Public Hearing, Battle Ground Civil Town 2023 Budget

Attending: Council President James Miller, Clerk Treasurer Georgia Jones

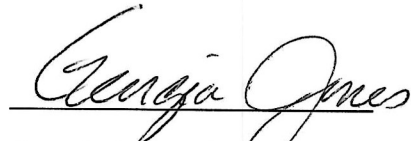

Guests attending virtually: Joe Kline, Bill Jones

James Miller called to order at 6:10 p.m. and opened the public hearing to receive comments on the Battle Ground Civil Town 2023 Budget.

Clerk-Treasurer Georgia Jones explained the 2023 budget revenue and appropriations, and commented that the new budget total is lower than the 2022 budget. The current budget uses operating balance in many funds, anticipating major expenses with the Hawks Nest lift replacement and Tomahawk Lane reconstruction projects. The 2023 budget is set at levels to use only anticipated 2023 revenue, based on state and county projections for each of the advertised funds.

The budgeted amounts that are not expended in 2022 could be added to the future budget using the "additional appropriations" process next year.

After all comments were received, the hearing was closed. No other business was transacted.
