This is my

Temporary

Where I come from There's a pickup truck with the tailgate down
 Where I come from
 That little white church is gonna have a crowd

*Where the quarterback dates the homecoming queen
The truck's a Ford and the tractor's green
And Amazing Grace is what we sing
Where there's a county fair every Fall
And your friends are there no matter when you call*

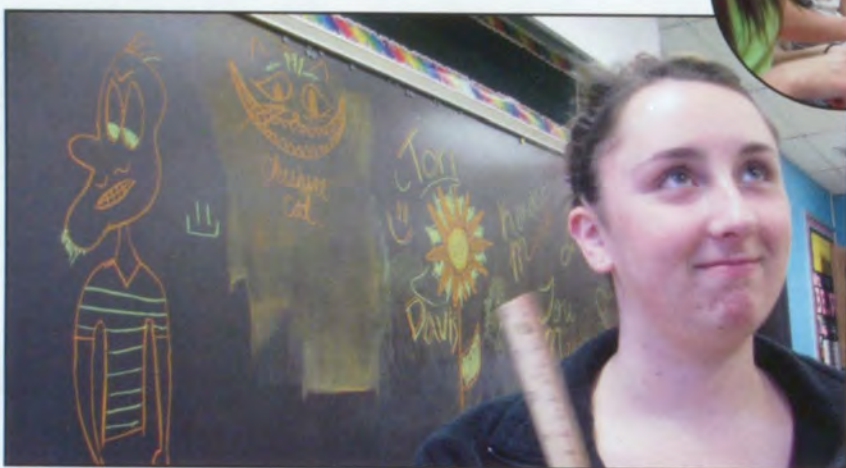

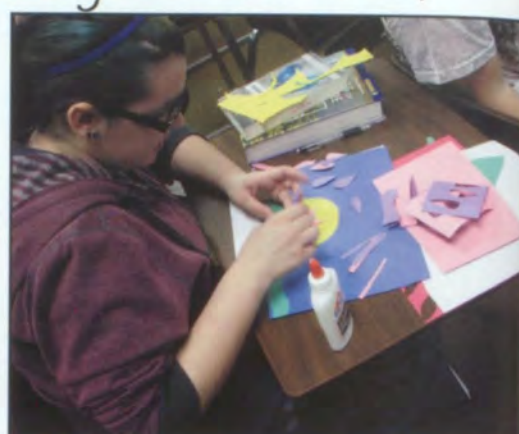

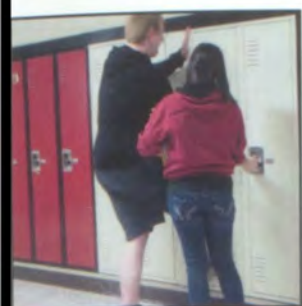

Home

Old dirt road and I'll be just fine
Give me a Sunday

grace
A simple life and I'll be okay here in small

My wish, for you, is that this life becomes all that you want it to,

Your dreams stay BIG and your worries stay small

Summer Lovin' happened so fast

Summer is the one time of year that students fondly look back on and never stop looking forward to. It is a time for concerts on all days of the week, camping with friends, and constantly being on the go. "I was so glad that I got the chance to go camping with my friends on the Wildcat Creek. It was definitely an awesome experience to wake up and be able to go fishing," said sophomore Michael White. This past summer included a lot of firsts for many students ranging from wrestling a pig to participating in one of the biggest fundraisers in the nation. No matter what grade you are in, you can always count on summer being the one time of year that will always hold some of the best memories.

Sophomore Monty Young meets one of the many bands at Vans Warped Tour. "It was so cool to meet all of the different people that were there!" said Young.

Seniors Andrea Sheppard and Brittney Cook pose with a band member at Vans Warped Tour. "Warped is such a great experience. Everyone needs to go at least once!" said Cook.

Juniors Blake Lehr and Brian Holcombe and Senior Jillian Ellison stop for a quick picture in front of the Yellowcard and Good Charlotte concert. "It was one of the best concerts I have ever been to! I got the drummer from Yellowcard to sign my ticket, and we saw him coming from his trailer before the concert. It was definitely one of the best nights of my life," said Lehr.

Music makes the
come together

Oh, the places you'll go!

Seventh graders Olivia Chaney and Mattie Howe stop for a quick picture in Panama City Beach, Florida.

Eight graders Shawna McDaniel and Emma Coons pose together in Cocoa Beach, Florida.

Senior Morgan Stoner takes a dip with friends while on vacation in California. "I had this really awesome underwater camera that my friends and I used. It took some really great pictures!" said Stoner.

Summer favorites

Student council girls stop and pose together during the candle lighting ceremony at Relay for Life. This was the first year for the High Student Council to hold this event. "It was incredible to see how many people came out to celebrate and give to such a great cause. I'll be looking forward to participating in it next year!" said sophomore Paige Schoonveld.

Senior Alison Bailey teams up with her fellow 4-H girls to take on a pig in the Clinton County Fair's Pig Wrestling Competition. "I had no idea what I was signing myself up for. That was the messiest experience I have ever had!"; said Bailey.

Sophomores Ivey Weflen and Catherine Wines piggyback at Ivey's house. "We couldn't find anything to do so I told Ivey to hop on! We ran around for a little while, but that's just the type of stuff we do." said Wines.

Seniors Mac Decker, Cameron Carlson, and Trent Haynes take a seat outside the movie theater. "We were waiting for our movie to start and didn't want to wait inside the theater so Cameron found some lawn chairs in his trunk and just parked ourselves outside."; said Haynes.

Senior Alison Kozuch stops to admire a rainbow after a quick summer shower. "It was so pretty and vibrant. I was lucky to have a camera on me at the time!" said Kozuch.

The High School Basketball team prepares to leave the school for their annual D-1 camp. "Camp was so much fun! We went to the movies, ran in the rain, and danced in the sprinklers outside our dorm. Our coaches bought us all four quart sized tubs of icecream and took us all to the movies. It was probably one of the most memorable basketball camps I have ever gone too, especially all the times we played baseball in our dorm hallway." said sophomore Tori Martin.

wake me up when September ends

'My favorite part of September was definitely Spirit Week because it was a fun way to show school spirit... OH! and I got a chance to wear my footie-pajamas to school!'
-Andrea Sheppard, Senior

Seniors Morgan Stoner, Sadie Bray, Alison Bailey, and Mac Decker pose in their superhero costumes. As a part of Homecoming, it is tradition that everyone dresses up. The seniors had a chance to have their own fun on school picture day by dressing as super seniors!

Juniors Jasmine Hanna and Brian Holcombe wade through the Spring Creek during the AP Environmental Science field trip. The group tested for macro organisms in the creek that might indicate how polluted the creek was.

Mr. Mojo poses for a self picture during the school convocation. Mojo spoke to students about bully prevention.

Sophomores Micheal Stevens and Glen Robbins with seniors Andrea Sheppard and Katie Katzman pray with substitute teacher Peggy Good at See You at the Pole. Held by the FCA, SYATP is a country wide event where the schools and the community come together and pray.

Seniors Kevin Cripe and Cameron Carlson glance through the information they receive at their first Senior meeting. Senior meetings are usually discussions about things like Graduation and ordering caps and gowns.

September is all about football. Coincidentally, all the home football games were held in September. The guys line up to snap the ball off for a play against the Carrol Cougars. The Gophers ended up coming out on top over the Cougars that game.

Senior Brooke Miller shows her school spirit by playing the vuvuzela. The vuvuzela is the new fad at Clinton Prairie, they are used to pump up the crowd and also annoy and distract the other team.

Z-Club poses for a picture after the 2011-2012 initiation. Z-Club completes various projects throughout the year for community service. Junior Kaitlyn Dunham said, "Z-Club does a lot of fun activities throughout the year to service the community. I enjoy being part of the group because the girls make the best of all situations."

small town homecoming queen...

By: Brooke Miller and Emily Hollis

The homecoming game's final score was 21-14. The Gophers fell to the Tri-Central Trojans. The team struggled against the rain all night as well as the homecoming representatives.

When asked his favorite memory of the game, Junior, Nick McElroy says, "When I scored the first touchdown of the game after sitting out the first quarter. The team fought hard even though we lost."

Senior, Riley Clark smiles along with her senior escort, Chase Schimmel, as she goes to receive her crown. "Honestly, I was surprised, as any other person would be who won. The typical, 'I never thought it would be me,' feeling. I was happy that I got voted on the court, but winning was even better. The whole week was fun. I'll be excited to come back and award the next queen her crown."

Smells like... TEAM spirit!

By: Brooke Miller and Emily Hollis

Right: Coach Brad Clark says, "I had tons of fun at the powderpuff game, but the black team had NO idea what they were doing. They all seemed very confused."

1. Seniors show off their senior citizen spirit for homecoming week! Senior, Hannah Coons, says "I had so much fun on senior citizen day. It was entertaining to see everyone's impressions of old people."

2. Sophomore, Katherine Wines, panics when she receives a pass, while senior coaches Brandon Wines and Kevin Cripe try to direct her next move.

3. A lot of fun and laughter is shared during the game. Senior, Cameron Carlson, laughs at a teammate as Juniors Jasmine Hanna and Kelsey Dunham wrestle each other down after a play.

5. Seniors Emily Bennett and Elana Costello help their fellow Senior superhero, Mac Decker soar through the school. Superhero day was only for seniors since the underclassmen had school picture day.

4. Catwoman, also known as Senior, Carrie Funk, decorates the library window for spirit week.

7. Freshmen Shelby Puetz and Stacy Kleemen pose for a quick shot on generation day. They were babies!

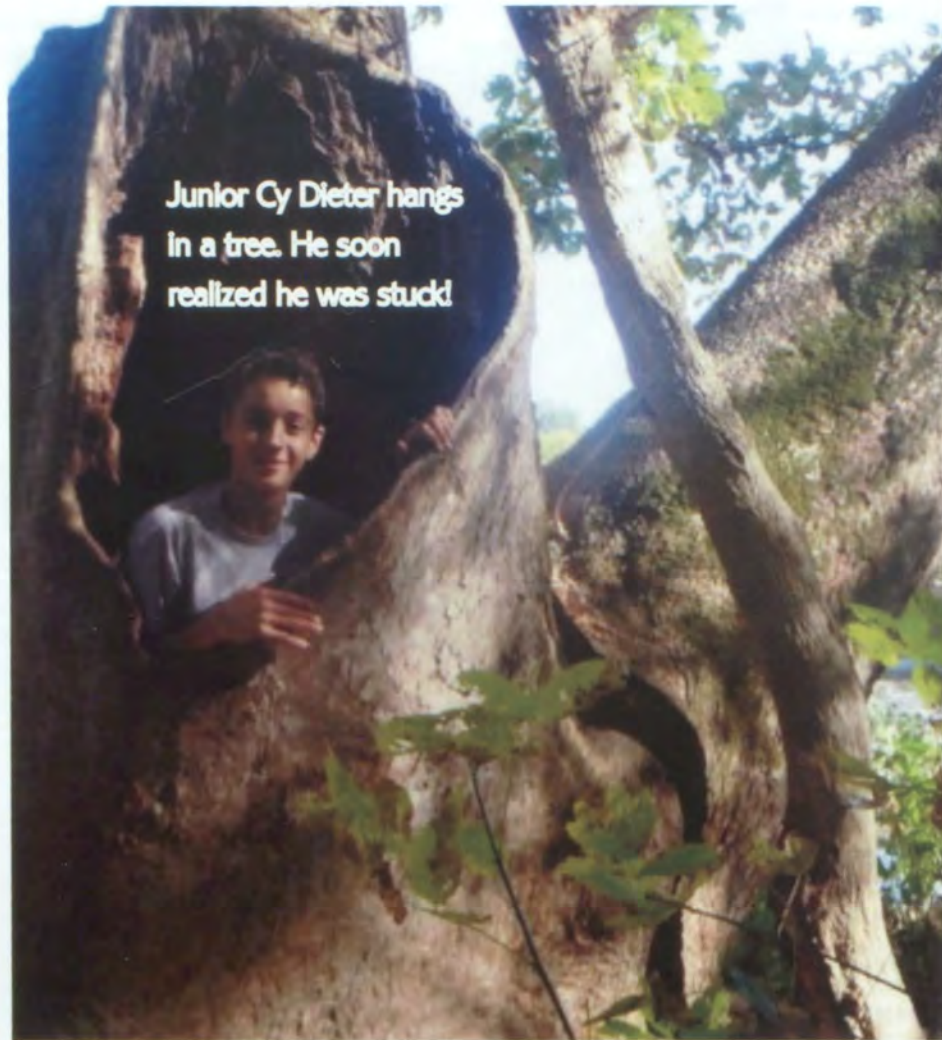

6. Lauren Scott, sophomore, sleeps with her pillow pet on generation day. Sophomores were to dress as toddlers. Lauren sported her warm pajamas and held her pillow friend tightly all day.

Do You Get Nervous for Report Cards?

Below: Senior Volleyball girls Jessie Coapstick, Brooke Miller, and Hannah Coons take a break from the game to be recognized on senior night. Freshman Stephanie Blubaugh said of the seniors, "They taught me how to hit so much better. They were always really nice and egged me on when we were playing."

Junior Cy Dieter hangs in a tree. He soon realized he was stuck!

In support of the Sectional game, students think creatively and decorate their own shirts. Senior Bryce Derhammer said, "It was a crazy night because it was such a close game! It was fun cheering the

October Events

Fear Farm

Students pose in professional hair and make-up.

Each volunteer was given their own station to act as monsters and scare the visitors passing by. Senior Emily Bennett said, "It was fun! I love scaring people even though I was not attractive looking."

Turkey Run

The Junior AP English class gathers under a cliff at their Turkey Run field trip. They spent the day making photo journals of nature found in the novel, The Call of the Wild. Junior Kaitlyn Dunham said, "It was a very interesting trip. It was hilarious because we found this tree and Cy wound up crawling through the bottom. He got stuck, and it was even funnier watching him try to get out!"

FFA Convention

Junior Shane Thomas takes a minute to strike a pose in his sunglasses at the FFA Convention in Indianapolis. FFA members spent the day at the career show and had lunch at Famous Dave's. They later enjoyed an evening at the Blake Shelton concert.

that's how it's supposed to be..

The Fall Formal is a chance for everyone to forget about the stress of school and put on their dancing shoes. The theme of the dance was Electric Avenue and was sponsored by the student council. Students were up on their feet all night. Senior Morgan Stoner said, "The fall formal was such a blast! It turned out to be fun without dates. It's always nice when everyone come together for events like this."

Just dance

A group of students dance the night away. The dance was definitely a night to remember.

A group of sophomores dance to the "Cupid's Shuffle." The "Cupid's Shuffle" was a familiar song that brought many students to the dance floor.

Juniors Sierra Ragains and Christian Wright share a moment on the dance floor. Slow songs always set the mood for couples at a dance.

Right: Seniors Cameron Carlson and Jessie Coapstick dance on the middle of the room after being crowned King and Queen. Coapstick said, "I was very excited and surprised to hear my name called for Fall Formal queen. I don't usually win a lot of things, so it was nice to win this."

Senior Jamie Dority and Junior Jasmine Hanna smile at the camera. Hanna said "I had a great time at the fall formal because I got to hang out with all my friends and of course my amazing boyfriend. They all made it a great time."

Freshmen Merrick McGraw, Doug Coapstick, and Darrell Ragan and Junior Chad Wright pose for a crazy picture with glowsticks. Glowsticks were used as table decoration and party favors.

Foreign Exchange student Marianka Fien and Junior Kenton Little pose for a great dancing picture at Formal. Fien said "I had a great time at the fall formal especially because it was a whole new experience for me. It's just awesome to get to know some of the of the Junior Porfi Matias and Senior Sydney Courser share a loving moment on stage. Courser (Della) and Matias (Jim) were the lead couple during the first act of the play, The Gift of the Magi.

Junior Allison Spray (Mrs. Boyd) closely studies Senior Sydney Courser (Della) as they have a heart to heart conversation during The Gift of the Magi. Spray has been involved with the drama club since her sophomore year.

The Gift of the Magi & Uh Oh! Here Comes Christmas!

Sophomore Karlie Hill and Senior Katie Katzman smile for the photo opportunity. Hill and Katzman were only two of the many cast members who helped make the show a Christmas time hit.

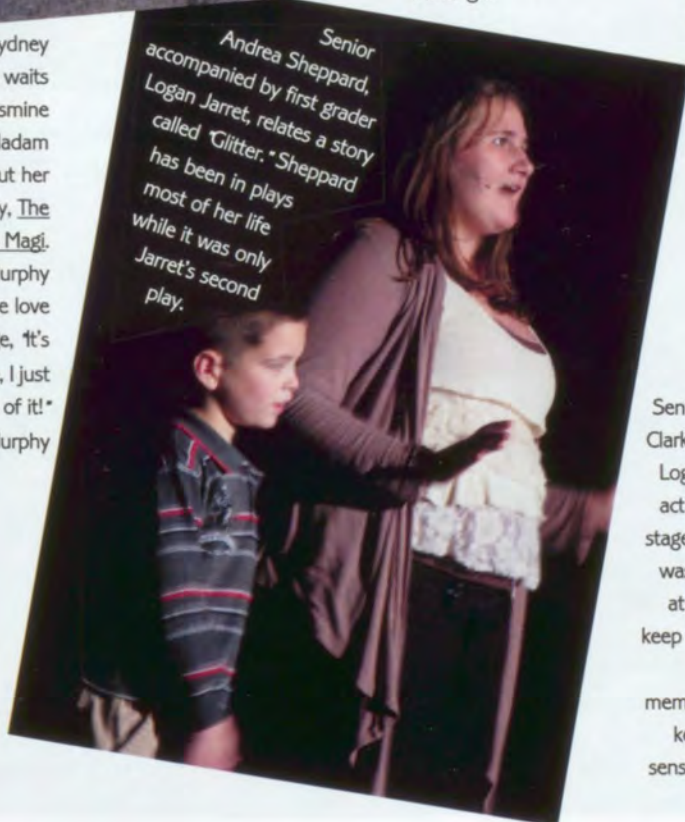

Senior Alison Kozuch narrates for the story The Gift of the Magi. It was Kozuch's first year on stage and she stated after her performance "I've always been behind stage and it was nice being on stage for a change."

"What play should we do this year guys?!" was the first thing director, Julie Miller, said to her cast. After narrowing it down to two plays, the ensemble decided to perform The Gift of the Magi and a few selections from the play Uh-Oh! Here Comes Christmas! With the selection choice, everyone had their chance at a part. "It was the best choice for the group," said Miller, "we had so many great actors that I wanted to give them all a fair chance for performing." The Drama Club season was filled with ups and downs but in the end, the production turned out to be a total success. "This year was a lot less stressful than the past years," said junior Freida Weber, "I wanted to pull my hair out at some times, but it all paid off in the end when we took our final bow."

Senior Sydney Courser (Della) waits for Junior Jasmine Murphy (Madam Zafroni) to cut her hair in the play, The Gift of the Magi. Courser and Murphy both shared the love of being on stage, "It's like chocolate, I just can't get enough of it!" said Murphy

Senior Andrea Sheppard, accompanied by first grader Logan Jarret, relates a story called "Glitter." "Sheppard has been in plays most of her life while it was only Jarret's second play."

Senior Amanda Clark and Junior Logan Harness act silly behind stage. Backstage was very tense at times so to keep their sanity, the cast members had to keep up their sense of humor.

I'll forever remember

Senior Kayla Howe shows her "love" for Justin Bieber. Howe said, "I definitely do not have 'Bieber fever'!"

National Honors Society had their induction. These students worked extra hard to keep their grades up in order to earn this honor.

Junior Tanner Forsythe fakes fighting with senior Travis Vaughn and can't help but laugh.

Seniors Emily Hollis and Travis Engle hug at this year's dating game. Hollis surprised the crowd by picking Engle, the host, for her bachelor.

that November...

Seniors Travis Engle and Chase Schimmel laugh at a funny comment at the Adult Roles Dating Game. Everyone knows the game is always promising for a good laugh and fun surprises.

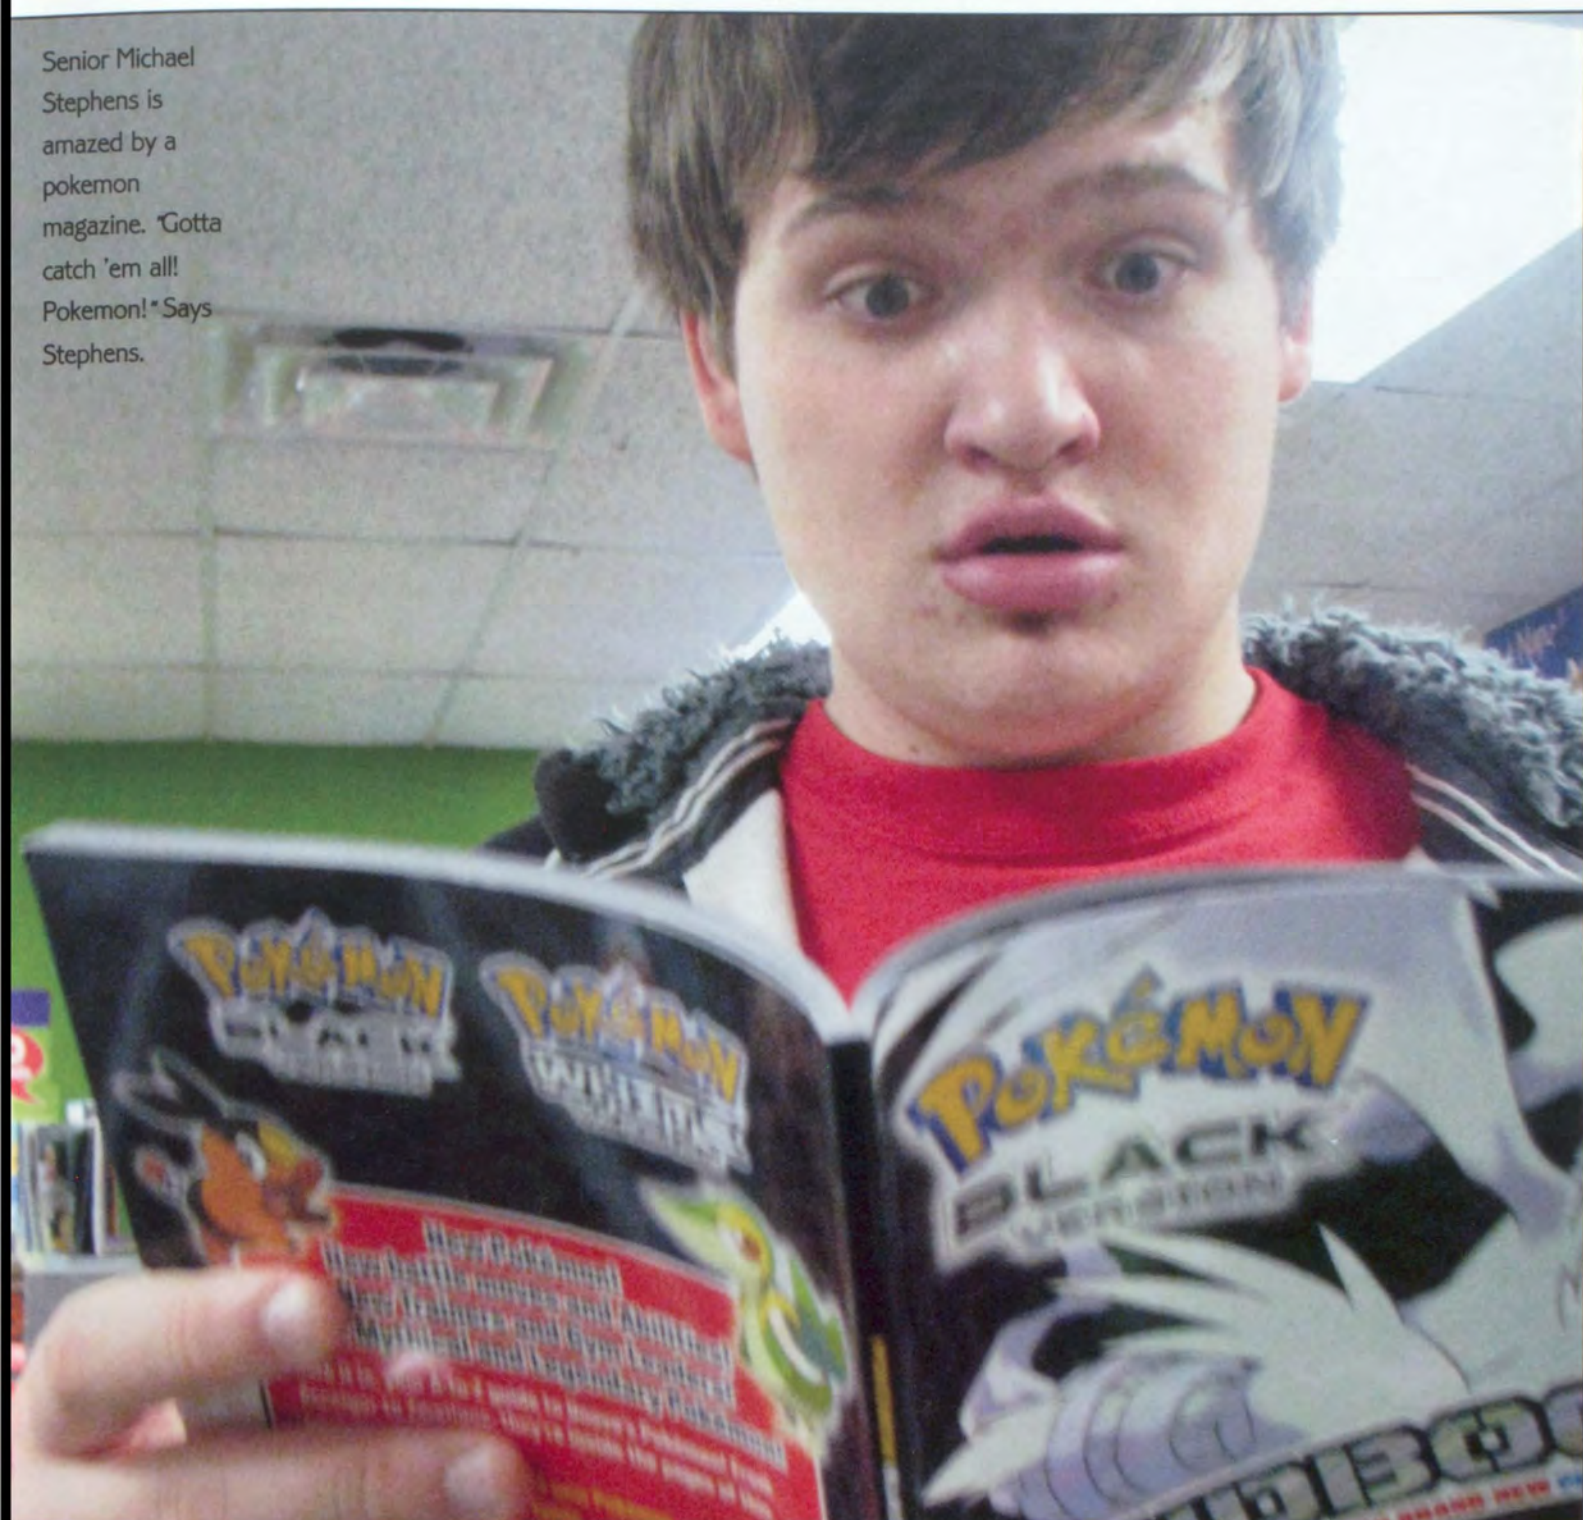

Senior Morgan Stoner poses with junior Stephanie Schrock at this year's Distinguished Young Women Contest. Schrock was Stoner's "little sis."

In the month of November, many events were held that everyone will forever remember. Remember when the Adult Roles class went to Everything OK and Blake Hankins scalded his hand with hot soup? Remember when there were lots of matching dresses at the Fall Dance? Remember when everyone got tattoos? Remember when Travis Engle hosted Trent Haynes' 18th birthday party and called it "Club Red"? Remember when Nick McElroy snuck into the senior group picture at the Fall Dance? Remember when angry birds, fruit ninja, and temple run were the top games to play on your iPhone? Remember when Wednesday was "sweat pants day"? Remember when Mac Miller was on everyone's playlists? Remember when the weather was so out of wack that you could drive with your windows down and it still feel like the end of summer? Remember when.....

Senior Kendra Hufford draws her name on the chalk board during the elementary's Grandparents Day. Many high school students got artistic by helping art teacher Ms. Shearer with her art projects for the kids and grandparents.

Junior Alison Spray and Senior Sydney Courser act in the Fall Play. "The Gift of the Magi," was one of the plays they were both active in.

Senior Brooke Miller poses for a picture with her coaches Mrs. Schilling and Mrs. Garret. Miller was chosen to play on the North All Star volleyball team.

Senior Brandon Wines asks fellow senior Emily Bennett to please quiet down. It looks like Bennett didn't listen.

Seniors Bryce Durhammer and Kyle Horlocher observe a car on the Adult Roles field trip.

Juniors Blake Lehr and Quentin Horlacher play their guitars at Barnes and Noble. Lehr said, "It was a really cool experience. It was like a campfire sing along in a book store!"

Senior Dillon Mang takes part in the tradition of cutting the net at the Clinton Central Holiday Tourney. Senior Cameron Carlson said, "It felt good knowing that I got to experience winning the tourney my senior year."

Seniors Colton Barker, Morgan Gray, and Sadie Bray enjoy skiing one day over Christmas Break. Bray said, "It was a lot of fun until I face planted right into mud!"

To December

The Z-Club girls stop their Christmas celebration to pose for a quick picture. Sophomore Caitlyn Price said, "It was really fun having everyone together especially when you have secret santas! I liked how we got ornaments from Mrs. Scott."

December is a fun month for most students and also a busy month. Many activities are known to take place throughout different clubs. During the holiday season, the High School Student Council participated in the Trim A Tree project at Wesley Manor and passed out homemade blankets to the residents. The high school students are always preparing for finals during the few short weeks before break. When the final bell rings on the last day before break, everyone is in a hurry to get out of the school. This year was not a year known for its snow, so there were no snow days to enjoy. Snowmobiling and sledding were out of the question. However, everyone found ways to enjoy the built in

Seniors Jessie Coapstick and Joey Silva read a book to a little boy During the Book Fair. Coapstick said, "I enjoy volunteering to read at the Book Fair because the kids are really fun and it's a great way to help out our school!"

7th grader Shelby Fox reencountered her first final before Christmas Break. Fox said, "finals are tough so you have to study hard and do

The senior football fans show off their shirts to support their fellow seniors. Students took time after school to paint their sweatshirts. Since the game took place at Clinton Central Highschool, everyone packed up and drove over to watch their gopher football players.

Senior Sydney Courser crazily downs a Peace Tea during a lunch with some fellow Revue cast members. "We took advantage of the nice weather and went to the park for a picnic lunch during rehearsals!" said Courser.

Senior Brittney Cook shows off her massive fake ear during a filming session for the senior Economics class. Economics is a class that is looked forward to every year so that seniors can create products and film commercials for them.

Seniors Alison Bailey and Kaylen White clown around while putting up the display case for the FACS department. Having the senior title is known as being able to have the advantage of a little more fun during the day than most other students are able to.

Senior Blake Scott poses with one of the Madison Township Fire Rescue trucks. Scott has been a volunteer firefighter for the past two years for the his home town of Mulberry.

Right: Seniors Emily Hollis and Brooke Miller give senior Cameron Carlson's fake face a pre-game kiiss. On the boys basketball senior night, parents made replicas of the player's faces to show their support and love

A group of seniors strike a heroic pose during Homecoming week. While everyone else had their school pictures that day, the seniors plotted together and wore super hero outfits so that it would be shown on their school IDs.

Foreign exchange student Marianka Fien gets the CP spirit running high by dressing in the school's mascot costume. Fien was never shy about getting involved with the activities at the school and with everything it had to offer it's students.

Senior Brandon Wines shows a little muscle while carrying his bags on a family vacation. Wines would be known for packing up all of his khaki shorts and going somewhere nice to take advantage of warm weather.

Chances are.. we'll find two destinations.

Senior friends Kayla Howe, Andrea Sheppard, and Amanda Clark are caught in a fit of laughter as they are in the midst of a photo shoot. "Pretty much being friends with them is like being friends with unstable two year olds. You never know what you are going to get, but you know that it will be entertaining!" said Sheppard.

Seniors: the ones that are idolized throughout the school. The ones who are seen as carefree and are able to run wild with the happenings around them. Not always the case! While seniors are given a little more freedom with everything that they do, there are still many responsibilities that come with the title. What college one will be attending, how they will pay for tuition, and last minute credits and GPA's are just a few worries on many senior's minds. While all of these matters are very pressing, students should always remember that their senior year is one of the most memorable years of their life and that nothing should be taken for granted.

enior year: the moment we have all been waiting for! It's the time we have to make up our minds as to what steps we will be taking in our future. Whether we decide to go into the military, college, or just find a job we will always be connected. What lies behind us and before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us. No matter where life takes us, we must always remember where we come from and take our high school memories with us. Enjoy yourselves, because these are "the good old days" you are going to miss in the years ahead. Good Luck to the Class of 2012!

travel the globe...

Where are you from? Germany

How old are you? 17

What do you do for fun? Sleeping, laughing, running. (In that order)

What was the biggest culture shock in coming to the U.S? I was amazed how Americans put cheese and bacon on everything. :)

What do you like about Prairie? I'm thankful that you all welcomed me right away! I wouldn't have wanted to spend the year somewhere else.

Anything else? I hope that I was able to represent Germany well. Maybe some of you think now that all Germans are crazy and weird like me, but that is actually not the case-- it's just a "Marianka thing", I guess. I will miss everything about this school! My classes, my teachers, my teams, my friends. I found a new home; and believe it or not, you will see me again.

Underclassman always seem to get the short end of things when it comes to... Well, everything really! This really is not the case though. One day they too will have busy lives like seniors are known for when it comes to scholarships, college applications, and countless other things that lead up into graduation. Life as an underclassman can sometimes be rough, but it also has its upsides too. This past year it has been decided that the use of weighted grades will now take place among Clinton Prairie's AP classes which were not available to seniors. This will help them out when applying for colleges. One of the big upsides to being an underclassman though is being able to learn from previous senior's mistakes. That is an advantage that will always be in their favor!

Do a little dance

Sophomore Abby Gingerich and science teacher Mrs. Fusaro posed together in their penguin suits during the Science Club's field trip to Shedd Aquarium. Mrs. Fusaro has always been known to be a teacher that is not afraid of having a little fun.

Left: A group of freshmen from Mrs. Abney's Honors English class spend their last hour before Christmas break. Those who do not have a ride to leave early if you don't have a sixth hour final sometimes get the short end of the stick so most make do with what they have. Right: Eighth grader Shawna McDaniel and seventh grader Anessa Anes cheer at their first pep sessions.

And now you'll lead the way

Junior Alison Spray gives a solo performance during this year's fall play. She has been active in the school's drama club since her freshman year.

1. Juniors Ryan Walker and Tanner Forsythe share a laugh in their ceramics class. Forsythe was known to always be someone to liven the classroom up regardless of the day.

One Man Band

Sophomore Tristan Knox pushes along junior Blake Lehr after one of the band's many boy's basketball performances. The band has always been known for never having a dull moment.

This year Penny for Patients did something completely new. Members of the student body raised a total of $6,000.00 to be donated to the National Leukemia and Lymphoma Foundation. During Hardwood, each court member decorated a box that had her name on it. As Gopher fans entered the gym, they placed money in the respective boxes to vote for that candidate. The one that received the most money was crowned the Pennies for Patients princess. This year the winner was sophomore Lauren Scott. Scott said, "I was really excited that my class picked me to be the sophomore representative. I had a lot of fun picking out my dress and getting ready. Although I was super nervous, I had a lot of fun! I was also excited to find out I raised enough money to win Pennies for Patients princess."

To the right, senior, Dillon Mang and junior, Chad Wright, pray with Faith Christian after the game. The gophers fell with a 67-31 loss.

February wont you be...

The first thing anyone thinks of when they think of February is Valentines Day, but many things also happen in this short month, especially at Clinton Prairie. This year The Giants and Patriots came to town for the Super Bowl. Many students made their way down to Indianapolis for concerts, activities, and people watching. The senior basketball boys and girls ended their high school basketball careers. Both ended in very heart breaking losses, but we are always proud of them for giving 100% every game! While some sports were ending, others were starting up. Golf, track, baseball and softball all had their first practices. Eighth graders had one of the most memorable field trips they will ever have in school. Key club had a bake sale in which all of the earnings went to Cookies for Kids Cancer. The club baked their cookies in Mrs. Alletz's room. There is always excitement somewhere every day at CPHS whether it involves something as fun as a pep session or as strange as an earth quake awareness drill.

1. 8th graders learn how to ski with an instructor. The ski trip is always something all 8th graders look forward to. 2. Seniors Trent Haynes, Travis Engle, and Joey Silva wear their teletubby costumes to a basketball game. The boys rocked the teletubby look every chance they had. 3. Sophomore Dallas Miller and senior Trent Haynes pose with the gopher at a basketball game. 4.4. Junior English students take cover during Clinton Prairie's first earthquake drill. The thought of having an earthquake in Indiana made a joke around school for the day.

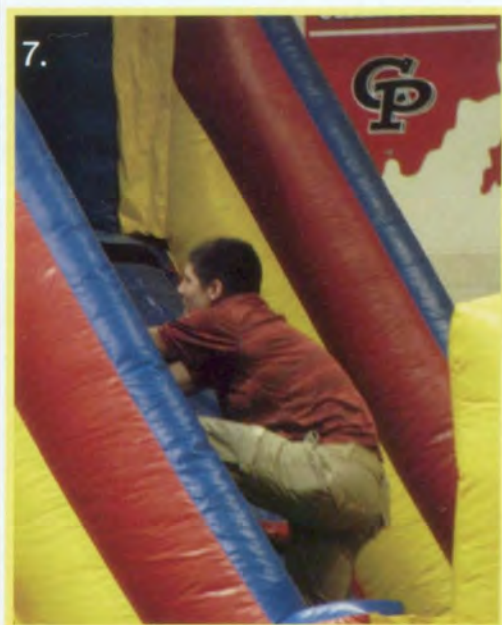

"Super Bowl Village was very cool. It was great to have such an experience so close to home. Probably the only chance I will have to see YMCA performed by the Village People."

-Brendin Humrickhouse

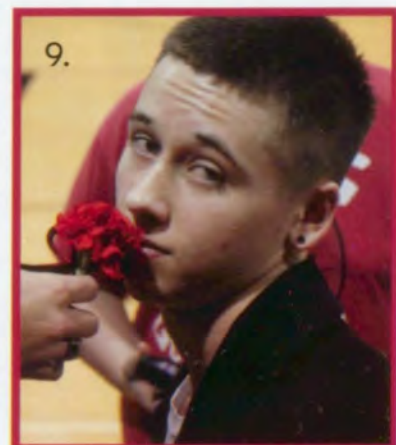

6. Freshmen Kenzie Floyd and a friend from Frankfort squeeze into a free T shirt at a basketball game. The two show how overly sized the fan shirts were.

my Valentine?

7. Senior Brandon Wines races to the top of the blow up slide at a pep session. The slide and obstacle course was the entertainment of the day to get ready for boy's basketball sectionals. 8. 8th graders Madison Howe, Emma Coons, Shawna McDaniel, Isabel Coons, Cobie Ballard and Taylor Parker smile before going skiing. Parker says, "I had a really great time on the ski trip. I hope to go back some day with my friends." 9. Sophomore Taylor Light stops to smell the flowers at a boys basketball game. Light always knows how to make people laugh.

Junior Kaitlyn Dunham applies her make-up on the bus ride to a competition. Dunham is one of the two very talented Color Guard captains.

Line. Shape. Texture. Color. The Elements of Design was the show for the 2011 Pride of Prairie marching band. The band consisted of fourteen marchers, five color guard members, and seven percussionists. The smallest band Prairie has witnessed in all of it's years; but the smaller, the mightier. For having the smallest band in the competition, Prairie beat out bands that were twice their size. On September 10th, they dominated the competition held at Lafayette Jeff High School. The band went on to compete at District level and earn a gold to go on to the regional level. There, they received gold but it was not enough to move on to the next level. This marked the end of one of the hardest and most rewarding Marching band seasons yet.

Freshman Nikki Payne, Junior Stephen Good, Eighth Grader Nick Moyer, Junior Freida Weber, and Senior Katie Katzman smile for a group shot. "I love this band, they always know how to make me smile on my worst days and we just all get along.... Well most of the time." said Moyer.

Seniors Andrea Sheppard, Katie Katzman, Marianka Fien, Amanda Clark and Sydney Courser hold up their fellow senior, Travis Engle. The class of 2012 contributed blood, sweat, and tears for many years to make sure that they become one of the most memorable classes for the band yet.

1. Junior Kenton Little wraps his drumstick with electric tape to protect it when he plays. Little was a part of the back ensemble but also played the quints when it came time for the percussion to march.

2. Junior Stephanie Schrock plays her solo during the movement "Texture." Schrock was a very well-rounded musician, playing percussion, flute, and the oboe.

Band director Mr. James Bertucci, commonly known as Mr. B, discusses how he felt the performance went before pulling out of the parking lot. Mr. B, along with his right-hand man, Micheal McGlothlin, dedicated many hours to the band trying to teach them everything they need to know to have a performance to remember and be proud of.

Standing at attention, the band waits for the cue to start the next movement. They worked endless hours trying to perfect the show that they began working on in June.

3. Junior Blake Lehr fills up the trailer to prepare for the competition. Lehr, along with the parents and other percussionists, loaded up the trailer every Saturday before competition to be sure not to forget any instruments.

4. Freshmen Nikki Payne swings her flag around while practicing for her performance to come. Payne was one of the many new-commers to the band and improved a lot during the course of the year.

5. Eighth grader Jaden Cornell demonstrates fantastic technique while marching at his first district show. Cornell was one of the several eighth graders pulled up by Mr. B to help add numbers and talent to the

6. Foreign exchange student Marianka Fien plays her clarinet for the audience to enjoy. Fien played clarinet in her home country of Germany and learned the whole show in a matter of a few months.

1. Freshmen Kade Patton and Andrew Harshbarger enjoy a project in English. The students had to draw sketches of the Odyssey characters. 2. Sophomores Stephanie Schrock and Blake Lehr joke around in Mr. Buschman's Pre Calculus class. Throughout the last week before spring break, the class formed geometric triangles to make kites. 3. Sophomores Sarah Good and Kara Simon make ice cream during Science Fun Night.

4. Seventh grader Hannah Stephens shoots an arrow at The Hunger Games Tribute Challenge. The Hunger Games came out in theatres in March and was a very popular book trilogy. Many students agreed for it to be a "must see." 5. Senior John Hammel works intently on a paper in the computer lab. The computer lab was a great resource for every student to use. 6. On Pi Day, seventh graders in Mrs. Jenkin's math class do a project using tasty cookies to celebrate.

Old homework assignments and papers were everywhere! 8. Students celebrate a correct answer at the Battle of the Books contest. Chocolate Thunder was the winning team from Clinton Prairie and went on to compete in the regional competition. 9. Sophomore Dallas Miller catches a pass into the ocean on Spring Break. Miller said, "I had a lot of fun in Florida. It was great to have a week off of school and be with my friends and family." 10. The eighth grade girls basketball team poses with their county championship trophy. The seventh grade team also came home with a trophy. 11. Sophomore Kartie Hill sings "Love is a Battlefield" at the Clinton Prairie Revue. Hill was involved in many acts throughout the revue.

1. Sophomore Kara Simon sings a duet with fellow sophomore Karlie Hill. Simon was in numerous acts including a duet with senior Daniel Guess, Prairie Singers, and Choir. 2. Juniors Tess Wilson, Marianka Fien, Frieda Weber, Jasmine Murphy, Stephanie Schrock, and Kelsey Dunham perform a black light themed dance to the song "Whip It." "I loved dancing with my fellow juniors! We had so much fun preparing for it together!" says junior Jasmine Murphy. 3. Junior Blake Lehr plays the guitar while his sister, freshman Lyndsey Lehr sings "Every Rose Has Its Thorn." Sophomore Quentin Horlacher and Junior Kenton Little also performed with the Lehrs. 4.

Sophomore Quentin Horlacher rocks out on his guitar. Horlacher played an important role on his guitar by participating in many acts throughout the revue. 5. Senior Mac Decker performs a skit between acts. Decker was an emcee, along with fellow seniors Hannah Coons and Sydney Courser. 6. Senior Hannah Coons demonstrates a math equation between acts. Coons played an active role in this years revue, being on the stage quite often. 7. Sydney Courser performs in the senior class act. Courser was also an emcee at this years revue.

The Clinton Prairie band takes a moment for a picture in front of the Rockefeller Plaza. Junior Freida Weber was interviewed briefly by Al Rocker during the live airing of the Today show. "It was so cool! It was my birthday that day so we made signs and luckily Al came over and talked to us!" said Weber.

Seniors Amanda Clark and Andrea Sheppard stop for a moment to pose with music department teachers Mr. Bertucci and Mrs. Schillings. "The trip to New York was so much fun. I wish I could have just stayed there forever, but I know I will probably return some day." said

Seniors Amanda Clark and Andrea Sheppard and freshman Wesley Wolff pose beneath the Barbie sign at the store while with the band in New York. The band made many stops while in the Big Apple and the trio was sure to make the stop at the store!

Senior Justin Martin attempts a handstand while at Fort Myers Beach in Florida. Martin has always been known for leaving school just a few days earlier for his Spring Breaks. While he is one of many that do this, there are small consequences to doing so. Typically it is known that every day that one misses before or after break is made up for with a Thursday night school.

All

I Ever

Wanted

Spring Break: the one time of year that can never seem to come quite fast enough. That goes for teachers, students, and parents alike. The long stretch of the third nine weeks can be rather draining considering that there are no breaks during that nine weeks. However, the light at the end of this tunnel has always been Spring Break. This one full week for a student to do whatever they please. While it is very common to hear of students and families making the trip to Florida, it is also not unheard of for some students to just simply find the element of relaxation in their own homes during break.

It is also common for students to leave for their beloved break destinations just a few days before the entire school gets out. While some do not understand why others cannot just wait until the Friday after school, those others cannot understand why everyone else does not want to leave early. One of these people is senior Justin Martin. When asked about it Martin said, "My family has always left just a few days earlier than everyone else and I really like it. We just get down to Florida that much quicker." While it is a nice plus, there is also a negative. Those who leave early must make up for their missing days at a few Thursday night schools. "I don't really mind those. If anything they actually make me sit down and do my homework rather than going home and procrastinating. The teachers that supervise it are always usually pretty cool too." said Martin.

Make It Rain APRIL

April was a busy month for the CP students. Track, golf, softball, and baseball took over the player's calendars with practices and games. Many classes took a day off from school to go on field trips. The Ag classes went to the zoo and the Environmental Science class visited some waste water treatment plants. The Child Development class went to Noah's Ark daycare and also to St. Elizabeth Hospital to visit the baby unit. Some of the students that worked hard in their math classes got to participate in the math contest that took place through out the day. They competed against students from other schools. The senior Z-Club girls went out to lunch with the Zonta ladies. There, the girls spoke to the Zonta ladies about their future plans and sat through one of their meetings. Each girl got recognized and was presented a rose and a certificate. All throughout this month it was packed full with events, but on a better note, the students got to enjoy Easter and a four day weekend!

Sophomore Katherine Wines and freshman Sierra Wilson play with a dog at the Humane Society. The FCCLA took time out of their day to volunteer at the Humane Society. They enjoyed walking the animals.

Senior Andrew Williams receives his cap and gown during lunch. This is an exciting moment for the seniors because it reminds them that graduation is just around the corner!

The High School Student Council plays a game of dodgeball against other county schools in the event, Dodge for a Cause. All of the proceeds went to Riley Children's Hospital.

Senior Emily Bennett gives blood for her second time at the school's Blood Drive. Bennett said, "I like the feeling of knowing I am helping someone."

Junior Taylor Stevens seeks medical help from paramedics at the mock car accident. Many students participated in the event. Some were passengers and two were the drivers. It made an impact on the students, seeing their classmates injured or carried off in a body bag. This stimulation was meant to encourage students to stay safe on the road.

Seniors Andrea Sheppard and Kayla Howe and Junior Freida Weber posed in their costumes for the Literary Festival. Sheppard was Jack the Skeleton, Howe was Gemma Doyle from the book, and Weber was the Tin Man from Wizard of Oz.

Junior Tess Wilson changed up her wardrobe for the annual Literary Festival. She dressed up as a character from Avatar. Wilson said, "Since it was my birthday that day, I thought I'd go all out this year, and Avatar is my favorite movie."

Seventh grader Cameron Haynes listens to instructions at the Challenger Center. All of the seventh grade got to take a break from a day at school to go on a fieldtrip in Brownsburg. The students took part of a stimulation of operating a space ship. Caitlyn Clendenning said, "It was a very cool experience and I'm glad I got to go!"

Senior Aaron Scott demonstrates how to do origami during the Literary Festival. For many of the students, this was their first attempt of making origami.

Freshman Lars Hovde signs his name at one of the many stations at the Lit. Festival. After B Lunch the students had to go to five booths and participate in each one! Junior Duke Snyder said, "My favorite booth was Texas Holdem."

The Author of the book Ashfall, Mike Mullen talks to some of the English students. Mullen spoke about how he came about writing the book. He was very interesting and even showed off his black belt skills by breaking a brick in half.

Tonight

we are young...

Prom is a time for everyone to look their absolute best and have a great time dancing the night away. It is a time for unforgettable memories and moments to be made. This year, prom was on the Madam Carroll in Monticello. Students enjoyed the boat and water while taking breaks from the dance floor. The Prom Committee decorated the boat with a theme of "From Paris With Love."

1. Junior Grant Doyle dances with his date, sophomore Paige Schoonvield. Doyle and Schoonvield say their night was so much fun and look forward to going to next years prom. 2. Junior Tess Wilson is crowned 2012 Prom Princess. Other princess candidates were Stephanie Schrock, Jasmine Murphy, and Rachel Lloyd. 3. Junior Frieda Weber laughs as fellow junior Drew Rhodehan busts a move. Laughter is commonly spread around everyone throughout the night. 4. Junior Cy Dieter is crowned 2012 Prom Prince. The boys court consisted of Dieter, Grant Doyle, Blake Lehr, and Shane Thomas. 5. Junior Joe Martinez and sophomore Tori Martin act silly while dancing. 6. Senior Kendra Hufford and her date share a moment on the dance floor during a slow song.. 7. Junior Brian Holcombe and senior Alison Bailey pose for a quick photo while dancing. "We're on a boat!" said Holcombe. 8. Juniors Marshall Reynolds, his date, Macy Kraner, Logan Harness, and his date smile while taking a break from the dance floor. Bringing students from other schools is a privilege for Clinton Prairie students. 9. Senior Brett Kelley smiles while he dances in front of fellow senior Alison Kouzakh and her date. 10. Students throw their hands in the air and dance. DJ Mike Bennett got the crowd going with all the hit songs. 11. Students dance to "Wobble." During dances with choreography, almost students got up and did the dance together. Even Mrs. Whitlock jumped in!

so we'll set the world on fire

12. Senior Andrew Williams and sophomore Katherine Wines pose for a picture at the top of the boat. The two left the dance for a short time to overlook the water. 13. Sophomore Lauren Scott and senior Mae Decker get down to "Teach Me How to Jerk." The two danced in sync through many songs. 14. Seniors Joey Silva and Emily Hollis celebrate winning Prom King and Queen with a dance. When asked how it felt to be named queen Hollis said, "It means a lot to me to be named queen. It's nice to know that I was voted for by my classmates. It's a moment I will never forget!" Other girls on the court were Emily Bennett, Jillian Ellison, and Morgan Gray. The other boys in the running for king were Kevin Cripe, Michael Stephens, and Dillon Mang. The two danced in sync through many songs. 15. Sophomore Rachel Jackson and senior Aaron Scott dance the night away. Scott says, "I had a wonderful time at prom with Rachel. It was a lot of fun." 16. Junior Shane Thomas poses for a silly picture with the flowers received by the royal court. 17. Students all stop dancing and pose for a quick picture. All the smiling faces show the enthusiasm throughout the evening.

Senior week has always been filled with many great traditions throughout the years, and this year was no exception. Senior week started off with a cookout in Gopher Grove followed by the traditional senior prank that evening. Many teachers found his or her classroom in disarray the next morning, but enjoyed the sparkling "glitter bombed" parking lot throughout the rest of the week. Next, seniors walked throughout the hallways in their caps and gowns before recognizing academic achievements for Honors Day.

Student Council members Jessie Coapstick, Joey Silva, Jillian Ellison, Brian Holcombe, and Brendin Humrickhouse take a moment for a picture with Student Council Advisor Mrs. Abney at the Dodge for a Cause tournament. This year Student Council raised money through many different events. They participated in working for a haunted house, Trim-a-Tree and making blankets for Wesley Manor, Pennies for Patients, Dodge for a Cause, and also the annual Fall Dance for high school students. This year the school raised almost triple the amount from last year when it came to Pennies for Patients alone. The school year could be thought of as a milestone for Student Council overall.

Seniors Andrea Sheppard and Amanda Clark immitate a blow fish at the Shedd Aquarium in Chicago on the Science Club field trip. Science Club is very beneficial to join because it is known for its various field trips all throughout the year such as the caving trip at Marengo Caves and the all day trip to King's Island. All of these trips and more are available at a student's finger tips just for the price of one dollar to join.

FOOTBALL

Heart, Effort, Determination. That is the motto of Clinton Prairie Football. 10 Seniors played their last games of high school football this fall. Those seniors were Brandon Wines, Blake Hankins, Kevin Cripe, Travis Engle, Andrew Williams, Austin Fiddle, Joey Silva, Chase Schimmel, Brad Clark, and Cameron Carlson. Wines had a great season, earning All-Conference, All-County, Journal and Courier All-Area Defensive Lineman, HM AP All-State Defensive End, Academic All-State, and team Outstanding Defensive Lineman. Hankins also received many honors including, All-Conference, All-County, HM AP All-State Linebacker, and team Outstanding Defensive Back. Another senior, Travis Engle was given the Team Outstanding Contributor Award. Other All-County qualifiers were juniors Ryan Walker, Kegan Smith, and Nick McElroy. McElroy was also chosen for All-Conference and earned team MVP and Outstanding Offensive Back. Keegan Smith, a junior, earned the team Outstanding Lineman Award. The Junior Varsity's MVP went to sophomore Austin Martin. Martin played Wide Receiver for the Junior Varsity and some Varsity. Freshmen Bryce Haynes and Nathan Moore shared the Bomb Squad Player Award. The Bomb Squad Award is an award given to a player that works their hardest every practice and doesn't mind taking a hit. The Gophers finished their season with record of 4-6.

VOLLEYBALL

The volleyball team had a surprising season, winning 11 more games than the year before. Senior Brooke Miller led the team in kills, blocks, and digs. Miller earned the MVP award for the year, was part of the Blue River All-Tourney team, and qualified for the West and North All-Star teams. Senior Jessie Coapstick was awarded best serving with "aces." Senior Hannah Coons was awarded the Sportsmanship Award. Coons was awarded the award for her positive mental attitude and effect on the team. Miller and Coons qualified for All-County. Miller, Coons, sophomore Abby Clark and junior Jasmine Hanna earned All-Conference honors, while freshmen Jade Mulvaney earned Honorable Mention. Sophomore Paige Schoonveld earned the Junior Varsity MVP award due to her hard work and guidance to the rest of the Junior Varsity. Sophomore Spencer Perkins earned the Coaches Choice award. This award was given by the JV coach to Perkins because of her positive attitude. Perkins was willing to play in any position she was asked, any time she was needed. As a team, the Gophers won a Conference Title and were sectional runner ups, losing to Frontier.

See page 86 & 87

CROSS COUNTRY

The boys Cross Country team finished with a dual meet record of 6-2. Leading the Gophers was junior Drew Rhodehan, a conference qualifier and team MVP. Rhodehan placed 8th. Following Rhodehan was junior Joe Martinez, finishing 10th in conference. Martinez also finished 6th in the county meet. Other award winners were junior Blake Lehr, Sportsmanship; junior Stephen Good, Hardest Worker; and freshmen Korey Murphy, Most Improved. The girls Cross Country team had a record of 4-4 in dual meets and was lead by foreign exchange student Marianka Fien. Fien finished 7th in the county meet and 5th in the conference meet. With these accomplishments, Fien was awarded team MVP. Junior Stephanie Schrock also qualified for the All-Conference team with a place of 10th. Schrock was awarded the Sportsmanship Award. Other award winners were senior Alison Bailey, Outstanding Contributor and Chanda Brown, Most Improved. The girls and boys teams finished 3rd in County and 4th in Conference.

See page 88 & 89

BASKETBALL

Seniors Kevin Cripe and Dillon Mang were standouts for the Gopher boys basketball team. Cripe was awarded Clinton Central Holiday Tourney Most Outstanding Player, Team Most Outstanding Player, All-Conference, All-County, and qualified for the North All-Star team. Mang was awarded Clinton Central All-Tourney team, Team Offensive MVP, All Conference, and also qualified for the North All-Star team. Junior Ryan Walker earned All-Conference Honorable Mention, the Sportsmanship award, and qualified for the North All-Star team. Sophomore Austin Martin was awarded the team's Mr. Hustle winner. The girls basketball team also had many standouts. Senior players earning All-County were senior Emily Hollis and junior Jasmine Hanna. The two also made the All-Conference team and qualified for the North All-Star team. Hollis was the team's MVP and Hanna was Offensive Player of the Year. Junior Kelsey Dunham earned All-Conference Honorable Mention. Sophomore Abby Clark was the All-County Honorable Mention and was also awarded the team's Hustle Player of the Year. Other awards for the gophers were junior Stephanie Schrock, Defensive Player of the Year, sophomore Paige Schoonveld, Most Improved, and sophomore Iwe Weflen, JV MVP.

WRESTLING

This year's wrestling season consisted of very young wrestlers. Lacking seniors, juniors were forced to take on leadership and responsibility. Juniors Stephen Good and Tyler Casey were the team captains and showed great leadership and examples for the rest of the team. Sophomore Nathan Moore earned the Most Valuable Player Award and also tied for fastest pin with junior Tyler Casey. Casey also qualified for Academic All-State, earning good grades as well as being an outstanding athlete. Junior Josh Klein earned the Most Take-Downs Award. Junior Tristan Knox was the winner of the Sportsmanship Award. Knox always showed a positive attitude while wrestling. Junior Monty Young earned the Most Improved Wrestler Award.

See page 98 & 99

BASEBALL & SOFTBALL

Baseball had a tough season by undergoing many difficult obstacles of the game throughout the year. The team's record does not show it, but the boys on the baseball team are some of the most athletic boys in the high school. Their hard work and dedication showed through their losses and wins. The team will be losing six seniors Kevin Cripe, Dillon Mang, Daniel Guess, Tucker Dirbas, Cameron Carlson, and Kyle Hurlacher. All of the seniors will be missed on the team. However, juniors Ryan Walker, Cy Dieter, Evan Woods, and Nick McElroy have played tremendous baseball and are prepared to take on next year. The softball team had a surprisingly successful season, winning a conference championship and runners up of a county championship. Seniors leaving are Emily Hollis, Carrie Funk, and Katie Katzman. Hollis led the team at the mound, fending strike-outs when needed. Heavy hitters for the team were Hollis, and juniors Jasmine Hanna and Kelsey Dunham. These three players were also the captains of the team. Although the win to loss ratio was not ideal for the Gophers, they had a good season and will use it to grow throughout the next years.

TRACK

I ate the ground today at the track hard, but I don't care. I lost in pole vault, but I don't mind. I got first place in the 300 hurdles, but it's whatever. What I do care about and what I do mind is that it was my last track meet of my high school career and I'll miss it and my team!" This quote was said by senior Travis Engle. It shows the positive attitude you must have to be a track runner. It also shows the family relationship of the track team. The boys and girls of the track didn't have the most successful season, but having fun and growing to be better is what it's all about. The boys team had top performers of junior Blake Lehr, who was successful in the 1600 and 3200, sophomore Dallas Miller, who earned a conference champion title and was a regional qualifier in the pole vault and was also an excellent contributor in the 400, and senior Travis Engle, who was a stand out in the 110 hurdles and 300 hurdles. Seniors leaving the team are Travis Engle, Trent Haynes, and Joey Silva. The girls team earned a third place conference title this year and will be losing four seniors, Brooke Miller, Morgan Stoner, and Kaylen White, who have been active in the track program for all four years of high school. Senior Kaylen White was an outstanding contributor for the girls team. She qualified for the Regional meet in the 100 and 300 hurdles and later qualified for the State meet in the 300 hurdles. Foreign exchange student Marianka Fien also made a positive impact on the team by often placing in her events; the 1600 and 3200.

See page 104 & 105

GOLF

The golf team consists of seniors Brandon Wines and Blake Hankins, juniors Grant Doyle and Shane Thomas, sophomores Grant Miller, Sarah Good, and Even Rynearson, and freshman Noah Freestone. The players all got to be in the game at Varsity and Junior Varsity meets. The team had three golfers qualify for the top 10 spots of the conference meet with impressive scores. The three were junior Grant Doyle, junior Shane Thomas, and senior Brandon Wines. Senior Blake Hankins was able to break a new school record with a score of 38 strokes on a 9 hole course. The gopher golfers had many meets to attend during the week and had practice every day, encouraging them to keep up the good work.

Junior Duke Snyder lets his emotions out after a game. Football players, while tough, still get seriously involved in the sport. They leave everything they've got on the field.

Senior Kevin Cripe and Junior Brian Holcombe run off the field for a time out. The boys worked well as a team with communication to effectively transition between plays.

Subway before every game. The ever-popular Osky Wahwah Chant. Football boys work hard as a team; and because of this incredible teamwork, they are better able to achieve their goals. The season was a tough one, and the players had to overcome all sorts of obstacles. "We were plagued by various nagging injuries throughout the season that prevented consistent play," Coach Wines said. "The biggest was the loss of senior Chase Schimmel in week two. He was our fastest running back and safety." Football is one of the most physically draining sports. It takes a real love for the game to get out there and play like that every day.

Seniors ...together through the years

Our seniors look ready to win. The boys will be greatly missed next year.

"Football is the ultimate team sport. The friendship and comradery you have with your teammates is unbeatable. Our senior football boys make up the best group of guys anyone could ask for. They do not give up, striving to be successful on the football feild, in the classroom, and just in life in general. I wouldn't change this year's team for any other year. I and the rest of the guys, for years to come will remember the words of former coach David Joseph: 'Heart, Effort, and Determination'. We look to that in all that we do." -Senior Brad Clark.

1. The team has bonding time before the match begins. The volleyball team sported pink for Breast Cancer Awareness month.

2. Junior Jasmine Hanna tries to trick the defense with a tip. Hanna was one of the six starters for the 2011 season.

3. Sophomore Abby Clark, and senior Hannah Coons prepare for the serve. Clark and Coons, as described by teammates, were always vocal and always wanted to work to improve their game.

4. Senior Brooke Miller jumps up for the kill. Miller made all conference and all county teams and qualified for both the East and North All-Star teams. She has been an outstanding contributor on the team since her freshmen year.

5. Senior Jessie Coapstick serves the ball to the opportune place on the other side of the net, assisted by sophomore Abby Clark. Helping each other out with hand signals gave them the upper hand in some of the games. It also was a great way to show fantastic teamwork.

Baby, I like it
the way you move on the floor.

Above all, a team. That is the motto that the 2011 volleyball girls lived by this year. They focused on being a team. Their effort showed when they ended the year with the title of conference champions under their belt. "When we first played Central Catholic, that was the turning point for the girls. They knew they should have won but it slipped away from them. That helped them win conference over the 8th ranked Tri-Central." said Coach Angie Schilling. Coach Schilling has been coaching the girls volleyball team for the past three years and has put a lot of effort into building the team.

The boys of the team warm up for their race ahead. Preparing for the meet together builds up the team's strength and confidence.

Morgan Stoner, senior, and Kayla Stephens, junior, run together to keep up their good pace.

The girls of the team pose to take a picture with Coach Smith and Coach Hicks. Cross country has been coached solely by Coach Smith for as long as anyone can remember. Over the summer Clinton Prairie hired a new spanish teacher, Ms. Hicks. Ms. Hicks just so happened to be one of the few very passionate about running. The team welcomed Coach Hicks' help and advice open handedly. "It was a great experience, I had a lot of fun and really loved it." said Coach Hicks about her experience.

Joe Martinez, a sophomore, hurries in for the finish. "It brought back old memories. I enjoyed seeing some old faces and seeing a few new ones too. It was an all around fun time this year. It was a new experience running without as much support, but I was thrilled to be back and having a good time. Mr. Smith did a terrific job leading the team for another year of success."

Ready, Ready Ready, Ready Ready to run...

there were an award given for the "closest knit team", the cross country team would win it everytime. Cross country being a sport that often goes unknown, involves more than just running the courses. Bonding together and becoming a family is one of the main keys to being a member of the team. Holding get togethers at eachother's houses, going to the Dunes, sleep-overs, team dinners, swimming, and carving pumpkins are only a select few of what Clinton Prairie's Cross Country team participates in throughout the season when they aren't running a meet.

1. Sophomores Katherine Wines, Iwe Weflen, and Candace Pennington smile at a team dinner. Every team needs a good meal before game day!

2. The team smiles for a picture at a restaurant after a long day of team summer camp.

3. Junior Stephanie Schrock braids fellow junior teammate Kelsey Dunham's hair before a game. The girls always made sure to look and play their best.

4. Sophomore Iwe Weflen battles through defenders at Vincennes team camp this summer. I had so much fun at camp this year. It really helped the team bond and I can't wait to do it again next summer" said Weflen.

Senior Emily Hollis battles a University player for the shot.

Hollis was an important post player of the year. "My senior year was very memorable and I thank the girls for a great season" said Hollis.

The varsity girls put their heads together for a pre game pep talk and prayer. This was the gophers first home game of the season. A game which they finished with a victory.

The Gophers pose for a team photo after a game at Conoco Fieldhouse. The girls had the opportunity to play at the Lady Fever, Indiana basketball team's gym this summer.

5. Junior Jasmine Hanna fights off an Eastern player for the ball. Hanna showed hustle on the court this season.

6. Sophomore Paige Schoonvield wins the tip off to start the game. Schoonvield was a key player on the JV.

7. The girls pose for a quick picture before a county game against Rossville. The team earned a victory with a score of 40-38. The gophers later went on to win the county championship.

8. Sophomore Abby Clark runs through to fan tunnel as she is introduced as one of the varsity starters. This excitement gets the crowd and players pumped up and ready for game time.

eine on e team mannschaft

Foreign exchange student Marianka Fien plays defence on a Faith Christian player. Fien, from Germany, inspired the team's saying 'eine mannschaft' this year meaning 'one team.'

Everyone gets a good stretch in before every game. 'Stretching is very important, so we are loose and ready to play hard without injuries!' says Sophomore Abby Clark.

Junior Stephanie Schrock passes the ball around a defender. Schrock was one of the many guards of the season that handled the ball well.

The Lady Gophers had many close games throughout the season. 'We had a lot of tough games, and always had to play our hearts out every second' said sophomore Paige Schoonvield.

Junior Kelsey Dunham focuses in on a Rossville defender. Dunham played an important role on the team as one of the captains.

Sophomore Abby Clark and Junior Stephanie Schrock listen intently to Coach Haid's game plan. Players said Haid was a great coach this year and enjoyed playing for him.

Coach's Corner

Head coach Mr. Haid said 'This year's team was a very competitive and enjoyable team to coach. They were a very unselfish and close-knit group of girls. We had a very successful season and were able to win the county and compete at a high level during sectionals.' The girls were also coached by Coach Stockberger and Coach Newhart.

Junior Tyler Casey works hard to get a move down at a practice. The team is notorious for pulling pranks and messing around, but when the time comes they are able to get back in focus!

Sophomore Monty Young is in concentration mode while trying to conquer his Clinton Central opponent. Young said, "When you step on the mat you are focused on your opponent and everything else in the world is forgotten!"

Junior Josh Kline prepares for his first home match up of the year against Guerin Catholic. The boys always get an adrenaline rush before a matchup.

Junior Stephen Good works to his best ability while pinning an opponent for a win. His coach, Jay Sanders encourages him from the side of the mat.

For Those Of You That Want To Know What We're All About...

It was a great year for the CP Wrestlers. They had a very young team with only three Juniors and the rest Sophmores and Freshman. However, the boys all did very well. Several teammates made individual accomplishments. Nathan Moore was this year's MVP which was voted on by the team. Nathan Moore and Tyler Casey both had the fastest pins this year with a record of 13 seconds each. Academic All State, Tyler Casey, also managed 25 wins on the season with 17 of those being by pin. Tyler and Stephen Good were the two team captains this year. They managed 10 victories in the season with big wins over Central Catholic and Guerin Catholic. They set a school record with a win over Horizon 72-0.

During The Clinton Prairie Invitational, sophomore Monty Young takes down his opponent. sophomore Tristan says, 'It's funny when freshman Lars Hovde yells, 'Es Bueno' when a

1. Junior Cy Dieter throws a fast pitch to the catcher, senior Tucker Dirbas in hopes to strike out a batter. This pitcher catcher pair was a favorite line up for the season. 2. Junior Ryan Walker catches a pop fly. Walker was a reliable first basemen as well as a pitcher. 3. Junior Nick McElroy pulls up for a bunt at a game. McElroy always played solid games in the field at the shortstop position as well as at bat. 4. Junior Evan Woods prepares to play defense in the infield. Woods played in the third base position. 5. Junior Tanner Forsythe, and seniors Kyle Horlacher, Tucker Dirbas, and Dillon Mang put on their game faces. Looking "tough" always intimidates the opponent. 6. The team walks to the dugout to prepare for their batting. Discussing the game plan before every inning was something the team always found useful. 7. Senior Dillon Mang dives quickly back to first base. Mang always showed his skills by being quick on his feet.

Senior Carrie Funk prepares to run to home plate to score a run for the Gophers. Funk was very reliable in moving base runners. Funk's last year of softball was successful throughout her performances.

Senior Emily Hollis winds up for a pitch. Hollis was this season's pitcher and one of the team captains. Hollis showed leadership by taking control on the mound.

Senior Katie Katzman swings in hopes to hit the ball out of the park. Katzman was a hard hitter for the Gophers. Katzman has been involved in the softball program all of her life.

Sophomore Tori Martin prepares herself in the outfield. Martin was able to perform in whichever outfield position she was placed.

Sophomore Abby Gingerich stretches out to catch a throw at 1st base. Gingerich played an important role on the team by being able to play wherever she was needed.

IN THE FIELD

Clinton Prairie and Central Catholic played a game in honor of breast cancer awareness. Both teams sported pink uniforms to support the cause.

Breast cancer victim and survivor, Amy Heidt, also the mother of sophomore Tori Martin, threw out the first pitch to start the game. Throughout the game, both teams showed great sportsmanship in remembrance of all those who have battled breast cancer.

Junior Lauren Scott defends second base. Scott was still recovering from a previous injury, but continued to play to her full potential.

Freshman Jade Mulvaney hustles to stop a ground ball. Mulvaney showed effort on the field and was always there to lift the team's spirit with her personality.

Freshman Emily Sabens makes a throw to the infield. Sabens helped out the varsity team by being a reliable outfielder.

Junior Jasmine Hanna focuses in on the ball to make a play. Hanna was an outstanding shortstop, always sacrificing her body to stop the ball in order to get an out.

Junior Kelsey Dunham tags a West Lafayette player out at home plate. As the catcher, Dunham was expected to hold leadership and responsibility.

Left: Sophomore Kelsie Funk slides safe into home plate, scoring a run for the Gophers. Funk's speed was helpful while running bases.

Below: The Lady Gophers line up during the National Anthem. This is done at every game before the home team takes the field.

1. Senior Katie Katzman cheers on a teammate. Positive attitudes and smiles are always shared during the game of softball. 2. Sophomore Candace Pennington waits to make a play at third base. Pennington was a very helpful player on the team. 3. Sophomore Iwe Weflen takes a swing. Weflen was able to preform to her best effort during games. 4. The team huddles to gather thoughts, strategies, and ideas for the next inning.

1) Junior Chad Wright competes in the 4x800 meter relay. His teammates in this event were juniors Joe Martinez, Blake Lehr, and Drew Rhodehan.
 2) Chanda Brown, junior, pushes to keep in front of her opponent for her relay race.
 3) Senior Brooke Miller successfully clears her jump. Outside of Miller's running events, she also participated in high jump.

Down in the field

When they aren't running a race or warming up for one, the track team spends their downtime in the field- cheering on teammates, reading, talking, stretching, staying hydrated, eating a snack, or getting prepared for their next event.

Tyler Casey, junior, puts all his effort into shotputting.

Lyndsay Lehr, freshman

^^Senior Trent Haynes battles an opponent for the 1st place ribbon. Haynes ran the 100 and 200 meter dashes.

«Sophomore Katherine Wines steadies herself for the throw. Clinton Prairie has been blessed with many kids in field events. Generally, schools are short handed when it comes to shotputting or throwing discus. Wines, as well as many others, contribute by doing both.

^^ Support for one another is huge. Members of the team walk to the start line with arms linked, prepared for the race ahead.

» Senior, Kaylin White, takes the lead in the 100m hurdles. « Keeping with the pack, the distance girls run a race against themselves. Senior Morgan Stoner stated, "There were no other girls in the mile so we all got to run together. Then, in the two mile Steph and Marianka ran with me and let me get first. I love these girls."

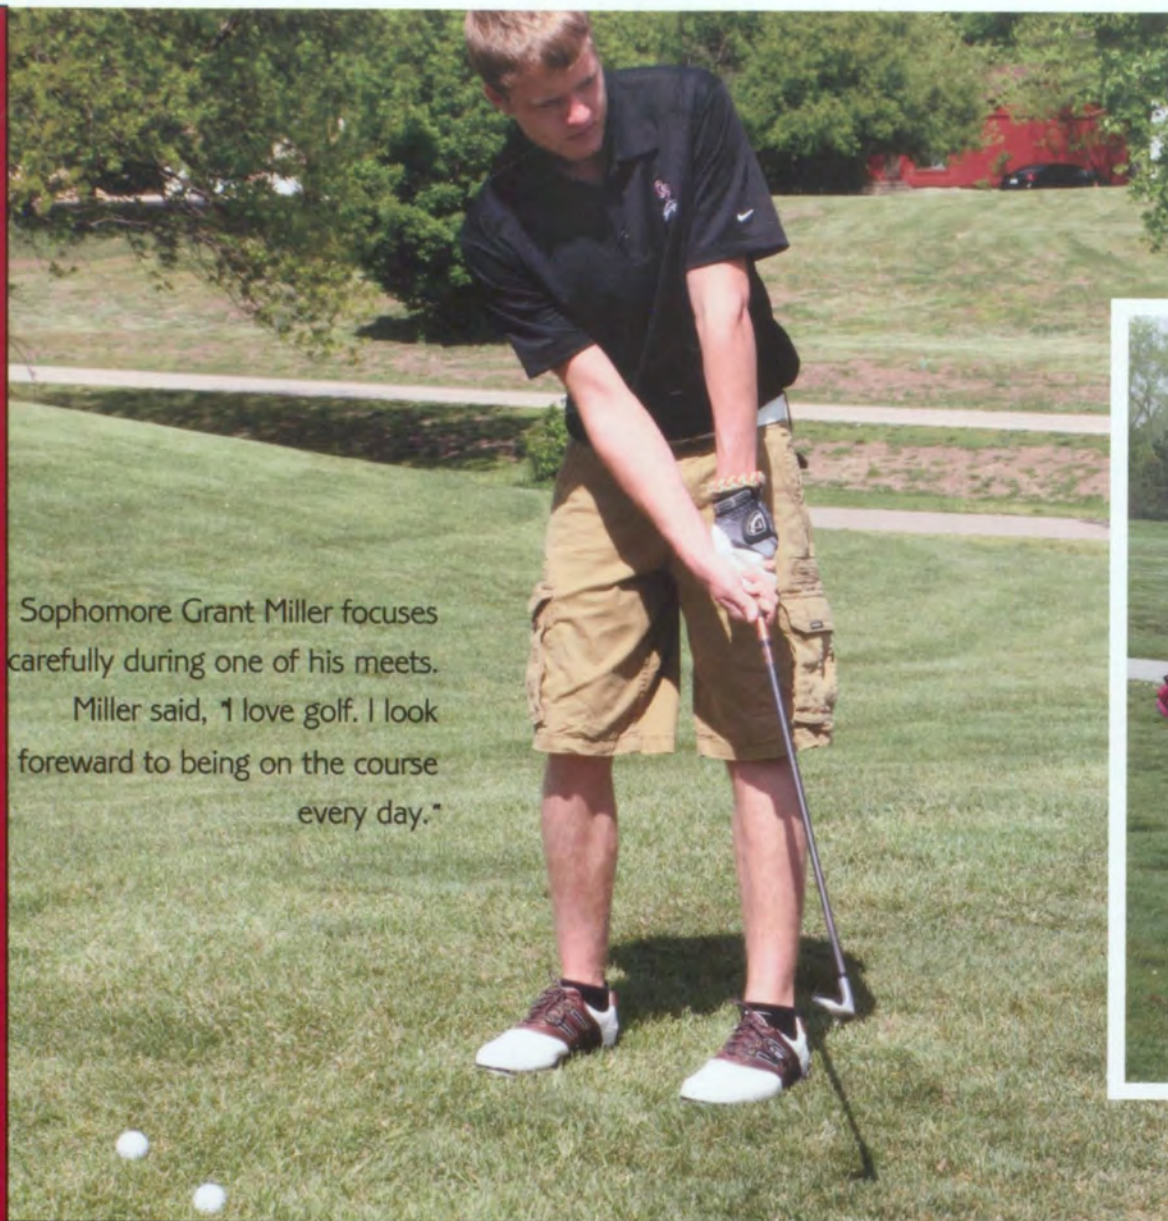

Sophomore Dallas Miller's highest vault of the year was 12 feet! ^^

Miller said, "I love golf. I look forward to being on the course every day."

Junior Grant Doyle awaits his turn to drive the golf ball down the range. Doyle has been golfing since he was a kid.

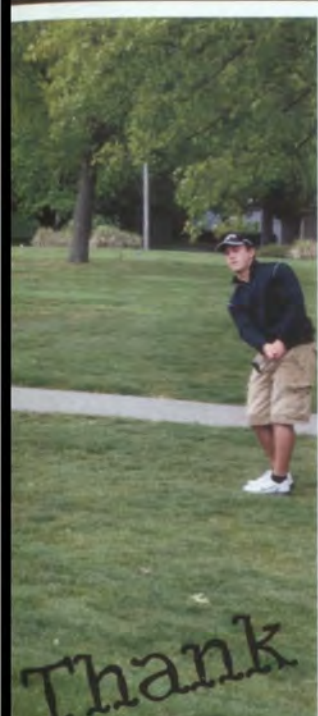

Sophomore Grant Miller prepares to tee off. Rain or shine, the golf team was always prepared to play their game.

Senior Blake Hankins takes a swing during the Clinton Central meet. Hankins scored a 37; the best score Prairie has had in six years.

Members of the JV team gather with coach Mr. Coe at a meet. Sophomore Sarah Good said, "Being the only girl was kind of weird at first, but then it was really fun!"

Junior Grant Doyle putts at the Clinton Central meet. Placing fourth out of 125 at the Twin Lakes Invitational and fifth out of 60 at the Taylor Invitational earlier this year. Doyle has a reputation as an excellent golfer.

This year we sadly have to say good bye to one of our teachers. Mr Hintzman has been here for 26 years. Over his 26 years of teaching he has taught a variety of classes. When he was asked what his favorite class was to teach he could not pick just one class. "Any shop classes that were previously taught"

Every year the faculty does their group picture the same. It's always Purdue Vs IU day. The teachers take this to a serious level sometimes. One teacher will have an IU flag in their room and the other one will have a Purdue one. On April fools day the students or sometimes teachers will go around to the different classrooms and change the flags around.

The 2011-2012 Yearbook Editor

Jillian Ellison

Mrs. Abney- You will never possibly fathom what you truly mean to me. Without you this book would never have been completed and without having known you I would be an entirely different person. You have been with me through all of my high school years and I always knew that you believed in me when it felt like no one else did. I know that you will always be there for me and it is going to be extremely hard not coming to your room first thing in the morning to have our morning chats. Stay true to who you are and what you believe and never think of yourself as anything less than "classy and fabulous."

Where do I even begin? I can honestly say that I put my heart and soul into this book when it came to, well, everything really! My life tended to be consumed with this book and often I would find myself thinking, "Where is my paycheck for this?" Toward the end of it all though the more I thought about it, the more I began to see that this book and all of the memories that accompany it will forever be my "paycheck." I wouldn't take back any of the late nights, editing countless pages, or being at all of the different sporting events and school functions running around with a camera trying to get the best possible shots and guiding one of my yearbook girls with their own cameras. Needless to say, all of this really could never hold a price for me, nor could the work that my fellow yearbook girls put forth.

Riley- You have been one of my main girls from day one. I knew that if I gave you a task or a page to do that it would be done with excellent taste! You are the only one that returned with me from last year, all throughout the year, and I am really grateful for that. I wish you nothing but the best at ISU and hope that you will always keep in touch!

Brooke- You completely blew me away this year! I would have never guessed for you to have a hidden talent for creating pages. With an entirely new team of girls, I was so relieved to not have to hold everyone's hands as they created their pages. No matter what the task was, you would take the bull by the horns and put all that you had into it. If I gave you a page spur of the moment, I knew that it would be done within the next day or so because of your insane need to get it finished. I hope that you have an amazing time at Ball State and keep in contact!

Emily- You too did an amazing job along with Brooke! You guys were like a little power house that could get anything done in an instant with no questions asked. You will never know how relieving that was for me! To be able to count on someone like that is an amazing feeling that I was fortunate enough to have. I hope that you too have a blast at Ball State and I will be sure to take you up on the offer of you guys' futon!

Morgan G- Oh my princess! You were so much fun to work with and I am so proud of the work that you did! You didn't give up when I at times thought that you would and I really admired that. You had a lot on your plate this year and to take on this yearbook also was a huge task. I wish you the best of luck at St. Joseph's and I hope to be seeing you!

MORGAN S- You did a great job this year also. If something needed done or if I needed help, I knew that you would be there to lend a hand. It was great working with you and I know we will be seeing each other at Purdue in the future!

Karla- I am glad that you stuck it out this year! I know at times that it may have seemed like a lot on your plate, but in the end it was worth the effort. I wish you all of the best in the future!

Katie- Although you were only with us for one semester, I am glad that you were able to contribute to the book! The pages that you did do were great, and it was a relief to know that you knew what was needed and what you were doing. Good luck at Trine and with softball!

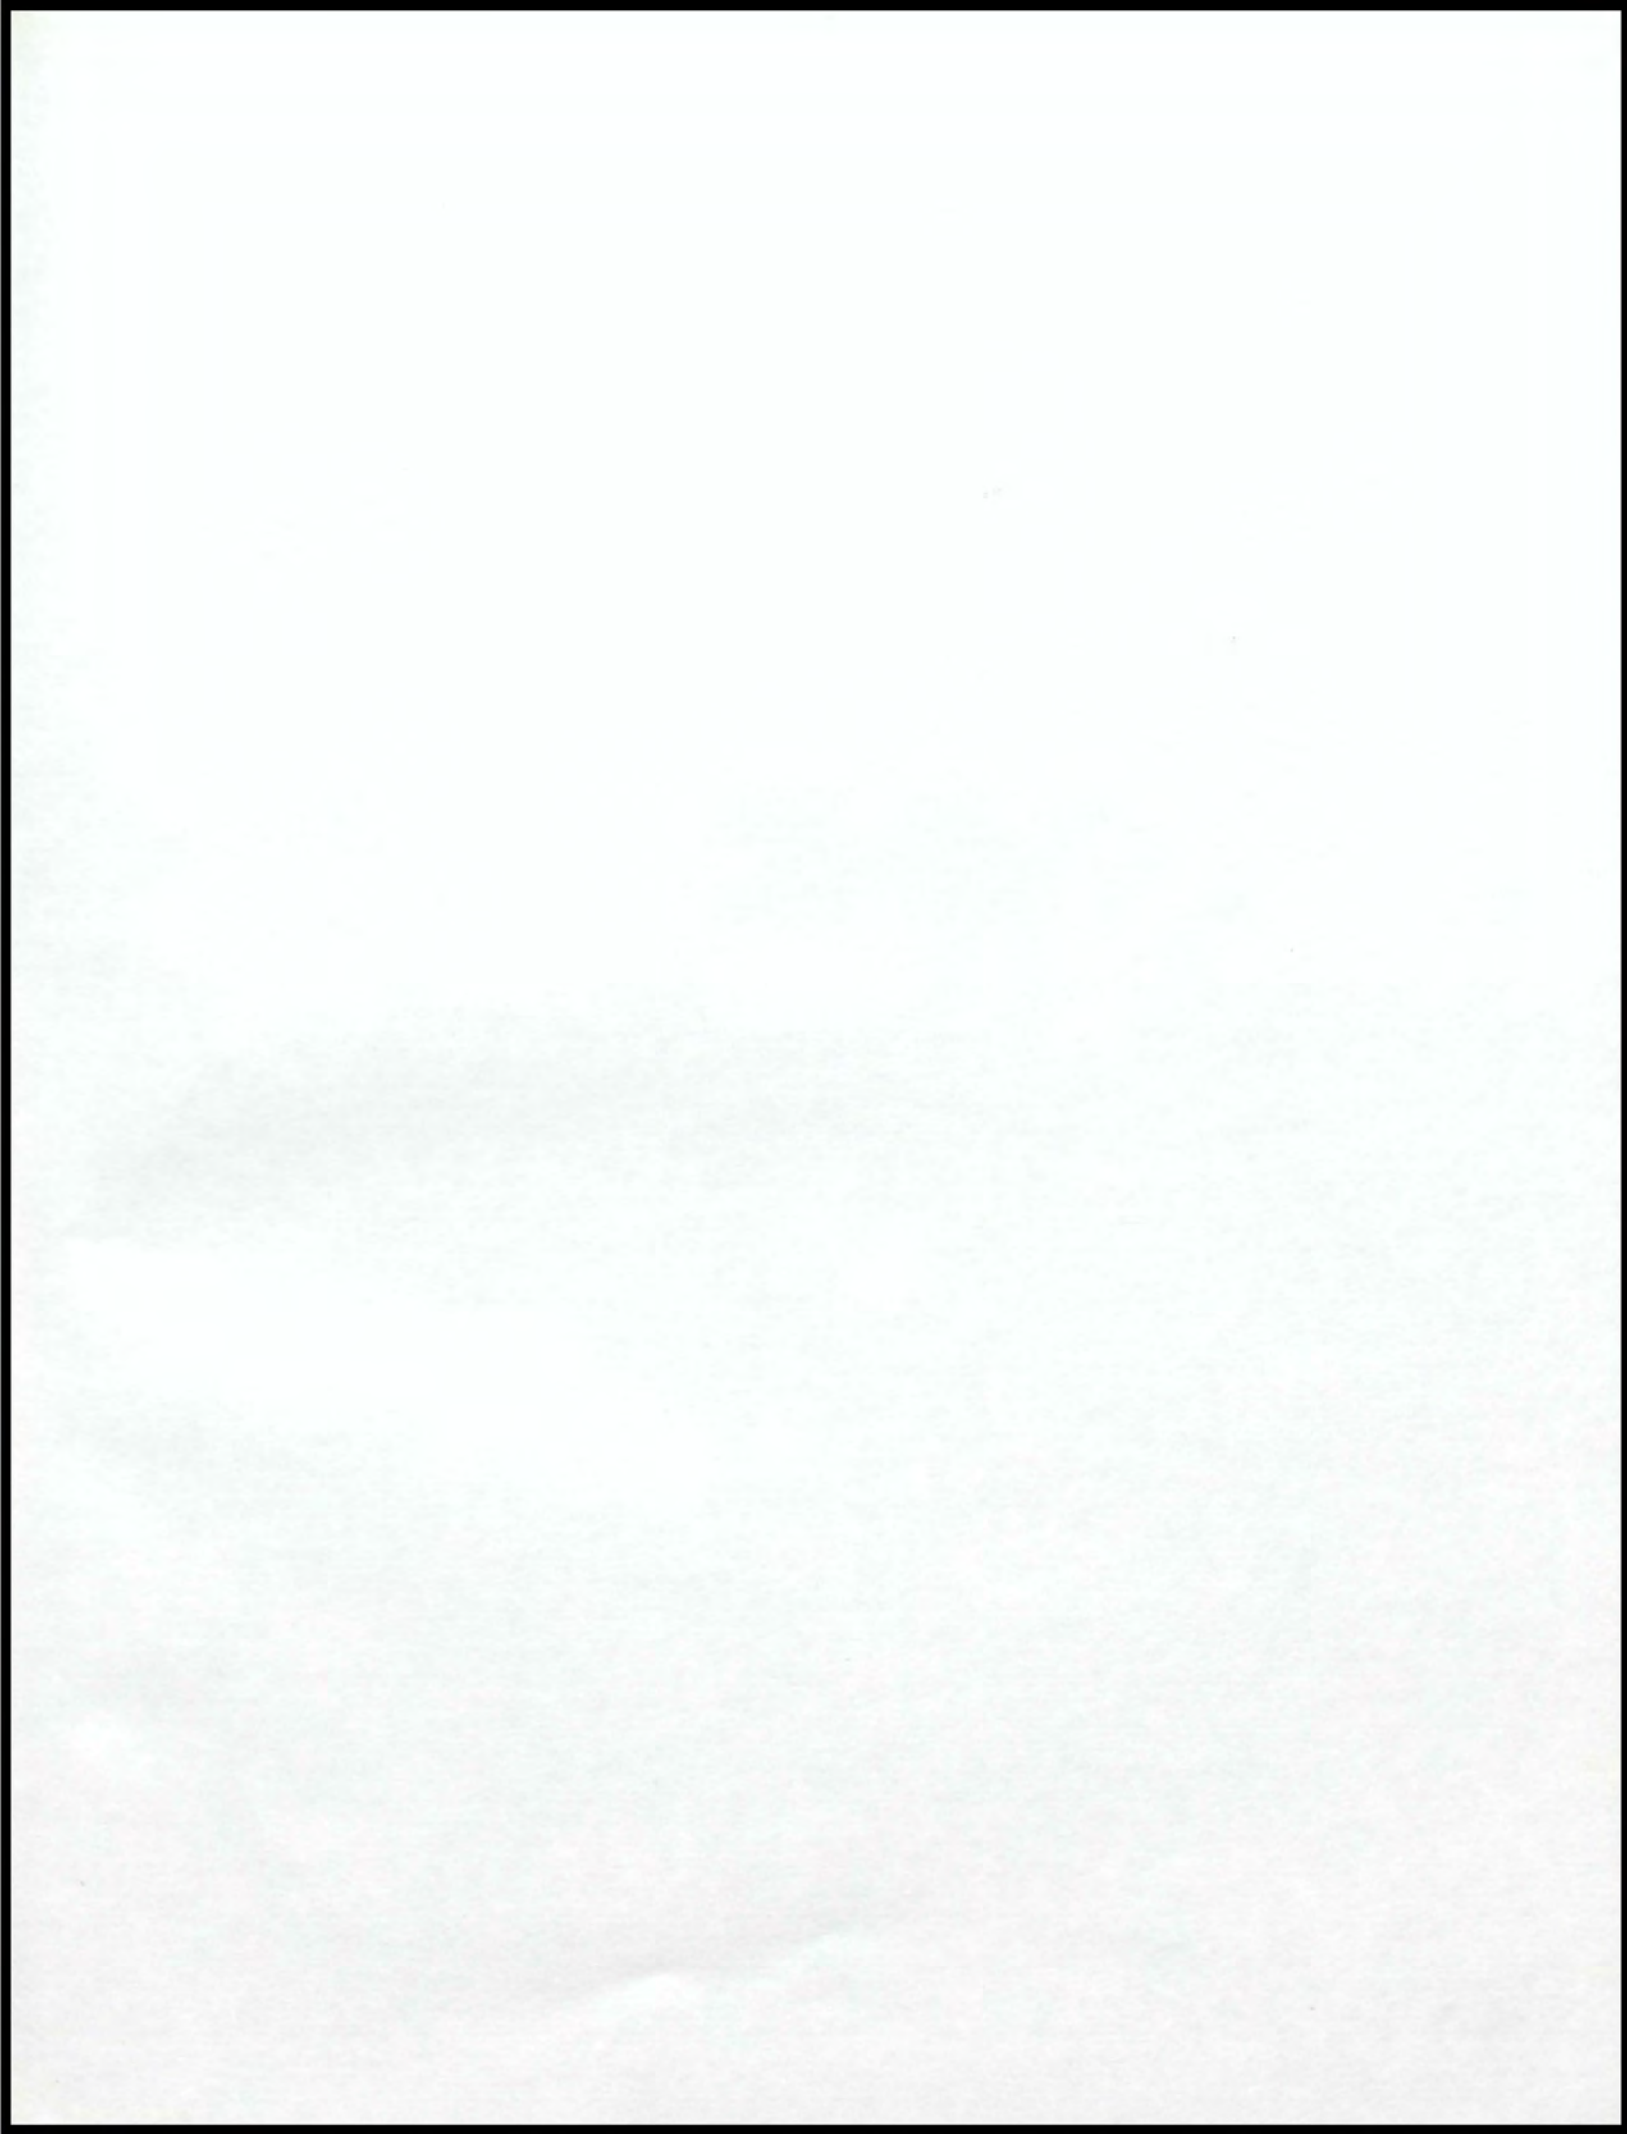

Mady- I am glad that I was able to recruit you this year! You did a great job with this being your first year and I am glad that you will be returning next year for a semester. I know sometimes it probably wasn't all that fun being the only junior in a class full of seniors, but I know that we all enjoyed having you there with us. Have an amazing senior year and be sure to enjoy everything that you do and live in the moment because believe me when I say that it goes by too fast! In the end it feels like you are sitting in your first senior meeting with Mr. Miller and as soon as you blink you are walking through the halls at graduation. Have a wonderful time and keep in touch!

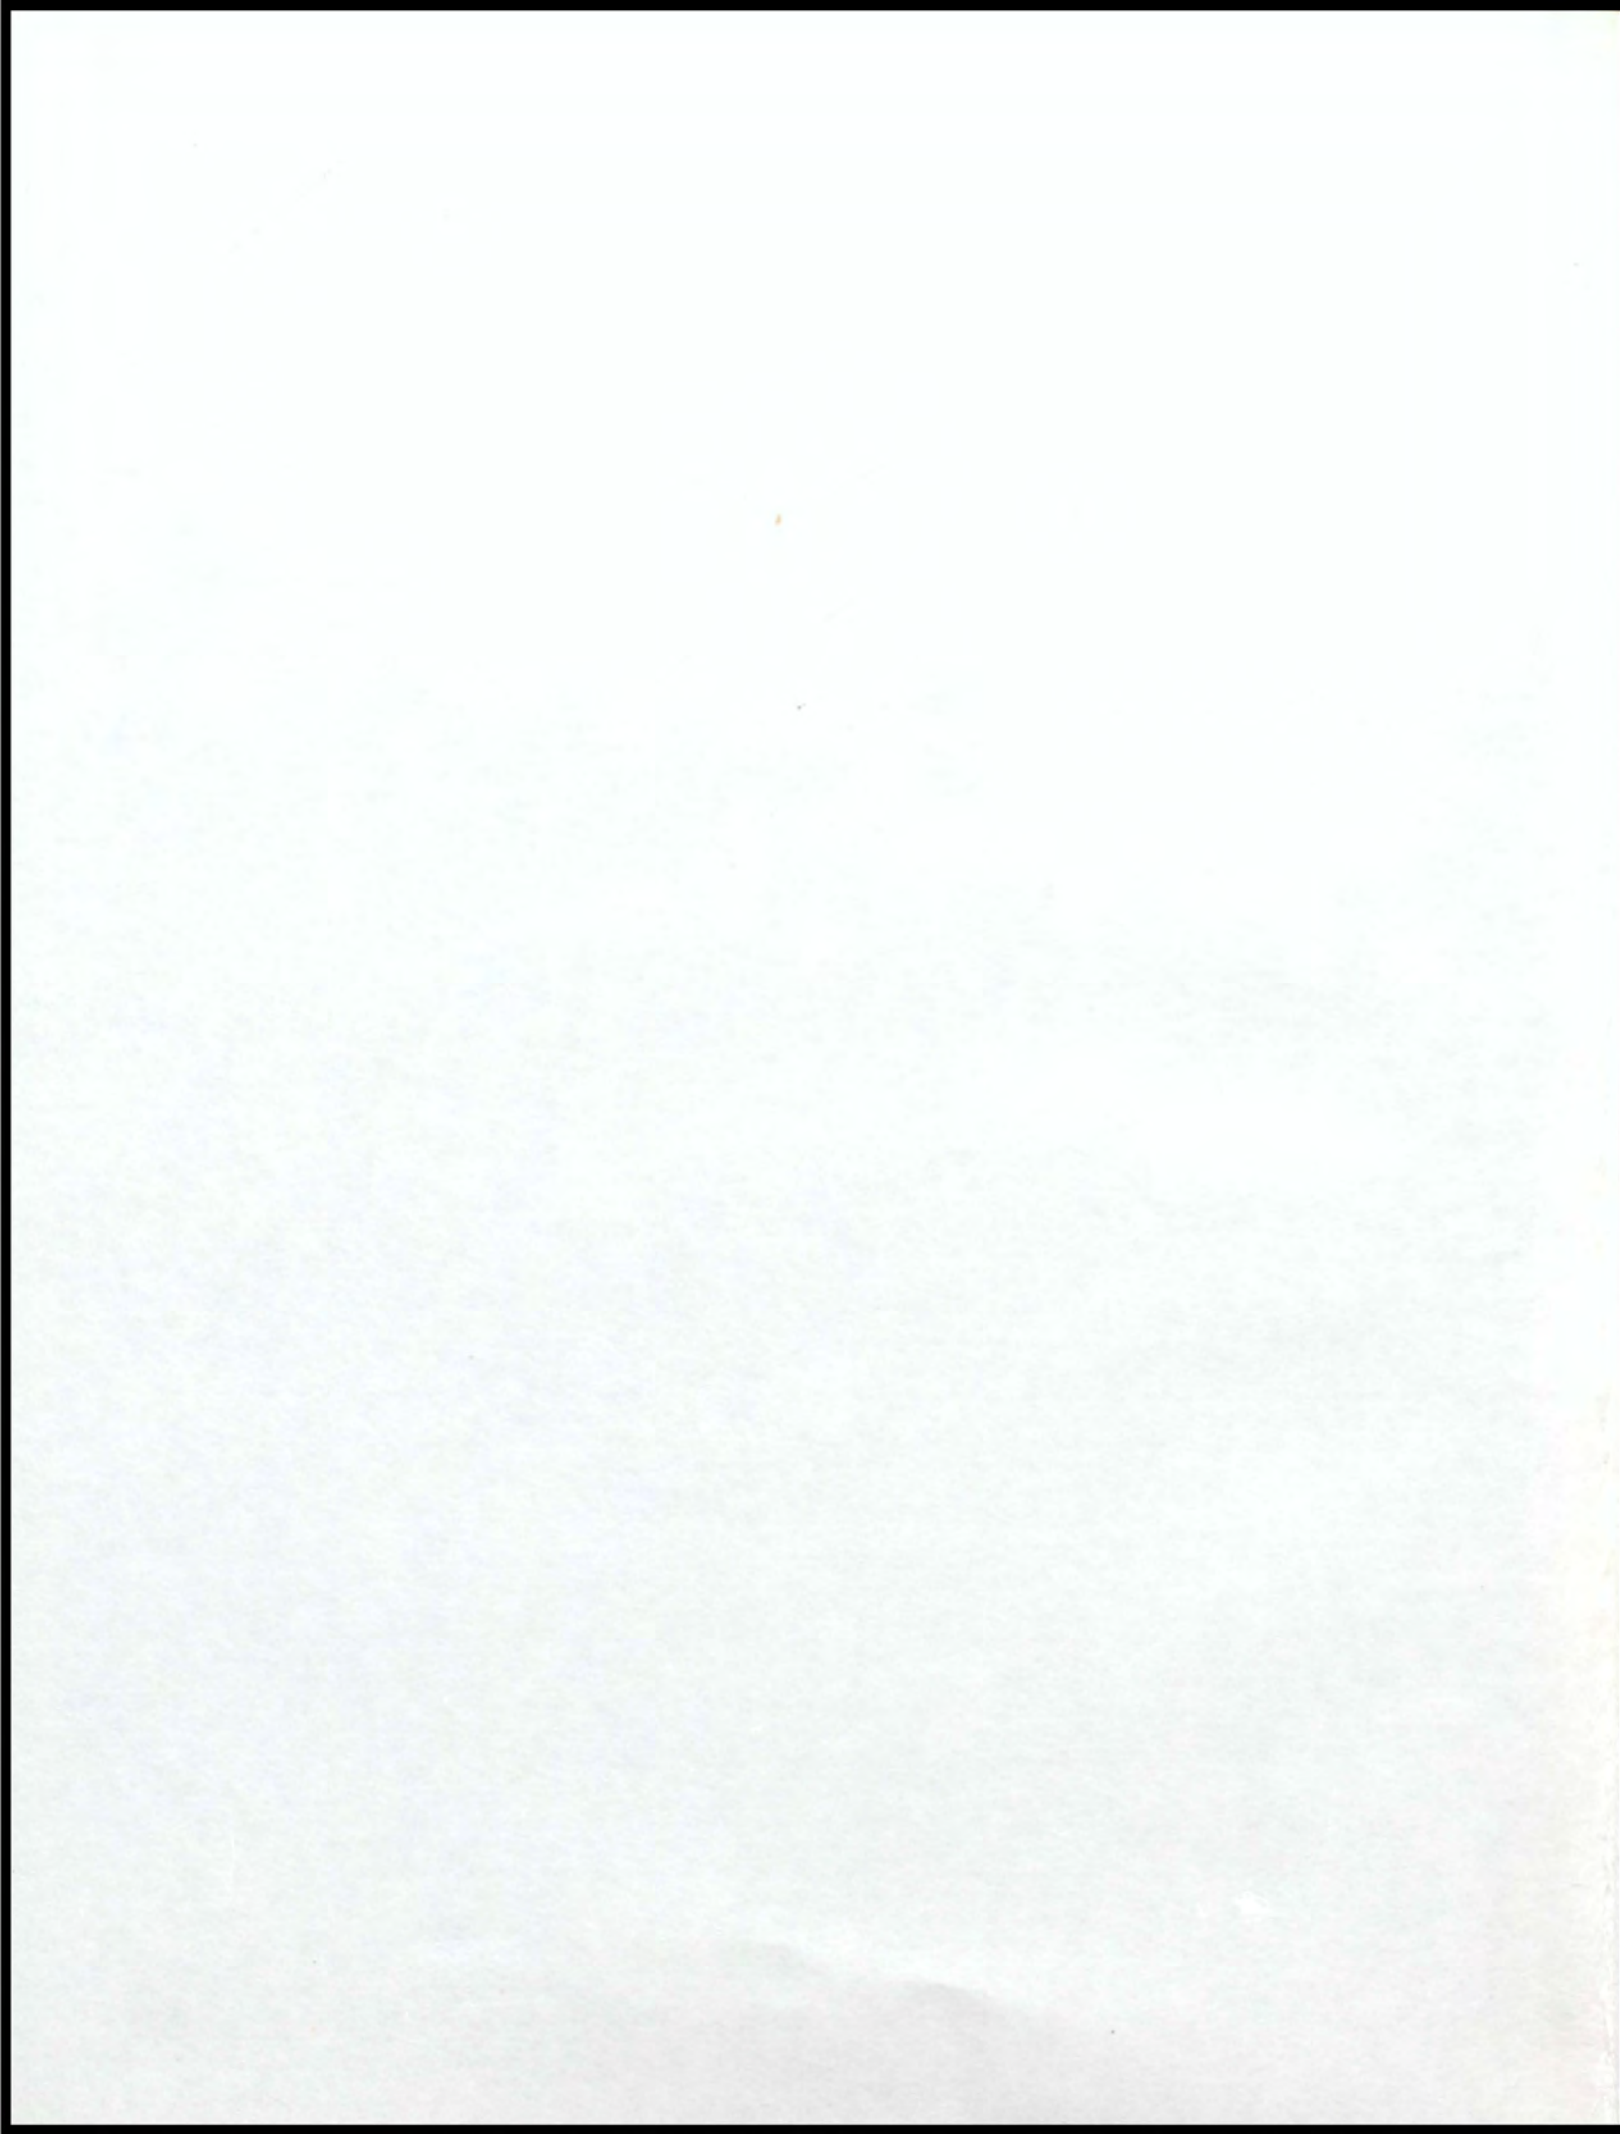

Debbie Dunham- I know that you never got your recognition last year, but thank you for all of the pictures that you have given generously to the yearbook! You have no idea how much of a relief it was to know that you too would be at Clinton Prairie's events taking pictures that were of amazing quality for us to use. I am forever grateful and am sure that I will be seeing you around!

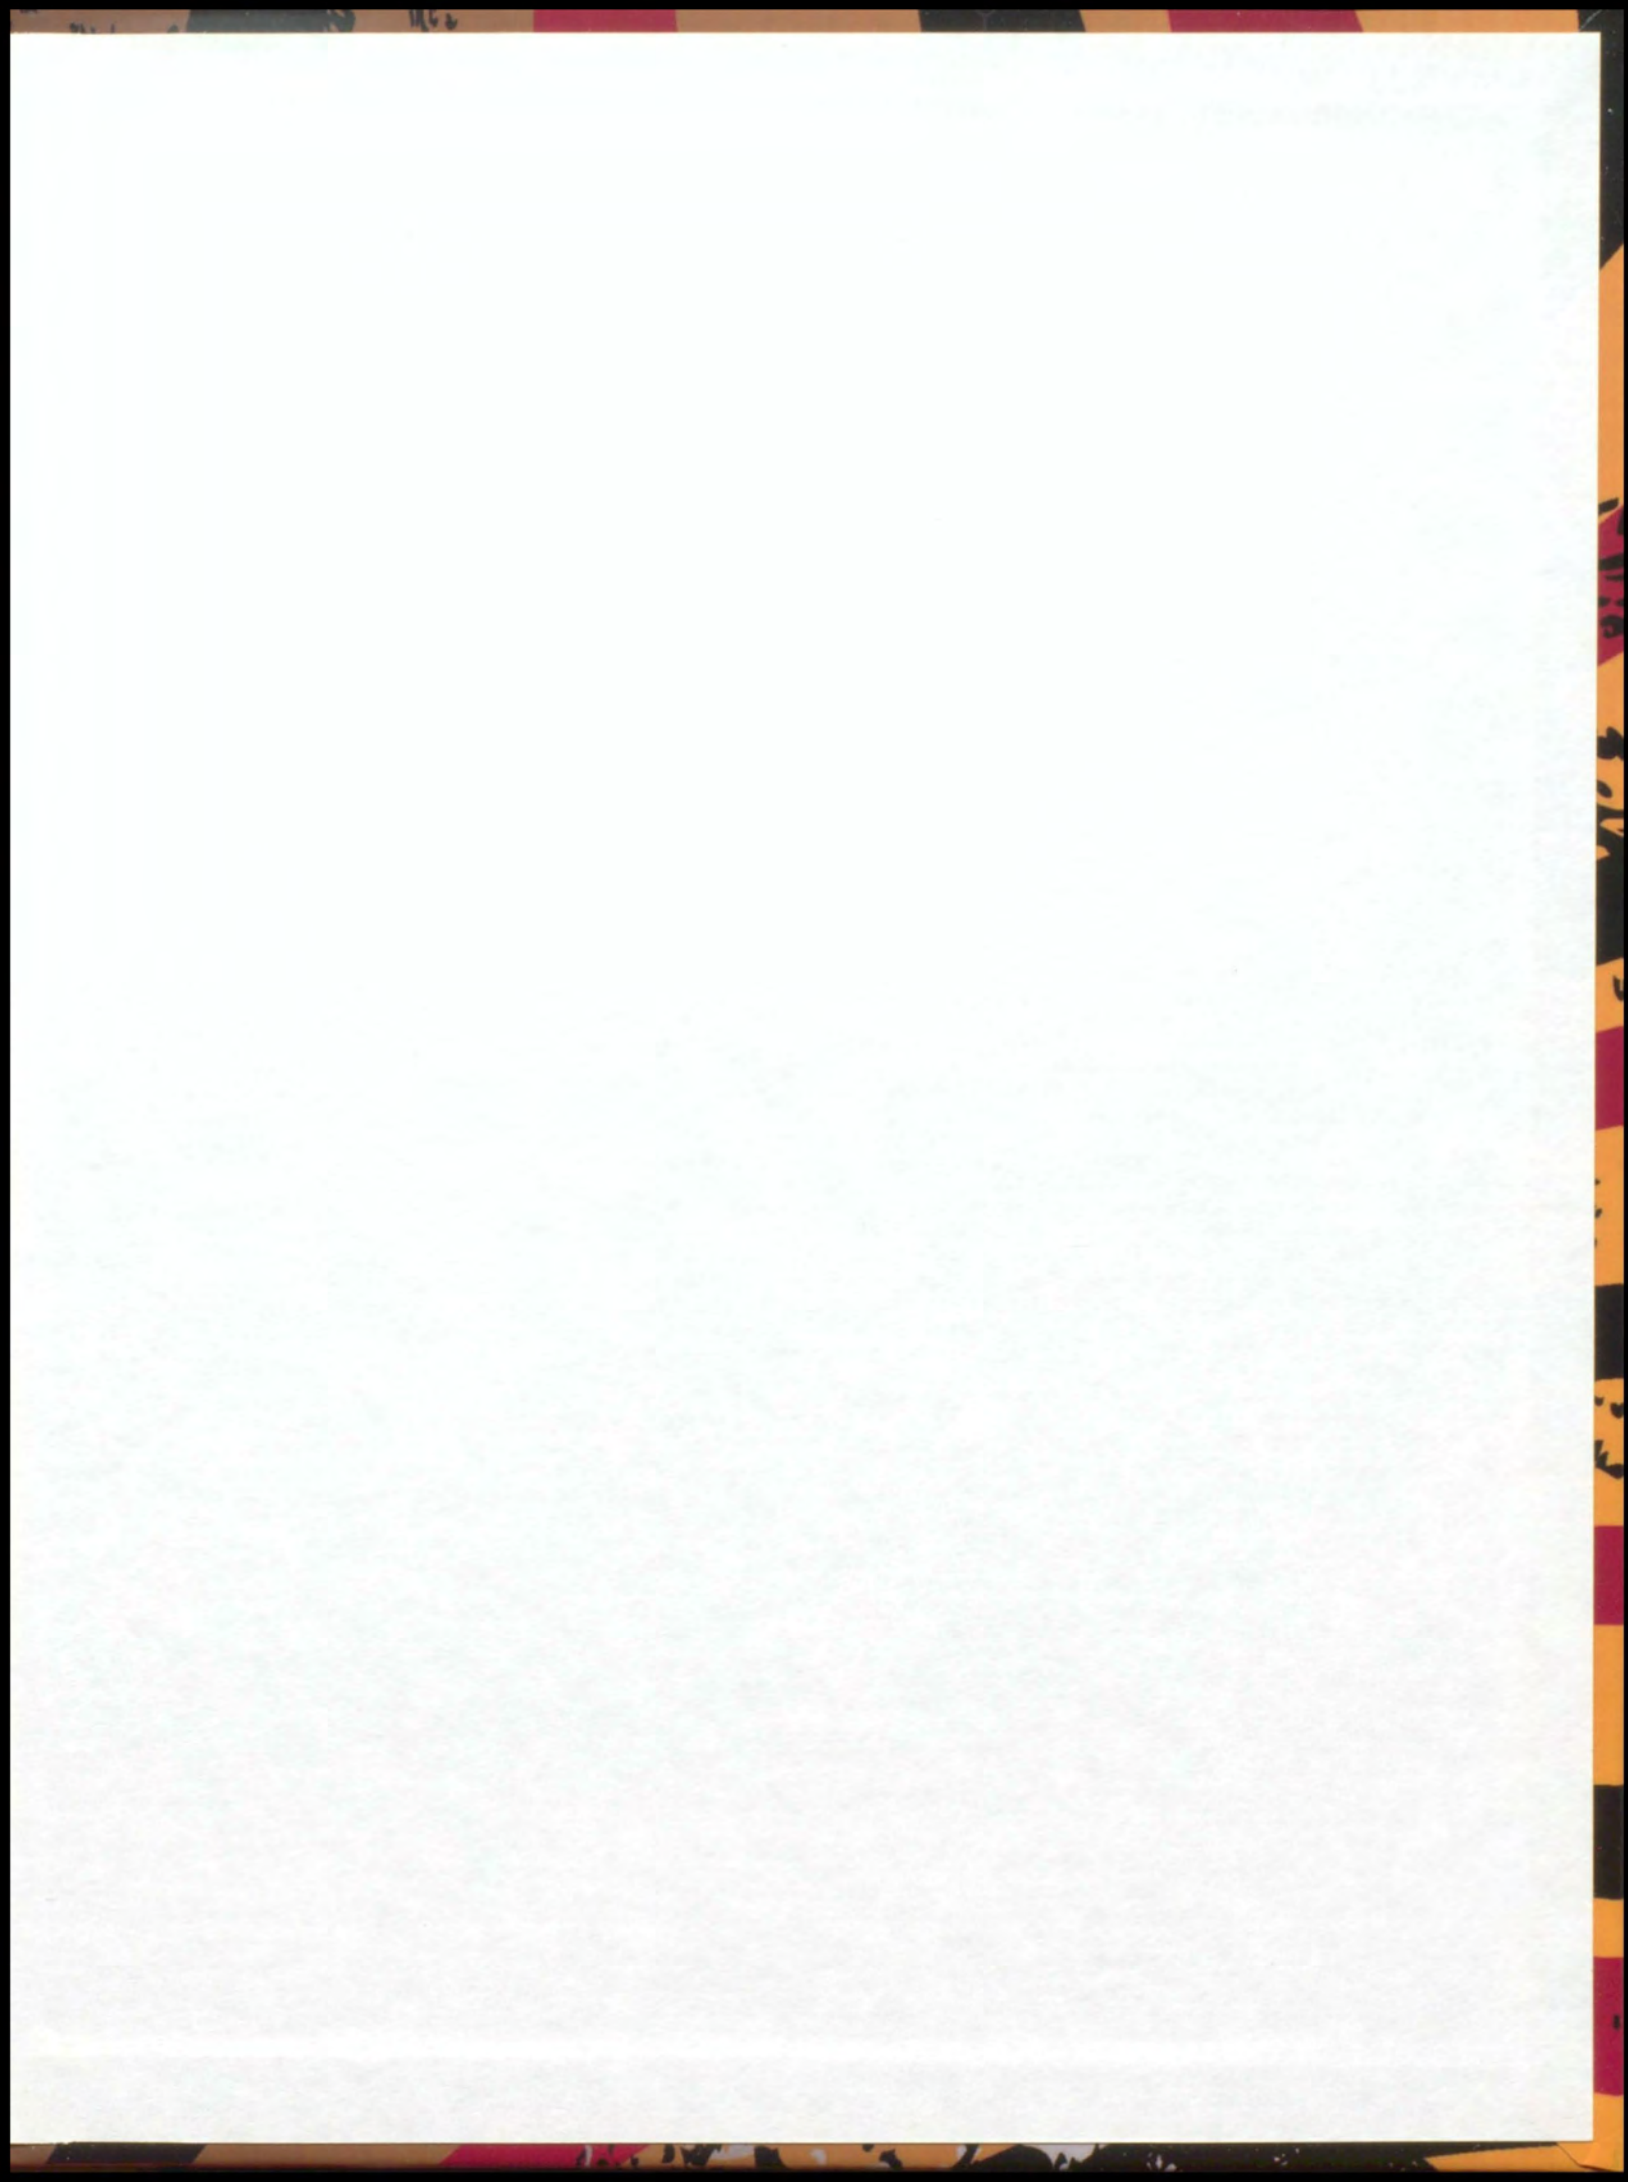

And last but not least, Clinton Prairie. Thank you for all of the knowledge, laughs, and memories that I will always hold dear. I along with everyone else will be forever changed by this school, community, and the morals that it withholds.

Sincerely,

Jillian Elizabeth Ellison
