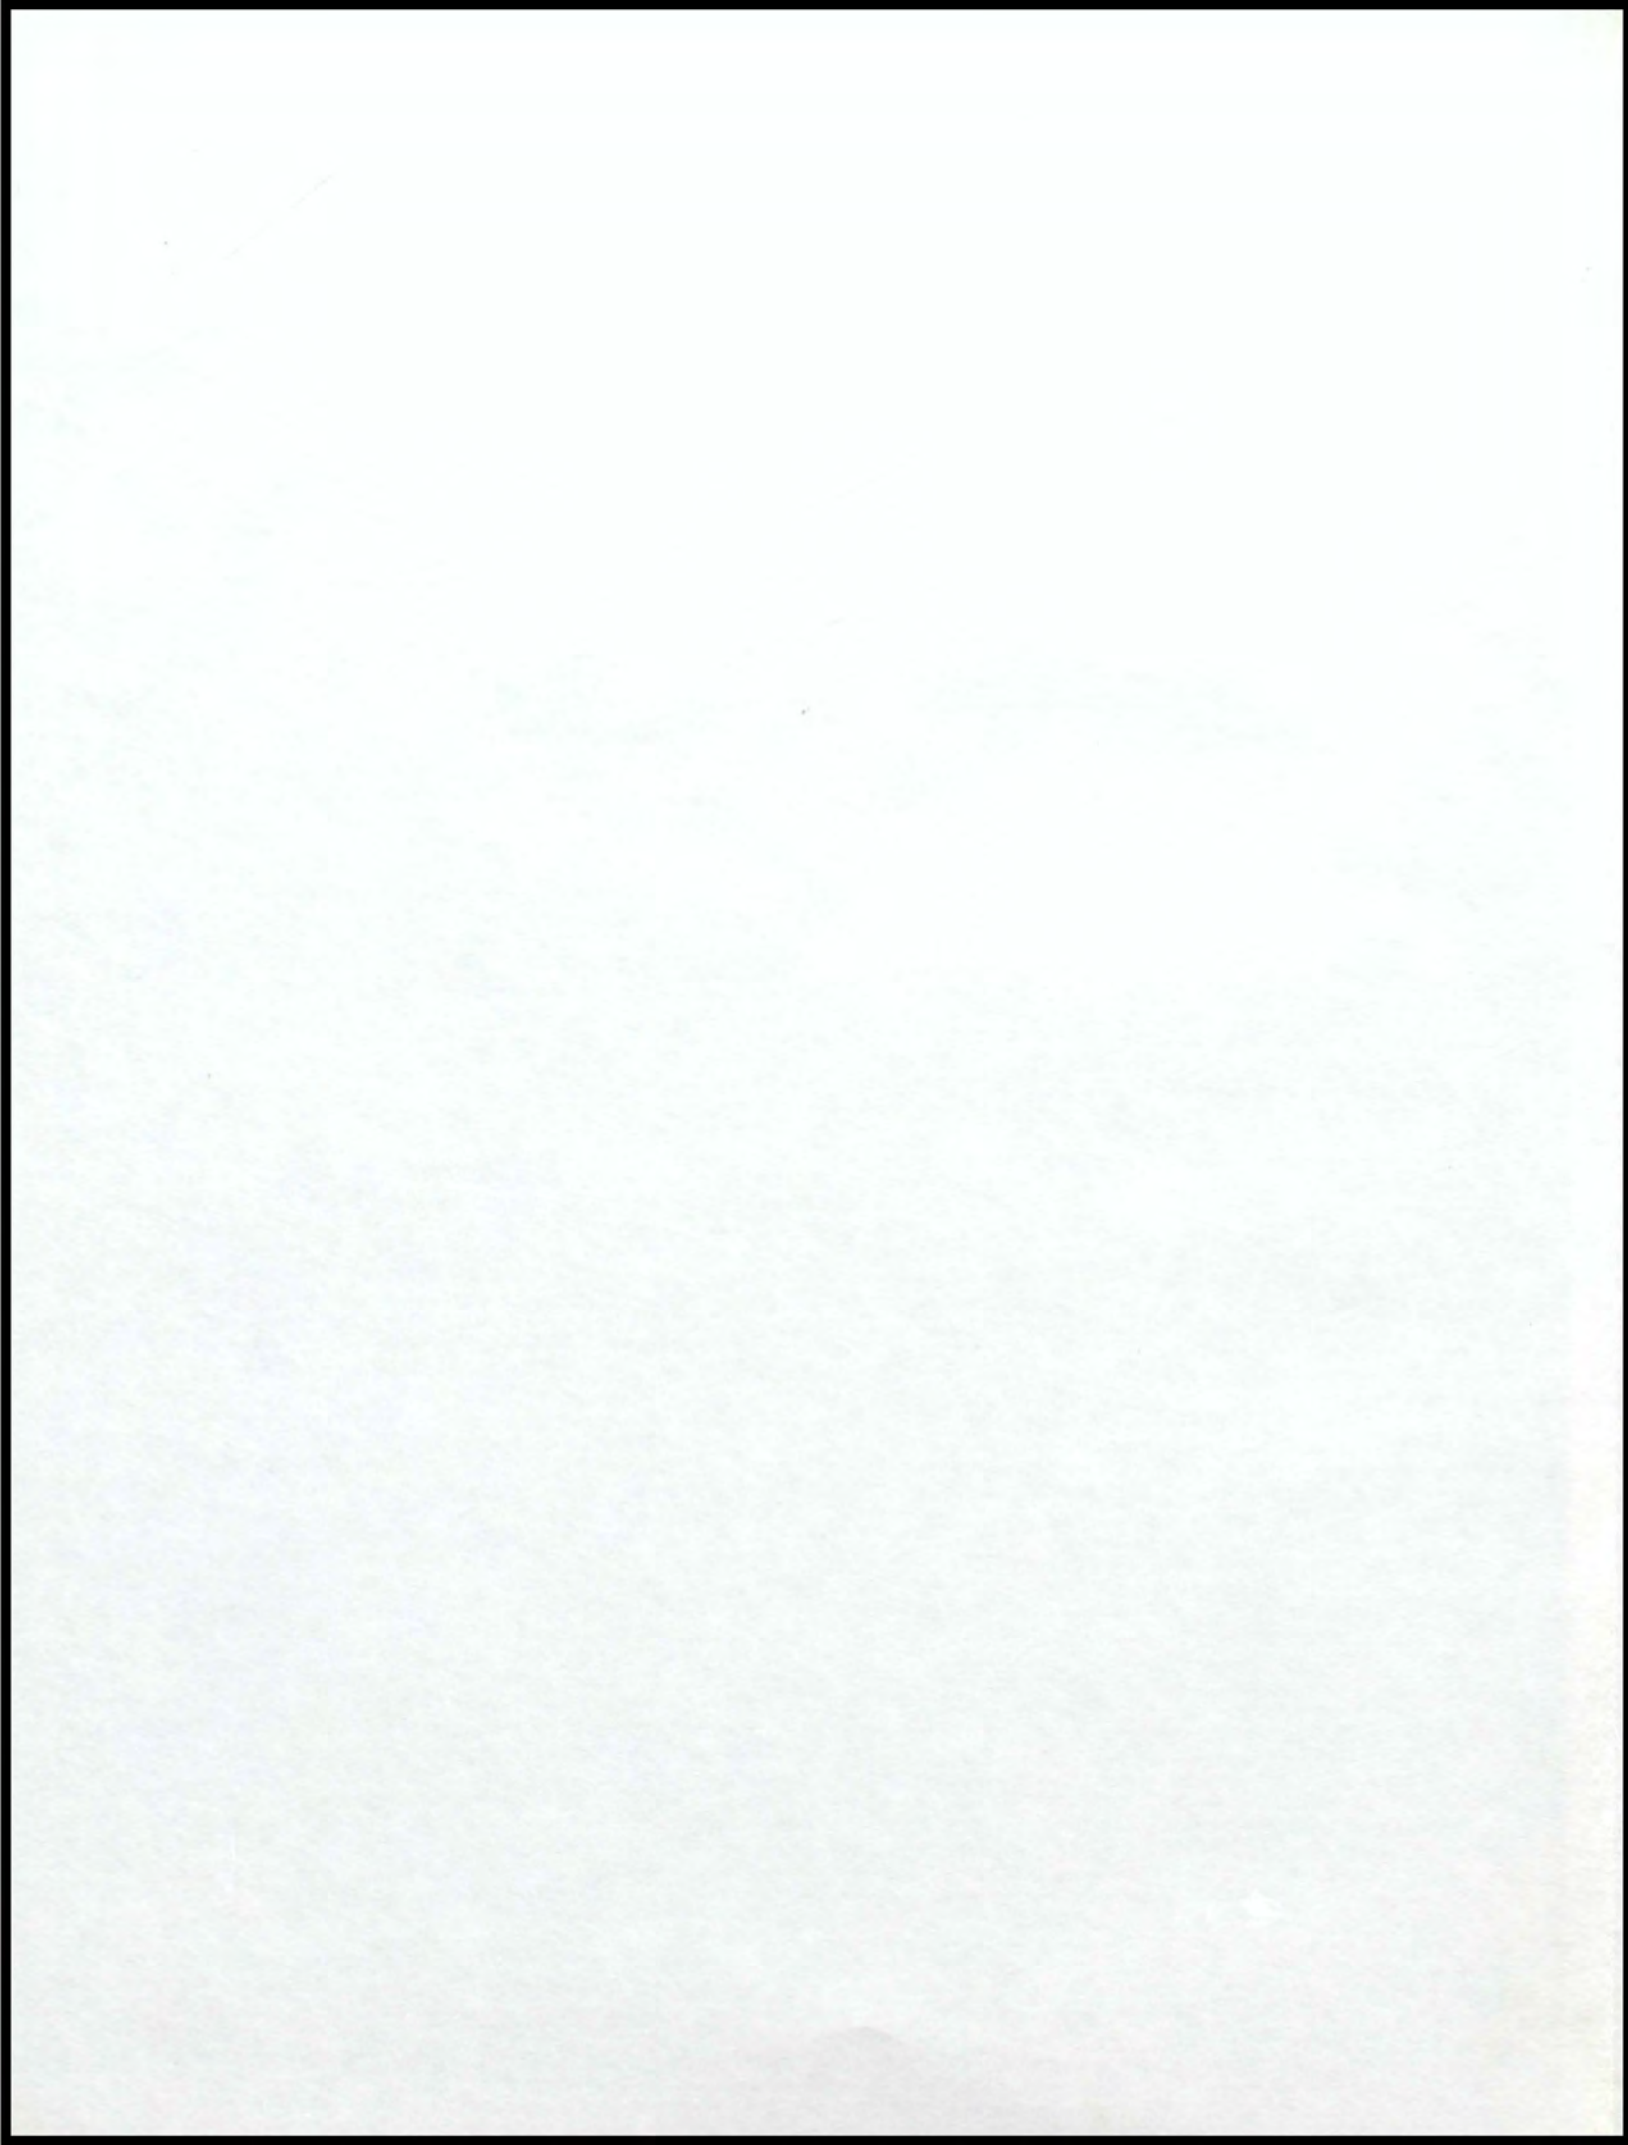

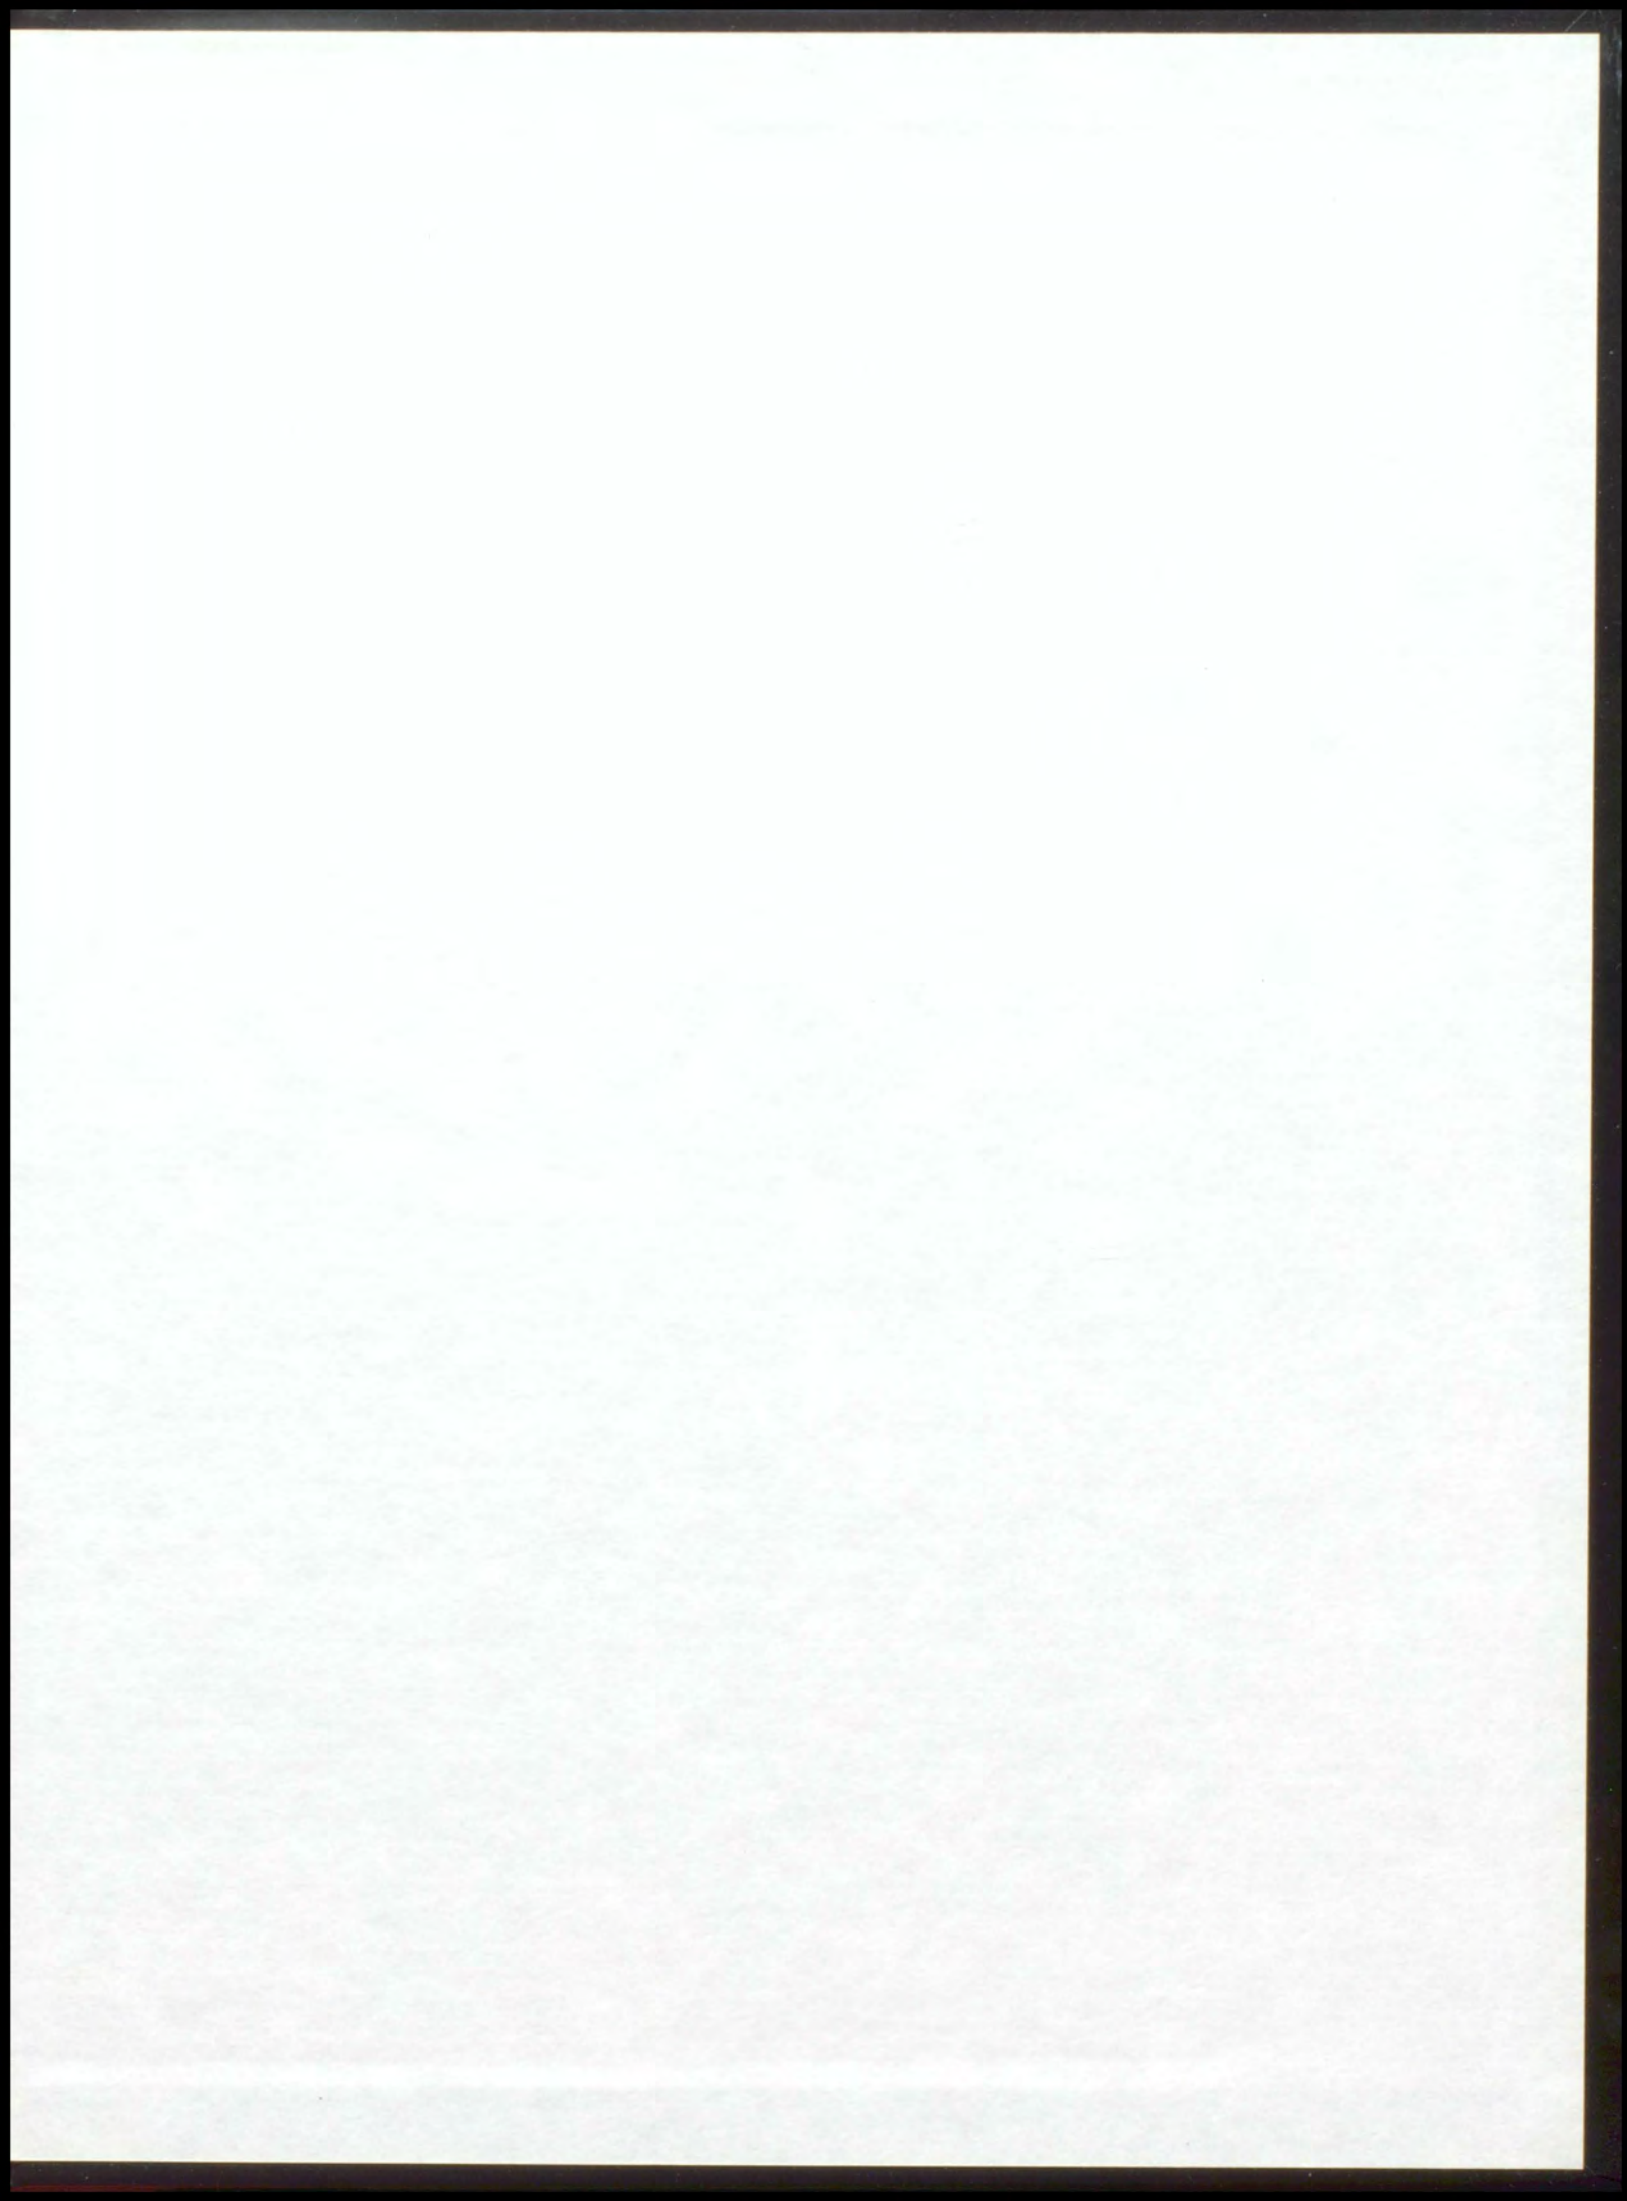

Many hours are spent in and out of the classroom working on this yearbook; even after the school year is over, and the seniors have graduated! As the Editor for the 2010-2011 Yearbook Staff, I ask you, the reader, to appreciate the hard work that the yearbook staff and Mrs. Abney put into making this product. This book is put together through many hours that could have been spent doing something else; such as a study hall. Are you on every page? No. But did we try? Yes. Is EVERY event in here? No. Again, did we try? Yes. My staff was very valuable to me, and I know that they deserve more than what they recieved; especially Mrs. Abney. Mrs. Abney isn't apart of the staff; she's the advisor. Meaning, she does WAY more work than any of us ever did. I know for a fact that I am going to miss having her as someone to look up to, talk to when I'm down, and for coaching me to be a better leader. I wasn't very prepared to take on the responsibility of Editor at first, but thanks to her I believe I am a more confident and better leader because of it.

Thank-you Clinton Prairie for all the friendships, obstacles, and memories. -Elizabeth C. Geurs
